5-STORY LEAP KILLS JUROR

ATSON BARES HURCH THREAT Y SHUMAKER

ays Dry Demanded He "Fix" Court.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.] testified today that he was openly threatened with the united political opposition of the Indiana state Anti-Saloon league and the Methodist Episcopal church unless the Indiana Supreme court acquitted Dr. E. S. Shumaker, state Anti-Saloon league superintendent, of contempt.

The senator's testimony was taken by deposition for submission to the Indiana Supreme court next Monday when Shumaker's case is to be reopened on motion of Attorney General Gilliom. Shumaker was originally cited by the Supreme court for contempt when he publicly denounced its decisions. He was subsequently sentenced to pay a $500 fine and to serve 60 days at the state penal farm.

Wrote to Watson.

Last September, it was revealed, while his case was pending, Shumaker wrote a letter to Senator Watson seeking to have the latter use his influence to secure not only a quick disposition of the proceedings in the Supreme court, but also a resolution by the Republican state committee condemning Gilliom for bringing the contempt proceedings. This was made the basis of a plea by Gilliom to increase Shumaker's sentence, which plea is now pending.

Today, in the presence of Attorney General Gilliom, representing the state, and James Bingham of Indianapolis and Edward B. Dunford, assistant general counsel for the national Anti-Saloon league, representing Shumaker, Senator Watson declared that before writing the letter mentioned, the dry league official telephoned him at the home of Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, near Culver, Ind.

Refused to Discuss Demand.

Shumaker's first request was for the resolution condemning Attorney General Gilliom. Senator Watson asserted he told Shumaker that the committee would not consider such an action and refused to discuss the matter further.

"Dr. Shumaker said the Indiana Supreme court was in recess," continued the senator, "and he said he thought I ought to get the court called back to decide his case.

"I replied that I had not talked to any members of the court, and added that I never in my life had talked to any court about a pending case, never would, and, of course, would not do such a thing in his case.

Defied Shumaker Threats.

"Dr. Shumaker said that the Anti-Saloon league and the Methodist church would hold me responsible for what was done. I did not like that threat and resented it. I think I said I would take my chances with the two organizations."

The senator declared that Shumaker's exact demand was: "You ought to have this court brought back together and not let it drag out my case until after election, and, of course, when they come together I want this decided in my behalf."

"I heard Senator Watson say over the wire: 'In the first place, I suppose you are satisfied with the postponement of your case,'" Mr. Wilson testified. "Then Watson paused while there was apparently conversation from the other end of the line. Then I heard Watson say he had no power to call the state committee and that he wouldn't do it for such a purpose if he had. Then, after a pause, I heard Watson say he never had attempted to influence a court in his life and wouldn't begin now.

"Pretty soon I heard Watson shout over the wire: 'Do you mean to say that you would use the power of the Methodist church and the Anti-Saloon league?' Then, after a pause, I heard him say: 'Then they can do their [illegible].' Maybe he said 'damndest,' but I am giving him the benefit of the doubt."

Shumaker Silent on Threats.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Senator James E. Watson never attempted to influence the Indiana Supreme court in its action against him for indirect contempt of court, Dr. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, said here today.

Dr. Shumaker refused, however, to affirm or deny the truth of Senator Watson's allegation that Shumaker made a threat that the "Anti-Saloon league and Methodist church would hold you responsible if this thing is done."

FALLS TO DEATH DURING DEBATE ON RAPE CASE

Find Body in Street; Mistrial Ordered.

William A. Norberg, 2977 North Ridgeway avenue, ended the debate of a jury last night in Judge Emanuel Eller's court when he either fell or jumped five stories to his death at the Criminal court building. His body was found in Dearborn street, in front of the jail building, while his fellow jurors were searching for him.

The jury was debating the fate of Rolland H. Gaskell, 1007 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, a former sergeant of the highway police department, who was accused of attacking a 19 year old girl. They were just about to reach a verdict compromising on a fifteen year sentence when the strange tragedy ended the trial.

Cause Is a Mystery.

Some of the jurors were inclined to believe that Norberg intentionally ended his life because of physical ailments and financial troubles. Others thought he fell from a window while gasping for air. He had been a sufferer from heart disease.

Judge Eller after ascertaining the facts called the jury into the room and declared a mistrial over the objection of the defense attorney, Joseph B. Lynch, who said his client already had been in jeopardy. This is the first time in the history of the criminal courts here that a trial has ended by the death of a juror during the deliberations.

The trial of Gaskell was started Monday and because of the recent prevalence of crimes against women and the fact that Assistant State's Attorneys Charles Dougherty and C. Wayland Brooks were asking for the maximum penalty of life imprisonment, the jury had been locked up at the Sherman hotel during the course of the trial.

Finally Agree on Guilt.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the jury retired to deliberate on the verdict. At the outset eight of the jurors were for conviction of Gaskell and four of them for acquittal. After nine ballots were taken it was agreed that Gaskell was guilty.

A majority of the jurors wanted a heavy penalty, but the minority argued for terms of from 3 to 10 years' imprisonment. After five more ballots only two jurors were holding out against a 20 year penalty. One of these was Norberg.

At this point Norberg spoke up and said that he would agree to a 15 year penalty; the compromise suggested, if the other juror could be won over. Then, unnoticed, he entered an adjoining lavatory.

Tragedy Is Discovered.

"Let us take another ballot and see if we have agreed," suggested Earl F. Gore, 6969 Overhill avenue, the foreman. The ballots were passed out and returned to the foreman, who found only 11 slips. A search followed.

In the meantime there was intense excitement in front of the jail building. Warden Edward J. Fogarty, returning from his evening meal, narrowly missed being struck by Norberg's falling body. He at first thought it was one of his prisoners.

The authorities after looking over the scene of the tragedy and the location where the body fell were puzzled. The jury room is thirty feet to the rear from the front of the building facing on Dearborn street, and the body fell 10 feet out into the street. The slanting tile roof of the jail building backs against the courthouse on this floor and a narrow ledge runs along the wall. Some thought that Norberg must have walked part way on either the roof or ledge before jumping or falling to cause his body to land in the street rather than the areaway between the jail and court buildings.

Downcast Over Child's Death.

"We had no domestic troubles of any kind," said the widow when apprised of the affair. "My husband was a printer, but was out of work for the past two weeks. He had been called back on Monday, but because he was on the jury I could not notify him. He was downcast because of the death of our daughter, Margaret, 11 years old, about nine months ago."

Charles Norberg, a brother, however, said that he would employ an attorney and demand an investigation of events in the jury room before the tragedy. He said that his brother had no financial difficulties and lived happily with his family.

The courtroom was thrown into an uproar when news of the affair was brought in by the bailiffs. The complaining witness, who had come from her home in the east to prosecute the case, and the wife of the defendant, fainted.

EXPLOSION HURLS FACTORY WALL ON FIREMEN; 2 HURT

An explosion early last evening in the plant of the Western Plumbing Supply company, 3000 Fillmore street, ripped the roof from the structure, hurled the front wall on the members of two fire companies, destroyed a fire engine and seriously injured two firemen.

Engine companies 107 and 66 were called to the scene when a blaze was discovered in the rear of the building, which formerly was a small church. When a 500 gallon gasoline tank blew up débris hurtled down on the engine of company 107. Pipeman Hecke Bloodgood suffered two broken legs and Lieut. David Hackett internal injuries.

One man was killed and six others were seriously injured by an explosion late Wednesday in the plant of Hubbard & Co., 5401 West Roosevelt road, Cicero. Physicians at the Austin hospital said five of the others probably would be permanently blinded by the accident.

TEN INJURED AS SURFACE CAR IS DERAILED IN LOOP

One woman was seriously injured and nine other persons were badly shaken up and bruised yesterday afternoon when a north bound State street car left the tracks in crossing Lake street and crashed into an L pillar during the evening rush hour.

The occupants of the crowded car were thrown into confusion, the passengers crowding toward the exits amid the screams of frightened women. Three traffic policemen, James Fitzpatrick, Michael Reynolds, and Albert Zahlova, hurried to the car and assisted in removing the injured.

Mary Sledge, colored, 26, of 25 East 50th street, was the most seriously injured. Others hurt are Mrs. Ruth Romaine, 21, of 56 East Walton place; Miss Anna Egan, 35, of 1121 Orleans street; Frank Ferrera, 25, of 1409 West Ohio street, and Philip Arbiter, 19, of 1243 North California avenue.

PASSENGER SLAIN AS HE STEPS OFF SURFACE LINE CAR

A man about 40 years old, identified by a card in his pocket as Rafael Garcia of 9033 Mackinaw avenue, was shot and killed by an unidentified assailant early today as he left a surface car at 91st street and Buffalo avenue.

Several passengers were standing on the car platform and were only a few feet away as Garcia fell with a bullet wound in the head. All said they had not seen the killer.

Wallace Smith, conductor, told the police that a man who wore no coat ran up to the crowd about the dead man and shouted that there had been a mistake. Whether the bullet was intended for another or whether Garcia was killed as a result of a quarrel he had had with a fellow passenger a little earlier was undetermined.

Doctors' Union Promoted by Ex-Labor Boss

Not even the family doctor is immune from being "organized," it appeared yesterday, when the existence of the "Chicago Physicians' and Surgeon's Economic league" was brought into public notice.

At the helm of the new brotherhood, which the city's doctors are being urged to join at $5 a head and $2 monthly dues, was found one I. Braverman, business manager.

Izzy Braverman—for it turned out to be Izzy—was indicted four years ago for the murder of Police Lieutenant Terrence Lyons during a labor war, but the prosecution was later dropped. Braverman was then president of the Fixture Hangers' union. Indicted with Braverman were Frenchy Mader, Con Shea, Big Tim Murphy, and Dapper Dan McCarthy, labor racketeers, all of whom were tried and acquitted.

Will Collect Debts.

"One of the main objects of the league," states the circular mailed to all physicians in Chicago, "is to compel nonpaying patients to pay their doctor bills and with the expectation of furnishing the members, from time to time, with the names and addresses of these nonpaying patients."

It has been sort of an unwritten law among doctors that they cannot sue in the courts for an unpaid fee, it was pointed out by physicians. The league has already furnished Attorney Robert Springuth with a number of cases of unpaid doctor bills.

Braverman said the only cost in collecting the bills would be a 25 per cent fee given to the lawyers. Physicians last night asserted that many doctors have piled up thousands of dollars of unpaid bills which would be easily collectible by high pressure methods heretofore considered a bit unethical. When Braverman was asked what he got out of it all, his reply was that he didn't get a penny, but later he might get a salary.

Medical Society May Act.

Investigation of the league has been undertaken by the Chicago Medical society. Dr. James H. Hutton, secretary of the Medical society, said the matter would be brought before the council on Dec. 13, at which time action would be recommended. It was reported, however, that the journal of the society, to be issued next week, contains an article signed by officers of the society advising its members not to join the league.

Rumors that threats were made by organizers seeking to induce physicians to join the league were emphatically denied by Braverman.

"This is not a labor union," said Braverman yesterday. "It's a club of doctors, formed to end various nuisances which have bothered the profession for years.

"We don't ask anybody to join that doesn't want to, and if any doctor or anybody else says we have used threats against them they are lying.

"The league is not a racket. If State's Attorney Crowe in his drive on racketeers has any suspicion that there is something wrong with us we'll be glad to have him investigate us."

Dr. M. J. Sullivan, 4810 West Jackson boulevard, is president of the new league and Dr. George M. Redman is secretary. Dr. Sullivan said yesterday that it was a legitimate society, with a clearly fixed purpose, to fulfill a recognized need.

"I recently explained our organization at a session of the council of the Chicago Medical society," said Dr. Sullivan.

TWO ROBBERS TAKEN AFTER HOLDUP SERIES

Two men believed to have been responsible for scores of holdups on the far south side in the last two months were arrested early this morning by Sergt. William Sweeney and his squad from the detective bureau after they had perpetrated three robberies in quick succession. The prisoners, both armed, are James Conlon of 2815 West 51st street, said to be a special policeman for Armour & Co., and James Murphy of 5534 Elizabeth street.

The first holdup attributed to them last night was of John Satiras of 6211 Whipple street, and Mrs. William C. Morrey, of the same address. They took $80 and his automobile from Satiras. They next held up Miss Catherine Nolan and her escort, John Tenny, in front of the former's home at 6123 Honore street, taking $11 from Tenny and Miss Nolan's fur coat valued at $350.

Alexander Benst, Miss Betty Roe of 6808 St. Lawrence avenue, and Robert Myran of 7801 Cornell avenue, were the next victims. They were stopped in front of 859 West 86th street. The robbers took Benst's car and $60, a $200 diamond ring from Miss Roe and $40 from Myran. They were in Benst's car when arrested.

Heavy Snow Plunges City Into Winter

Chicago last night joined the ranks of the midwest's snowbound cities. A heavy pall of snow, driven by a brisk northwest wind, began to fall early in the evening and continued steadily into the early morning hours. The total depth downtown reached several inches in places.

One death was attributed directly to the storm. Almost buried under the snow, the body of a man believed to be George Wallace, 55 years old, was found in the rear of 611 West Madison street early today.

Today's weather bureau prediction was for clouded skies and snow flurries, with the temperature remaining somewhere near yesterday's below freezing mark. From the Rocky mountains eastward below normal mercury readings were reported last night and no change to warmer here is expected for several days.

Points in North Dakota had temperatures below zero. In the Wisconsin and Michigan woods hunters who had been snowbound for twenty-four to forty-eight hours began arriving in the towns. Many had stories of hardship, but no loss of life was reported.

The storm battered Canadian tug, Butterfield, arrived at Ashland, Wis., with all hands safe. The vessel had been missing for three days and it was feared she had met with disaster.

TORNADO SWEEPS CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—A tornado followed by drenching rains swept over Washington and surrounding cities today, causing one death, the injury of 200 or more persons and property damage that will reach several million dollars.

The twister was first observed at Alexandria, Va., eight miles away. Sweeping over the eastern part of Washington it continued to Hyattsville, Md., where its destructive force ceased.

At Alexandria, where seventy-five buildings were destroyed or damaged, the number of injured was placed at 125. In one factory a welding machine weighing a ton was lifted by the tornado and carried half a block. Freight cars were lifted from the tracks and the front of the historic Hotel Jackson was blown away.

100 Buildings Unroofed.

In Washington more than twenty persons were taken to hospitals for treatment, while numerous others were under the care of physicians at their homes. More than 100 buildings were unroofed in the capital. The wind tore the roof from a portable school, but all the children escaped unhurt.

KIN AND FRIENDS HUNT JUDGE'S SON, MISSING 3 WEEKS

Jonas Hutchinson, a son of the late Judge Jonas Hutchinson of the Superior court, has been mysteriously missing since Oct. 25. Relatives and members of the Dartmouth Alumni association of Chicago, who have been searching for him for three weeks, yesterday appealed to the police for assistance.

Mr. Hutchinson is 45 years old and was graduated from Dartmouth in 1906. The alumni held a special meeting to inaugurate the search, according to his sister, Mrs. Helen Hutchinson Green, of 854 Chalmers place.

A man of steady, methodical habits, Mr. Hutchinson lived at the Hyde Park hotel, friends said. On the day of his disappearance he returned from a visit to Aledo, Ill. That evening he went to the Spencer Arms hotel, 1950 East 71st street, where he formerly had lived, to arrange to move back there. Since then there has been no trace of him.

Bomb Routs Hotel Guests and Wrecks Cigar Store

The cigar store of Harry Block, 1539 North California avenue, was wrecked early today by a bomb which tore out the front part of the store and shattered the cigar case, causing damages of $1,500. Scores of guests of the Eagle Arms hotel, occupying the three floors above, were shaken in their beds. Block told the police he had no enemies and had received no threats. Police said there formerly was gambling in the store.

Frank Lake Is Arrested After Automobile Chase

Frank Lake, former beer baron, but now a country gentleman with a string of race horses, refused to halt his automobile yesterday at the command of a detective bureau squad headed by Sergt. William Cox. The detectives pursued him east in Jackson boulevard from Ashland avenue to Halsted street, where he was forced to the curb and arrested. According to the police, Lake had a pistol on the seat beside him.

PLEDGES FLOOD CONTROL AND BIGGER NAVY

"We Want Coolidge"

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—The thunderous applause which greeted former Gov. William C. Sproul's declaration to President Coolidge here tonight that "We are ready to follow you in whatever course you choose to take" was indicative of Pennsylvania's attitude toward 1928, in the opinion of Mr. Sproul.

Asked what significance might be seen in the Union leaguers' enthusiasm over that particular utterance, Mr. Sproul replied:

"Of course Pennsylvania wants President Coolidge, if he will accept the nomination again. It all depends upon his choice."

He declared that the state's delegation would, in all likelihood, go uninstructed to the Republican national convention next year.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Scanning the country's past and looking into the future, President Coolidge in an address tonight before the Union league declared that America was entering upon a new era of prosperity, expansion of its resources, the furthering of international peace and closer accord between the United States and the rest of the world.

The President in noting the outstanding undertakings facing the country said that flood control must be completed, the waterways system enlarged and irrigation and power projects pushed.

Promises More Cruisers.

Apparently defining his policy as against government expansion of the merchant marine, the President said: "On the sea we shall round out our navy with more submarines and more cruisers, and private ownership should provide it with an auxiliary merchant marine of fast cargo boats."

In the new era of internal development facing the United States in addition to flood control the President suggested a waterway system for the Mississippi valley with one arm reaching to the gulf and another to the Atlantic, probably through the St. Lawrence river.

The air forces of the United States are being built up by the encouragement of commercial aviation, air contacts with South America are becoming more intimate through aviation, and the United States, he said, should assist in opening up air lines in these countries. The proposed Panama highway joining North and South America also was favored.

3,000 Cheer His Address.

The President was given the greatest ovation the league has shown to a public man in years. More than 3,000 members heard him speak and cheered the laudatory speech of Gov. William C. Sproul, who presented Mr. Coolidge with a gold medal.

In presenting him with the medal of honor Mr. Sproul brought the audience to its feet when he said:

"I wanted you to see what these worth while people think of you, how they trust you, how they approve of you and your work, how they ratify your judgment and believe in things you believe, how they respect your prudence, admire your courage, and how they stand by you as a national leader in whatever course you may choose to outline for your future course."

Want Him to Run Again!

As Mr. Sproul continued to laud his administration the crowd tumultuously cheered, and this conservative Republican club attested its confidence in President Coolidge, and in the opinion of some showed that it desired him to be the Republican nominee next year.

The country, said Mr. Coolidge in his set speech, has reached the zenith of its prosperity, the end of its task of post-war reconstruction is in sight and the time when internal improvements may be considered is at hand.

"Flood control must be completed," he continued. "A waterway system for the Mississippi valley and its tributaries, with one arm reaching to the gulf and another to the Atlantic, probably through the St. Lawrence, is only a question of time. The Colorado river project is pressing, the Columbia basin not far distant."

Debt Menace to Credit.

The ability to do these things, Mr. Coolidge said, is the result of "past insistence on economy in national expenditures," which simultaneously has made possible three reductions of taxes. The principal weakness existing, in his opinion, is the remaining $18,000,000,000 of the national debt, which he described as a menace to the national credit.

Discussing the nation's great industrial growth, the President warned against the dangers of an aristocracy of wealth and consequent decay.

"The test which now confronts the nation is prosperity," he declared. "There is nothing more likely to reveal the soul of a people."

It is true, he said, that there is in America a blatant fringe of extravagance and waste and another undesirable class who seek to live without work, but that these are conspicuous mainly by contrast.

Opposes Tariff Reduction.

Opposing a lower tariff, Mr. Coolidge declared that "any material reduction of our general tariff rates ultimately would result in a drastic deflation of agricultural and industrial values, in the rate of wages and in the standards of living."

Mr. Coolidge held that two of the basic reasons for the nation's development have been opposition to the principle of government ownership and maintenance of a protective tariff.

"Under our present system," the President said, "our foreign commerce has reached the highest peace time record and our national income has steadily increased to the enormous proportions of $90,000,000,000 for the last calendar year. This represents a volume of production and trade far in excess of that which any other country ever reached.

"If economic freedom vanishes, political freedom becomes nothing but a shadow. It has, therefore, been our wish that the people of the country should own and conduct all gainful occupations not directly connected with government service. When the government once enters a business it must occupy the field alone. No one can compete with it. The result is a paralyzing monopoly.

"We have demonstrated that we were able to meet adversity and overcome it. The test which now confronts the nation is prosperity. There is nothing more likely to reveal the soul of a people. History is littered with stories of nations destroyed by their own wealth. A successful people are always a mark for the vicious and the criminal. But these are conspicuous mainly by contrast.

"The great mass of our people, whatever their possessions, are conscientious and industrious, seeking to serve humanity. They know that the doctrine of ease is the doctrine of surrender and decay. To the effort which built this country they are giving increased effort to maintain it.

Policy of Aloofness.

The President reiterated the administration's policy of aloofness from foreign entanglements, but stressed its decision to exert moral influence on the side of liberty, fair elections, and honest constitutional government. This was an interpretation not only of the government's position relative to the league of nations but of its Latin-American policy and its attitude toward Nicaragua and Mexico.

"Where our obligations to our citizens under international law have required it we have extended our help to those who were attempting to secure these results," he said.

"But we have refrained from meddlesome interference because we recognize not only the right, but the necessity, for each people to work out their own destiny."

Opportunity to Earn Money.

The United States, he said, afforded an opportunity for the making of money which has been accumulated, not to produce an aristocracy of wealth, but for the general progress of humanity. With its economic progress, the country has developed its religious and educational side and along with human advancement in America has gone the development of character.

In closing, he asserted that the evil in society always is proclaimed and not enough of the good commended, saying "society is made up of contrasts and variables. The variables attract us by their contrasts and are always appearing in the headlines. But the contrasts always predominate, always push ahead in the march of progress. We hear enough criticism, we hear enough of the evil, but we must not forget commendation.

Calls Country Secure.

"This is our government. This is our society. This is our country. It is solid, sound, secure. It is for us to put forth sufficient efforts to keep it sound."

The President and his party arrived on a special train reaching Broad street station at 6 p. m. For the first time Mrs. Coolidge did not accompany the President, due to the quickness of the trip. The President's special returned to Washington tonight, leaving here at 9 p. m.

Resources of National Banks Increase Billion and a Half

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Total resources of national banks have reached their highest level in history, according to report of Controller of the Currency McIntosh based on the bank call of Oct. 10. The 7,804 banks reported on that date resources amounting to $27,213,824,000 which exceeded by $631,881,000 the total on June 30, the date of the previous call. The amount was $1,529,975,000 greater than on Dec. 31, 1926.

Loans and discounts, including rediscounts, of the banks on Oct. 10, 1927,, amounted to $14,366,926,000, and showed an increase since June of $411,230,000 and an increase since December last of $793,651,000. Investments in United States government securities of $2,675,542,000 were increased since June and December $79,361,000 and $392,971,000, respectively. Other miscellaneous bonds and securities totaling $3,941,438,000, exceeded the June figures by $144,898,000, and were $433,617,000 more than reported in December, 1926.

Paid in capital stock of $1,499,384,000 was $25,211,000 in excess of the amount in June, and exceeded the capital in December by $86,661,000. Surplus and undivided profits aggregated $1,844,511,000, and were $79,145,000 more than in June, and $160,315,000 more than in December.

Deposit liabilities were $22,287,238,000, exceeding by $512,115,000 the amount reported in June, and showing an increase of $1,422,247,000 since December. In the classification of deposits are included balances due correspondent banks and bankers of $3,516,259,000, which showed an increase of $120,432,000 since June and an increase since December of $92,718,000; demand deposits, including the United States deposits, totaling $11,179,935,000, exceeding the amount in June by $116,363,000, and showing an increase since last December of $273,027,000, and time deposits, including postal savings, amounting to $7,590,944,000, which showed increases since June and December of $275,320,000 and $1,057,502,000, respectively. Total individual deposits (time and demand) were $18,515 255,000 on Oct. 10, 1927, and United States deposits on the same date aggregated $256,624,000.

ILLION STARVE CHINA AS WAR RAVAGES NATION

U.S. Sends Gunboat After Attack on Mission.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, China, Nov. 17.—The international famine relief commission reports that 9,000,000 persons are starving in fifty-six prefectures of China. Of these, 8,000,000 are in Shantung province and 1,000,000 more are in ten prefectures of Chihli province, in which Peking is situated. Half of Shantung is affected. There are no reports from Honan province, where communication has been cut off by the warfare, but all the seed grain was seized by the militarists in the spring, and the suffering was great in the summer, so it is believed many are starving there as well.

Hostilities continue on several fronts. The northerners have repelled a thrust from Pukow. The nationalists [southern forces] have lost the major part of two armies in Anhwei province. There is heavy fighting in western Honan province, but several communications make it difficult to determine the result.

The newly arrived troops in Hankow, under Gen. Cheng-chien, who led the Nanking looting, are forcing on the people nationalist bank notes, which are virtually worthless. The distress there is increasing.

Americans Send Warships.

SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Heavy fighting is reported along the Tientsin-Pukow railway north of gkwang.

The gravity of the situation in China's war areas has compelled both American and British naval authorities to take action.

The Americans have dispatched the gunboat Asheville to Yuengkong, southwest of Canton, where serious anti-foreign demonstrations have been reported, especially against Americans. Consular dispatches from Canton included a dispatch from three Americans at Yuengkong who said disturbances occurred on Tuesday.

Break Into U. S. Mission.

Parading workingmen and students broke into the American Catholic mission premises. The Chinese military forces "saved the situation." They arrested several leaders. The unions then demanded the release of the leaders. It was said further trouble was threatened. Nine Americans, including two women, are said to be in the district.

The British today sent the cruiser Vindictive up the Yangtze river with [illegible]0 troops destined for Hankow. As there is no British concession at Hankow the move is somewhat mysterious. No official explanation was offered. It is generally supposed that the move was simply precautionary. It is assumed that if the troops are landed they will be quartered in British property in a former concession for defensive and not aggressive purposes.

Nankingese Occupy Hankow.

Nankingese troops have occupied Hankow, but their advent seems likely to lead to disorder. Already they have opened prison doors, liberating 1,000 or more convicts. Strict martial law, however, is being enforced.

Foreign dispatches from Canton reveal renewed outbreaks in the internal warfare of radical laborites attempting to undermine the military leaders at present en route to Shanghai to attend the Kuomintang general conference there for party unification.

The city of Nanking virtually has been denuded of troops to fill gaps in the nationalist front, and the city is apprehensive over reports that northern troops soon may reappear at Pukow.

OFFER TO CHIANG

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17.—More than [illegible] members of the Kuomintang party held a reception in honor of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, former generalissimo of the Nationalist, or southern armies, and urged him to resume his command to complete the military campaign against Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Peking war lord. Gen. Chiang was noncommittal, but it is believed that he soon will resume his active political life, possibly as chairman of the Nationalist government military committee.

Wang Ching-wei, former chairman of the Kuomintang [Nationalist political party] central executive committee, accompanied by Gen. Li Chi-sum, Canton military leader, will arrive from Canton tomorrow for the fourth plenary session of the Kuomintang central executive committee, which, it is generally believed, will result in the unification of the factions and reorganization of the Nationalist government.

Serious clashes and street fighting developed in Canton last night between the forces of Gen. Li Chi-sum and Chang Fak-wei, resulting in an advantage for Chang Fak-wei, who is considered the leader of the radical faction and is a close adherent to Wang Ching-wei.

Burns Men Accused of Plot to Defame U. S. Oil Witness

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Definite evidence of highly organized efforts to intimidate William J. McMullin, the government's star witness in the Teapot Dome jury fixing scandal, has been obtained by District Attorney Peyton Gordon and will be submitted to the grand jury tomorrow, he announced today.

Information now in his hands, according to Mr. Gordon, indicates that the persecution of McMullin, not only through whispering campaigns set afoot in his Philadelphia home neighborhood, but in the public statements of W. Sherman Burns attacking McMullin's character, may warrant indictments for obstructing justice and intimidating a witness.

The law provides a penalty of six years in prison and a $5,000 fine for intimidation of witnesses.

Asked to Prepare False Affidavit.

McMullin is the Burns Detective agency operative—"Philadelphia investigator L-36"—who revealed to the grand jury last Saturday that he had been ordered to prepare a false affidavit charging Special Assistant Attorney General Harris R. Lamb with attempting to influence one of the jurors in the Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trial.

McMullin had hardly told his sensational story to the grand jury before a corps of his former fellow sleuths were set to work investigating his whole life and, according to Mr. Gordon, reports reflecting on his character and past reputation soon appeared. One, in the form of affidavit, was offered to newspaper men outside the grand jury room by W. Sherman Burns himself, who warned, however, that he refused to vouch for its truth, it is charged.

Since Charles G. Ruddy, who was nominally in charge of the Burns operatives employed by Sinclair interests to shadow Teapot jurors, returned to his post as manager of the Burns agency in Philadelphia a few days ago, the campaign against McMullin has been redoubled, and culminated today in the reported summary discharge of Mrs. McMullin from a $40 position in a Philadelphia restaurant.

McMullin complained to the district attorney that mysterious strangers had entered his home neighborhood, pretending to seek verification of alleged unsavory incidents in his past life, and stirring up a "whispering campaign" against him in the district.

Mr. Gordon declared that he was particularly interested in these alleged attacks on McMullin's reputation.

Gordon Paints a Contrast.

"This would seem to be another plain attempt to obstruct the due administration of justice and also an attempt to intimidate a government witness whose disclosures in the sleuthing matter should be applauded by all law abiding citizens," said Mr. Gordon.

The district attorney then drew a contrast between the indiscretions charged against McMullin and the postal record of Charles L. Veitsch, manager of the Baltimore branch of the Burns agency, who acted as Ruddy's immediate superior in the direction of the Teapot jury shadowers.

Postoffice department records placed in Mr. Gordon's hands today show that Veitsch was arrested by postal inspectors on Feb. 18, 1913, charged with the embezzlement of customs duties which he handled as a clerk in the registry division of the Baltimore postoffice. Veitsch, the record shows, confessed and on Feb. 19, 1913, was sentenced to serve six months in the Baltimore city jail.

Henry Mason Day of the Sinclair Exploration company, who was under $25,000 bonds as a co-conspirator with Harry F. Sinclair and Sheldon Clark of Chicago in the alleged jury tampering plot, made an unsuccessful effort today to have his bond reduced.

POSES AS PRINCE, BARES ORGIES OF GERMAN NOBILITY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Prince Wilhelm of Prussia, the former crown prince's eldest son, and Harry Domela, a miner, who resembles Prince Wilhelm, faced each other in a courtroom today. The prince demanded that his picture be removed from the cover of Herr Domela's book, which portrays his adventures while posing as the prince.

The court sustained the prince that he no longer is a public figure, but plain Herr Hohenzollern, and therefore is entitled to all the personal liberty of a plain citizen.

The court heard how Herr Domela got into a fight, but escaped because some one mistook him for Wilhelm. Acting on this tip, he went into monarchist circles for three months, living the "life of Reilly," and then exposing monarchist society. Barely disguising names, he told how the Heidelberg nobility engaged in the coarsest orgies.

How well do you know this wonderful city?

Do you look upon Chicago with eyes of affection and appreciation or do you see only piles of brick and stone in which men grub for money? Have you ever made a sincere effort to know Chicago's chief worth-while institutions? Some of them maintain standards not surpassed in all the world. October Street Car Rides Show Decrease from 1926

Rides over the Chicago surface lines showed another monthly decrease yesterday in the report of business for October, which was issued by the company last night. Total rides were 135,419,223, against 135,879,579 in the same month last year, a decline of 459,356.

GARY MAY GIVE UP SEGREGATION OF NEGRO STUDENTS

The city of Gary does not intend to go ahead with a plan that would result in the segregation of Negro pupils in high schools it was asserted yesterday in a letter, signed with the name of Mayor Floyd E. William of Gary, and made public by Sheridan A. Bruseaux, head of a south side detective agency.

In his communication the mayor stated that he would advise the city council at its next meeting to rescind the ordinance appropriating $15,000 for a temporary colored school, passed while the students of the Emerson school were on strike against the presence of colored pupils.

The mayor added that this action would automatically do away with injunction suits now pending to prevent the erection of the temporary structure. Colored students would continue to attend all the schools "in reasonable amount," he continued. The letter also contained a promise that a $700,000 school would be built in less than two years for pupils on the south side, where most of the Negroes live.

MRS. LILY BUSCH FINED TRYING TO SMUGGLE GEMS

Brewer's Widow, Chicago Woman Pay $56,365.

New York, Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lily Busch, 85, widow of Adolphus Busch, wealthy St. Louis brewer, and her two daughters, Mrs. Charles Greenough of New York and Mrs. Nellie B. Loeb, Chicago, were fined $56,365 today by United States customs authorities for attempting to smuggle into this country a diamond bracelet and a quantity of clothing. They had been granted an "expedite" on arrival Nov. 4.

Mrs. Busch, who was ill and was carried ashore in an invalid's chair, and her daughters were compelled, in a "settlement in lieu of prosecution for smuggling," to pay the foreign value of the articles with the duty added, plus 100 per cent as penalty.

Mrs. Busch Is Ill.

Mrs. Busch, who is ill at her home in St. Louis, was not present at the settlement, which was attended by Mrs. Greenough and Mrs. Loeb and H. C. Stuart, assistant collector of the port, who fixed the penalty.

Previously, it was said, the two women received a severe lecture from James F. McConnochie, supervising agent of the treasury department. It was indicated that soon the treasury department may determine, because of "the great number of wealthy persons who attempt smuggling," to prosecute offenders "as examples to others."

Report Tip from Chicago.

The customs officials already had received word, it was said by Mr. McConnochie, that they had purchased abroad, in France and Germany, a large amount of clothing and jewelry.

There was an unconfirmed rumor that the information originated in Chicago from persons who had been friendly with Mrs. Loeb and had quarreled with her. Should this be true, the informers will be paid $14,000 for the information.

Mr. McConnochie assigned Special Agent W. J. Murphy to board the George Washington as it arrived at quarantine, and several agents to examine the baggage of the three women when it was deposited on the pier.

Meanwhile Mrs. Busch's illness led her two daughters to apply to Arthur F. Forran, comptroller of the port, a Republican leader of northern New Jersey and a political associate of United States Senator Edge, to grant them an expedite—a pass which would enable them to have their baggage examined quickly and their landing hastened.

Claims Gems Are of U. S. Origin.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 17. — (AP) — August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., and son of Mrs. Lily Busch, who was fined today for bringing undeclared jewelry into the U. S., explained the diamonds were of American origin. He said his mother had received a rope of diamonds from her husband and while in Germany this year she had the strand broken up and made into bracelets.

The correct ulster—burly, and plenty long. A full, straight back; a roomy effect all through.

The college coat. Extra long; single breasted; with notch lapels. A favorite with young men.

The more formal style—wonderfully smart! Close fitting; best in dark solid shades with velvet collar.

A very smart coat, preferred by many men. Broad shouldered, with a semi-fitted waist.

MEXICAN HIGH COURT FREES U. S. OIL COMPANIES

Eases International Row Over Calles' Edicts.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—The Supreme court of Mexico today, by a 9 to 2 decision, wiped out, it appears, one of the most dangerous issues between the United States and the Calles government.

"The interpretation of the petroleum law which prejudiced the rights of American and other oil companies by exchanging proprietary freehold titles to oil lands for fifty year concessions is unconstitutional and unfair."

This was the decision of the Supreme court at 2 p. m. in reply to the demand for an amparo (restraining order) against the federal government and the department of industry, commerce and labor. The order was asked by the Mexican Petroleum company, an American concern, which protested cancellation by the department of several drilling permits.

Order Is Granted.

Francisco Modesto Ramierez, one of the foremost members of the court, and Diaz Lombardo, president of the court, both strongly advocated granting the amparo to the Mexican Petroleum company and the amparo was granted. Even the two opposing members of the court were willing to concede the amparo with certain restrictions.

The court also held that, so far as the present suit is concerned, sections 14 and 15 of the new oil statutes are unconstitutional. Section 14 substitutes fifty year concessions for oil land titles acquired before the passage of the constitution of 1917. Under section 15 titles to oil lands were forfeited if no application for confirmatory concessions had been made within a year after the new oil legislation became effective. It is believed this act foreshadows a change in the oil statutes.

Seventeen other claims for injunctions, similar to the one granted today, are pending before the court.

Expect Government Surrender.

It is probable that the government will not resist new attacks on the oil laws as they seem to threaten the ruination of the petroleum business in Mexico. Three years ago the government income from petroleum was more than $40,000,000 yearly. Today it is probably not more than $7,500,000. This serious decrease has necessitated a large curtailment from time to time in government expenditure and within the last two weeks President Calles has asked for further curtailment. Thousands of men have been thrown out of work.

It was pointed out today by a prominent Mexican diplomat that settlement of the oil law controversy would be a long step on the road to the settlement of international difficulties.

First Definite Action.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The action of the Mexican Supreme court is the first definite development since the diplomatic correspondence between the two countries was abruptly broken off nearly a near ago.

Under Mexican law, however, four similar decisions by the courts would be required to declare the petroleum law unconstitutional, as it requires five decisions by the Supreme court on the same legal question to declare an act of the Mexican congress outside the constitution.

WILLARD M'EWEN, EX-JUDGE, LEAVES ESTATE OF $300,000

The late Willard M. McEwen, who for ten years was a judge of the Superior court, left an estate of $300,000 at his death on Aug. 18, it was disclosed yesterday by an inventory filed before Assistant Probate Judge Leon Edelman. The document also revealed that the former judge owned interests in 36 patents on his own inventions.

The inventions included washing machine devices, railway signal mechanisms, tire tools, photographic apparatus, and improvements on electric fans, tractors, and hoof pads. The inventory listed the patents as being of doubtful value.

In addition to a well diversified list of stocks and bonds, the estate includes several investments in speculative stock classified by the inventory as of doubtful value.

Judge McEwen bequeathed almost his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Andrea McEwen, 3633 North Springfield avenue, and their daughter, Marie, 14 years old.

JOHN PAUL JONES STATUE MAY BE PUT UP IN BRITAIN

New York, Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Members of the English Speaking union here are enthusiastic over the suggestion that a statue of John Paul Jones, founder of the American navy and revolutionary war hero, be erected at Flamborough head in the north of England. The suggestion was first made in a TRIBUNE editorial on Nov. 6.

A copy of the editorial was forwarded by the Chicago branch of the union to national headquarters here, where it is receiving consideration. Officials said the next regular meeting of the union would not take place until next month, when the proposal would receive official discussion and favorable action probably would be taken.

The monument as proposed would commemorate the engagement between the Bon Homme Richard and the British ship Serapis, captained by Richard Pearson. It would occupy a spot on the coast near where the engagement took place.

LABOR DEMANDS BALDWIN EXPLAIN INACTION IN CRISIS

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Labor's conflict with the government over the coal problem, which led to a scene in the house of commons yesterday, now seems likely to be fought out next Thursday. The Labor party gave notice tonight of a new motion in the names of Ramsay MacDonald, John R. Clynes, Arthur Henderson, James Henry Thomas, and Philip Snowden, setting forth that "the house of commons registers its protest that in yesterday's censure motion the prime minister should have deliberately evaded giving any defense or explanation of the inaction of the government and this house declares that the crisis in industry, transcending all possibilities of mere departmental action, is such as demands an authoritative statement by the premier of the intentions of the government as a whole."

FINED AS PURSE THIEF.

Peter Maduzek, 33, of 1610 North Lincoln street was fined $200 and costs yesterday on a charge of larceny. Testimony showed he seized a pocketbook from Mrs. Ida Peters of 4717 Grace street.

DEFENSE CLAIMS LEFTY LEWIS IS FRAMEUP VICTIM

Murder Case Will Go to Jury Today.

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Ridarelli and Charles Carson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge William V. Brothers.

Charles Allen, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Stanley Klarkowski.

Albert Williams, burglary, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Attorneys for Harry J. [Lefty] Lewis, labor agent on trial for murder, yesterday charged in their final arguments before a jury in Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski's court that their client was the victim of a frameup. For some mysterious reason, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe was chosen to persecute Lewis and send him to the electric chair, the jurors were told.

The trial, the evidence in which began two weeks ago after a month had been consumed in selecting a jury, will end this afternoon when Prosecutor Crowe sums up all the issues in the case. Lewis' fate will then be in the hands of the jury. He is accused of slaying Max Braverman, a junk peddler, in front of a junk shop at 2645 West Roosevelt road last Aug. 26.

Ask Lewis Be Set Free.

Defense Attorneys George H. Guenther and Benedict J. Short argued throughout yesterday and the latter will take part of this morning's session in an appeal to the jury to set Lewis free. The defendant has not had the "chance of a yellow dog," his lawyers asserted, declaring that the eight state's witnesses who positively identified Lewis as the killer were perjurers.

"What's behind this persecution of an innocent man?" thundered Attorney Short. "Why does Mr. Crowe want his pound of flesh so urgently in this case? There never was a greater frameup in a criminal case since the old gray walls of this building first lifted themselves to the noonday sky."

Attorney Guenther compared Lewis to Al Jennings, the outlaw robber, who reformed, became a state's attorney and even aspired to be governor of Oklahoma.

Not Given Fair Deal.

"Jennings had a prison record, too," the lawyer declared. "But the people of Oklahoma didn't hold it against him. He was defeated by a few votes only for the office of governor. Why should the fact that Lewis was a bank robber be held against him? Is it giving Lewis a fair deal to convict him on the fact that he was once a convict?

Attorney Short pointed to the fact that the state's witnesses were junk peddlers as a reason for disbelief in their stories.

"A jury of women would acquit Lewis before convicting him on the testimony of junkmen," he declared. "Your wives have had occasion to have dealings with peddlers. They know how much their word is to be accepted. Their business is founded upon falsehood.

"These witnesses have changed their stories three times. They first said that Lewis was backing away from Braverman when he shot him. Then they said Braverman was shot in the back. When they found that Braverman had been shot in the breast, they again changed their stories and said Lewis shot Braverman at close range in front.

Can Find No Motive.

"What could have been the motive of Lewis in killing Braverman? He was just out of the penitentiary. He knew that he had to be careful or he would be imprisoned for life. He wouldn't dare to carry a gun for fear of being sent back to finish his term.

"Either Louis Newman, the state's witness, killed Braverman or someone else killed him accidentally with a bullet meant for Lewis."

HOLD 3 IN HUNT FOR TERRORISTS AFTER SHOOTING

Nonunion Victim Near Death.

Three men were in custody last night while police squads directed by Walter G. Walker, head of State's Attorney Crowe's forces waging warfare against racketeers and labor terrorists, scoured Chicago for traces of two men who perhaps fatally shot Max Willner, nonunion window washer, early yesterday at a loop restaurant.

In direct charge of the man hunt were Deputy Detective Chief Michael Grady and Capt. Thomas Wolfe of the First district. Both declared that the assailants would be in custody today.

Those held are: Steve Zaharchuk, 35 years old, business agent of local No. 34 of the window washers' union; Thomas Powers, 38, assistant to Zaharchuk, who is said to be a nephew of a well known police lieutenant; and Michael Laschuck, 37, 4850 School street, member of the window washers' union.

May Have Had Grievance.

Police say Laschuck may have had a professional grievance against Willner and against the latter's business partner, Morris Kroneman, who was present at the time of the shooting.

None of the prisoners, who were locked up at the detective bureau while the search for further suspects was under way, would admit participating in the shooting. Each denied ever hearing of Willner and Kroneman.

Physicians kept an anxious vigil at the bedside of Willner at the County hospital last night. He was shot through the stomach and it was feared he would not survive the night.

Seize Union's Records.

Zaharchuk and Powers were found in the headquarters of the union at 673 West Madison street when the place was raided by Mr. Walker and Deputy Detective Chief Grady.

In addition to taking the pair into custody, a mass of union records were also seized in the raid. A quantity of radical literature was also seized in the place, it was reported.

Mr. Walker said last night that he is sure the shooting was the direct result of union troubles.

Raising himself weakly upon his cot, Willner, when Zaharchuk and Powers were led before him, identified the pair as having threatened him several days ago.

Laschuck is said to have for nine years held the window washing contract at the Childs restaurant, 55 West Washington street, where the shooting occurred, detectives learned.

MINISTER'S WIFE AS LAWYER WINS CLIENT'S LIBERTY

Mrs. May Simpson, wife of the Rev. John Simpson, a Baptist clergyman, made the closing argument in a manslaughter case in the Kane county Circuit court at Geneva yesterday and won freedom for her client, Louis Petric. Mrs. Simpson, who formerly was employed by the Legal Aid society of Chicago, was admitted to the bar about two years ago. She is the mother of two children and her home is in Aurora.

In her argument for Petric Mrs. Simpson told the jury that she has investigated the case personally and learned of many circumstances, not presented to the jury, that satisfied her her client was innocent.

Judge John K. Newhall admonished the woman lawyer not to testify but to confine herself to arguments and inferences on the evidence presented during the trial and she exclaimed to the jury: "Nevertheless what I've said is true."

Her client was accused of plotting with Peter Seris to kill Joseph Czecz because of an interest in Mrs. Czecz. Seris was witness against Petric and admitted that he had killed Czecz, but said that he had been put up to it by Petric.

Seris was sentenced to one to fourteen years in the penitentiary on a manslaughter charge.

Gentlemen:

I take this opportunity of endorsing the Thomas' treatment to anyone in doubt as to their ability to grow hair on bald heads. When I started this treatment I had very little hair. After taking but a few treatments I had a good growth of hair started. I am happy to state that now after taking the full course of treatment every vestige of scalp trouble has disappeared and my head is completely covered with hair.

Sincerely yours,

AUTO ACCIDENTS CLAIM 8 LIVES; TOLL IS NOW 828

Three Die in Crashes at Grade Crossings.

Eight persons died yesterday as a result of automobile accidents in the Chicago metropolitan area. Seven of the deaths were added to Cook county's motor toll, making a total of 828 since Jan. 1.

Sam Rosenberg, 1251 South Turner avenue, owner of a dry goods shop at 816 Maxwell street, and his wife, Esther, were killed when the light delivery truck in which they were riding was struck by a Rock Island suburban train at a grade crossing at 111th street, near Vincennes avenue. Mrs. Sophie Bauman, 26 years old, 1120 South Cicero avenue, Cicero, who was riding with the Rosenbergs, was perhaps fatally injured. She was taken to the Roseland Community hospital.

Tried to Beat Train.

Freeman Smith, 11034 Laflin street, colored, flagman at the crossing, told Kensington police that he stood out in the roadway with his warning flag as the train approached and that Rosenberg evidently believed he could beat the train across. Two other cars drove up at the time, Smith said, and he added it was possible Rosenberg believed they were going across and started also. The truck was hit squarely and the wreckage was carried a block down the tracks on the engine pilot.

In another grade crossing accident Gilbert Chilott, 21 years old, of Gary, Ind., was killed. He drove his automobile through crossing gates in the Indiana city into the path of a fast Michigan Central passenger train.

Faints; Killed by Truck.

Mrs. Hattie Dechow, 45 years old, 1566 North Hoyne avenue, fainted and fell in front of a truck at Robey street and Pierce avenue. A rear wheel crushed her head. She was killed instantly. Police held the driver, Charles Larson, 2739 Elston avenue.

Miss Blanche Black, 45 years old, 2218 South Wabash avenue, a stenographer, was fatally injured when she attempted to cross Michigan avenue at 14th street against the traffic lights and was knocked down by an automobile driven by M. Schaffer, 5411 North Spaulding avenue.

Mrs. Rachel Jagoe, 66 years old, 3829 Southport avenue, who was struck by an automobile on Oct. 10, died at St. Luke's hospital.

Charles Noren, 63 years old, 4723 West Huron street, died from injuries received Monday evening when he was struck in Lake street near Cicero avenue by an automobile driven by Policeman Frank Donohue, 518 South Morgan street.

Richard Anderson, colored, 20 years old, was struck and fatally injured by a sedan that did not stop after the accident. He was hit after alighting from a Cottage Grove avenue street car at 38th street.

WINS ACQUITTAL OF HOLDUP AFTER MURDER TRIAL

For the second time within a month Thomas Pemberton, 43, was acquitted yesterday by a Criminal court jury. He was first tried for the murder of Policeman James Cooley of the Stanton avenue station and when the jury returned a not guilty verdict Judge John P. McGoorty criticized the finding and ordered that Pemberton be tried for robbery. Yesterday after an all day deliberation a jury in the same court found him not guilty of robbing Dr. Paul M. Anderson, 701 South Michigan avenue. It was while Policeman Cooley was attempting to make the arrest following the Anderson robbery that he was murdered.

Five Bandits Slug and Lock Up Victims, Then Rob Store

Five men entered the National Tea company store at 5921 Lawrence avenue yesterday and after slugging two collectors and locking them in a rear room with the store manager, Mrs. Grace Koelle, escaped with $600. One of the collectors, Andrew Fossgreen, was attempting to draw a pistol when one of the bandits struck him with a revolver butt. The robbers left in an automobile.

MELLON'S TAX PLANS OPPOSED BY LONGWORTH

Speaker Favors Cuts Totaling 300 Million.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Disagreement with the administration tax reduction program was indicated today by Speaker Nicholas Longworth, who is rated as a dark horse presidential candidate.

Speaker Longworth favored tax cuts which would aggregate about $300,000,000, as compared with the $225,000,000 maximum fixed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The final tax reduction, the speaker said, would be somewhere between the treasury figure and $400,000,000, the amount urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. Longworth approved reductions in corporation income taxes and in the intermediate surtax brackets, along the lines suggested by the treasury. He would repeal the automobile, admission and club dues taxes, which Mr. Mellon believes should be retained. Admission taxes on prize fights, he thought, might be kept. He would retain the estate tax, which the treasury wants to repeal.

Would Repeal "Nuisance" Taxes.

"In my opinion, some of the so-called 'nuisance' taxes should be repealed," Mr. Longworth said. "There is an insistent public demand that I do not think should go unheeded for repeal of the tax on automobiles, which yields more than $66,000,000 a year. If the treasury cannot stand the loss of this amount the tax should at least be reduced. There is also a public demand for the repeal of the tax on admissions and club dues. Certainly we should repeal the tax on admissions to places of amusement, although I would retain the levy assessed against tickets to fistic encounters."

Repeal of the automobile taxes was urged upon President Coolidge during the day by a delegation of automobile manufacturers.

Would Stop Tax Evasions.

The house ways and means committee today approved an amendment to the revenue law intended to prevent holding corporations from evading the tax on corporation income. The amendment will be incorporated in the tax bill which the committee is now drafting.

IOWA HEIRESS VANISHES WHILE ON VISIT HERE

Miss Mary Davis, 19 years old, of Des Moines, Ia., left the home of her half sister, Mrs. Paul Brewster of Riverside, to attend a prayer meeting Wednesday evening. With her she took a $1,000 violin and an evening dress belonging to Mrs. Brewster. The latter requested the police to search for her yesterday.

Mrs. Brewster reported that she had found a note, written by Miss Davis, yesterday morning. It stated simply that she was going away. Her relatives said they suspected she had eloped with a suitor from Des Moines. Miss Davis is said to be wealthy in her own right.

HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGES. Frank Bahn, 19, of 1938 North Kedvale avenue was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge fo burglary. He admitted that he had broken into thirteen homes since July.

JUDGE WARNS REMUS TO ABIDE BY COURT RULES

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—George Remus wants neither sympathy nor quarter in his trial for the murder of his wife, Imogene, he declared in open court today, as he again took a dynamic hand in the conduct of his own defense.

He said he asks only that the men or men and women who are to sit in judgment of him "get the facts," sordid or otherswise, that led up to the killing. If they then want to send him to the electric chair, as the state demands, he will cherish no hard feelings against any juror, he declared.

He voiced these sentiments in his booming voice while he was examining a prospective juror in his case. Although Prosecutor Charles P. Taft II. jumped to his feet with indignant objections, Remus got them over. Judge Chester R. Shook ruled with the prosecutor.

Court Rebukes Remus.

"You must; you simply must, abide by the rules, Mr. Remus," the court said.

"Your honor is quite right," Remus said, and sat down.

Remus had been questioning George Awrey, 67, a retired operator in oil lands. The latter, under interrogation by the prosectuor, had stated he retired from business ten years ago; that he was from Michigan and the father of a former Circuit judge in Ann Arbor.

"Now, Mr. Awrey," Remus said, "would the fact that the defendant was a witness in the Teapot Dome investigation prejudice you against him in any way?"

"No, sir," Awrey replied.

Q.—Would the fact that he was a witness in the case of Albert Sartain prejudice you? A.—I have not heard of that case. (Sartain was warden of Atlanta penitentiary when Remus was sent there. He was convicted of accepting bribes.)

Q.—Would the fact that the defendant owned a number of distilleries prejudice you? A.—It would not.

Remus' Big Moment.

Prosecutor Taft objected. He said the questions were improper, had nothing to do with the issues and should not be asked of prospective jurors. The objection was overruled and then came Remus' big moment. He spoke in tense tones.

"You understand the defendant is not looking for sympathy, don't you Mr. Awrey?" he asked.

"Yes, sir; I understand that," Awrey responded.

Q.—And it is only a question of whether or not he committed this homicide? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And if you found the defendant guilty you would not hesitate to inflict the extreme penalty? A.—No, sir.

Remus looked at the witness a moment.

"And the defendant wouldn't hold that against yau," he said. "Let that be understood, once and for all, in this case."

Young Mr. Taft leaped from his chair. The court sustained the state's objection and then Remus put in one final shot.

Refers to Criminal Past.

"You understand, as I am acting in this case it isn't a question of 'me' but only a question of 'this defendant' he said and he accepted Awrey on the jury.

Earlier, Remus had made his challenge to the world just as plain when he said:

"All we want in this case, Mr. Awrey, is to get all the facts before the jury. Now the fact that Mr. Taft is the son of the chief justice of the United States Supreme court would not prejudice you, would it?"

Awrey replied that it would not.

"Or the fact that I'm an ex-bootlegger or an ex-convict and a disbarred lawyer?" Remus went on. "Would you hold those against me?"

"No, sir," Awrey replied, "they wouldn't have anything to do with it."

"That's right," said the lawyer-defendant.

And finally Remus added a touch of humor and a bit of philosophic resignation.

"I believe you said that you are the father of Judge Awrey of Ann Arbor?" he asked.

"He was a judge," Awrey said, "but the Democrats snowed him under in the last election."

Remus joined in the laugh that arose.

"Ah, yes," he said, "that is one of those things that happen to us in life."

When court adjourned eleven jurors—two women and nine men—had been tentatively selected. The defense still has six peremptory challenges and there was thought to be little likelihood of a jury being obtained tomorrow.

Former Union Pacific Man Commits Suicide at Denver

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A. W. Woodruff, 60, who for 18 years was general superintendent of the Union Pacific railroad with headquarters in Omaha and more recently engaged in the automobile financing in Denver, shot and killed himself today. Ill health and financial worries were believed to have caused the suicide.

YOUNG MOTHER ORDERED SEIZED IN BABY'S DEATH

Poison Found in Child's Body; To Quiz Kin.

Coroner Oscar Wolff last night ordered the arrest of Miss Esther Pott, 23 years old, who lived on a farm near Barrington, and who is to be questioned, the coroner said, about the death of her infant son.

The child, born on Oct. 18 at the Elgin hospital, died at the county hospital a few days ago. An examination of the child's organs, made by Coroner's Chemist William D. McNally, revealed that the baby died of carbolic acid, it was said.

To Question Her Relatives.

Coroner Wolff announced he also desired to question the young mother's parents, her brother-in-law, Robert Pearson, who took her to the hospital when the child was born, and a young man, whose name the coroner withheld, who is said to be the father of the child.

Before the cause of the child's death was determined, Sergt. Charles Schroeder of the coroner's staff questioned Miss Pott. At that time he said she revealed a strange story of her vain attempt to deceive her father concerning the birth of the child.

The father, John Pott, was kept in ignorance of the approaching birth of the infant, she said. After the child was born at the Elgin hospital, where she gave the name "Mrs. Roy Watson," she brought the baby home. Her mother, Mrs. Ida Pott, then wrapped the baby in an old carpet and took him out to the barn. When the father came in Mrs. Pott went to the barn, and soon returned with the baby in her arms and feigning great surprise. It was a foundling, she told Pott, according to the daughter's story, as told by Sergt. Schroeder.

Pott refused to keep the child, Schroeder reported, and notified Barrington authorities, who came and took the boy, sending him at once to St. Vincent's orphanage. There burns were discovered about the child's face, and he was taken to the county hospital. In a short time he was dead.

MORE THAN 180 TO BE CALLED AS WITNESSES IN FLOGGING TRIALS

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Approximately eighty witnesses will be summoned by the state and more than 100 by the defense in the Crenshaw flogging trials which open in Luverne next Monday, the attorney general said today.

Among those who will be subpoenaed by the state are James Esdale, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan; George H. Thigusen, state superintendent of insurance, reputed great titan of the klan; Cecil Davis, grand kligraph, and Bert Thomas, reputed great titan for the northern province.

Esdale figured conspicuously in the Oneonta flogging trials. Davis and Thigusen testified before the grand jury in Crenshaw county and Davis was jailed for contempt because of his refusal to answer questions put by the jury.

WOMEN SEIZED AS PICKPOCKETS.

Mrs. Esther Simon, 35 years old, 1114 North Turner avenue and Mrs. Sarah Green, 25 years old, 3448 West Thirteenth street, were arrested as alleged pickpockets yesterday at State and Randolph streets during the height of the afternoon rush.

The IRON DERBY rests at last in the museum of antiquities

A year ago Dobbs gave to suffering mankind the Aeroweight derby, a derby light as a feather, easy on the head as a soft felt hat. The derby being an indispensable article of style, the brow of fashion long sustained its corrugating weight, painful as it was. Today, there being no further need therefor, the iron derby takes its place in the museum of antiquities, along with the red flannel undershirt and the Congress gaiter.

IN OUR STRIDE.

The south park commissioners have approved in principle the proposal to construct an addition to the Art institute at a cost of more than $5,000,000, the money to be raised privately. The addition may cost as much as $12,000,000.

At the same meeting of the south park board authorization was given for the completion of the north end of Soldiers' field, giving it a total seating capacity of 160,000. It was also decided to erect a million dollar armory and community house in Washington park, including a memorial to soldiers from the south side who lost their lives in the last war. The bathing beach extending for half a mile from 75th street to 79th street is to be developed. Further than that, the board indicated that it will construct a boulevard connecting Jackson park with Calumet park, and possibly extend South Park way to 115th street as a boulevard.

These projects alone, in cost and in variety, would be all that many cities would undertake as a ten year program. Chicago takes them in stride. They are only a part of the program of development of one section of the city and are by no means all of the improvements under way in that section. The great work of this generation, the reclaiming of land from the lake, for parks, beaches, and automobile highways, goes on without interruption. Next year the outer drive will be completed from Randolph street to the south end of Jackson park.

Chicago has learned, perhaps better than any other city in the world, how to obtain public improvements. We have the imagination, the will, and the money. We know where we are going and there are gratifying signs that we are getting there.

EDUCATION AND MILITARY TRAINING.

The November issue of National Defense is timely. National Defense is published by the Illinois state department of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States. The current number, appearing happily at a time when military training at state universities is under discussion because of the situation at the University of Wisconsin, is devoted to military training at the University of Illinois.

At Illinois, where military training is compulsory, the R. O. T. C. numbers 3,372 men. It is the largest in the country and the one Gen. Pershing called the best in the country. Illinois is justly proud of its university's student soldiers. President David Kinley is a vigorous supporter of the corps and of the principle of military training as a part of a higher course in education. In an article in National Defense he flatly contradicts the pacifist argument that military training has no place at a university. He says:

"In my judgment a university, and particularly a state university, is an excellent place to give military training. Training there is bound by the very conditions to avoid militarism. The training is given in a civilian institution, from a civilian point of view, with emphasis upon citizenship, in connection with the study of other subjects and under the inspiration of university ideals. Under such conditions it is not likely to be overemphasized, but takes its place as one subject in the curriculum."

That appeals to us as sound logic.

There is a distinct difference—a difference not recognized by pacifists—between knowing how to handle a rifle and in wanting to kill some one with a rifle. In some banks the employés are taught how to use firearms and firearms are provided them. We have yet to hear that such preparedness encouraged any bank employé to go out and become a highwayman. It was made a part of his job that he should know how to protect the bank's and the depositors' money. It was made part of his job—not the whole of it.

In the same way it is a part—not the whole—of a citizen's job to know how to protect his country. And where better he can learn that part and its relation to the whole than in a university we do not know. Particularly if it be a state university, where he is the beneficiary of that sound government which it is his duty to maintain.

Higher education, with all its benefits, all its opportunities, all its liberties of thought, speech, and action, is still a part of the state and owes something to the state. Nothing under a government is entirely free. Higher education, merely because it is a mark of favor and superiority and therefore enjoys certain privileges and freedoms, is not in itself an excuse for freedom from the duty of protecting the state.

Rather the opposite. Trained, thanks to the university, to take a superior position in the nation, the university student should expect to be required to take a superior position in defending the nation. And for that position, too, he must be trained.

The great difficulty of finding a common course between two extreme opinions, as in this case between pacifism and militarism, is met, as we see it, by military training in the universities. Instead of being, as the pacifists hold it, a most evil influence, bound to make jingoes and bloody-bones out of the younger generation, it is the sane way to meet the problem of possible war, which every one not hopelessly idealistic knows still confronts the world.

A desire for peace but not for peace at any price, and a desire for preparedness but not for war, are reconcilable. They are normal companion emotions. Both should be encouraged as part of our educational system. And nowhere can so excellent a balance be struck between them as in the university with military training.

AN OVERHEATED JUDGE.

Federal Judge George W. McClintic in the Charleston, W. Va., district, instructed a grand jury as to its duty with regard to cases involving the printing of prize fight pictures in newspapers. He referred to "disgusting exhibitions of human brutes" who were not lower than the persons who paid to see them.

The intemperate tone of the judge's remarks reveals a distinct lack of judicial character. The law which he brought to the jury's attention is in itself a prime exhibit of American disregard of the right purposes of law and it did not even have a moral origin, but was a panicky device for the protection of public order. It was thought to be provocative of race riots if pictures showing the Negro Johnson defeating Jeffries were exhibited. To prevent it congress undertook to give the government police jurisdiction and succeeded in doing so by using the interstate commerce act, the trained weasel of legislation.

The consequences have been legalistic vaudeville to which Judge McClintic adds his act. His description of the spectators at the Dempsey-Tunney fight or any other fight as human brutes covers a great deal of territory. His personal opinion of great masses of his fellow citizens is not consequential or important, but its judicial flavor makes it an offense. It is obvious that most of the citizens who go occasionally to such exhibitions as that of September at Soldiers' field, who are interested in reading of the fight or seeing pictures of it will stack up quite favorably in character with a federal judge who delivers violent personal opinion from the bench. The description probably applies to some very estimable associates of the judge in the federal court.

AN ALABAMA GRAND JURY STANDS UP.

Stern courage and a sympathetic humanity distinguish the report of the Crenshaw county grand jury which investigated the floggings of citizens by the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama. If Alabama keeps a roll of honor for eminent civic service it should place on the roll the names of these jurymen.

The denunciation of the midnight floggers issued by the jury stands clean and admirable and brave amid a scene besmirched by brutality, bloodshed, and bigotry. It takes no enormous bravery to condemn so depraved a crime as the flogging of an unjudged citizen if the place is, for example, Chicago, where there may be banditry and corruption but where such utter lawlessness is not tolerated. But it takes courage, both moral and physical, of the highest order to face the organized forces of the klan in Alabama.

The Crenshaw county grand jury spared no person. Their harshest words were, as they should have been, directed at a Baptist minister who, it is charged in the indictment, took part in the flogging of a young woman accused by neighborhood gossip of immoral conduct.

The Alabama illustration is one of the extremity to which lawlessness in the name of morality can go when it has back of it political power and around it the vestments of sanctity.

OBEY THE PROHIBITION LAW!

[The Hartford, Conn., Courant.]

We lead our Forum with a well-tempered letter signed by three members of the executive committee of the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand for law enforcement. Law enforcement is here understood to mean the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

Why is it that this law is not universally respected? Because it undertakes to make the drinking of any beverage containing any perceptible degree of alcohol a crime.

Law alone cannot make something criminal that is not in itself criminal, something immoral that is not in itself immoral, something sinful that is not in itself sinful.

Realizing this, the prohibitionists sought to accomplish their purpose by indirection. How they rushed their amendment through while the nation was engaged in war, how they coerced legislative bodies, how they resisted any and all attempts to get a direct expression of public opinion, is familiar history.

By resorting to extreme measures the government for a time may compel obedience to a bad or foolish law. But as President Coolidge well says: "True laws are discovered, not made." Such laws grow out of the customs and habits of the people. They are easy to enforce because they were really in existence prior to finding concrete expression in legal phraseology. Passive resistance to unwise or tyrannical laws may at times exemplify a higher virtue than abject obedience to them.

After eight years of wartime and constitutional prohibition, does it not seem that the time has come to examine the situation from a different angle? If we disregard our own sorry experience during these eight years, have we a right to disregard the experience of Canada, Sweden, and Norway and to profit nothing from the accumulated wisdom of the ages?

Would not the Committee of One Thousand do better to see what can be done for law observance by adopting the principle of temperance than by attributing faults to the people for which prohibition is itself largely responsible?

We shall continue, as we have done, to counsel observance of the law while it remains the law. We need no promptings from the Committee of One Thousand on that score. But we cannot urge the continuance of a law that perverts the constitution, that necessitates violations of the bill of rights for its enforcement, that breeds graft, corruption and hypocrisy, and that makes temperance a vice.

Progress will be made in unsnarling the prohibition tangle when there is a more general recognition of the fact that the good intentions of a law do not necessarily make it a good law.

HELP AT LAST.

Count Leo Tolstoy said at a New York reception: "Psychoanalysis analyzes the finest things and proves everything to be ugly. It's like the professor whose wife burst into tears when he refused her a summer holiday in Europe.

"'Ah, my friend,' he said to her, 'tears are useless. I have analyzed them. They contain a little phosphate of lime, some chloride of sodium, oxygen, hydrogen, and that's all.'"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

VENTILATION AND PRODUCTION.

TYCO'S MAGAZINE recently carried a story which appeared to be true. This story told of the president of a large textile plant who was wrought up over a twenty per cent loss in production in his plant during a midwinter period. He called in the production manager and found that the gentleman had gone him one better. He, the president, had been simply sweating, but the production manager had been sweating blood.

Finally, after trial and error in other directions, they called in a ventilating engineer. That expert reported that the plant was underproducing because the shop was overheated and "the life was being steamed out of the men. Decrease the average temperature to between 60 and 64, and increase the relative humidity to about 46, and it won't be long before your production is back where it should be."

The story adds that the changes were made, production came back to normal, and the president and production manager lived happily together ever afterwards. I expect the president was so happy that he went to Florida or California and spent the rest of the season. And why not? He had made conditions healthful for his men, and at the same time he had served his own interests.

We who read this story can understand why he called in the ventilation expert to tell him how to remedy the bad conditions, but we cannot understand why he and his production manager were so slow about finding the cause of the low production. Instead of sweating blood, it would have been much simpler and easier on the constitution to have bought a few dozen thermometers, a few duothermometers, and perhaps an anemometer or so, and then put these in the hands of shop bosses, floor bosses, and chief clerks for the purpose of getting the facts.

Any shop boss can take temperatures with a thermometer hourly and a stenographer can keep the record. The only instruction required might be as to times of observation, the keeping of uniform records, and the need of exposing the thermometer at different points in the room, with relation to height above the floor, windows, outside walls, and radiators. Any shop boss can be taught to use a duotherm, or any other wet and dry bulb thermometer. A duotherm is merely a wet and dry bulb thermometer in which only one thermometer is used.

If, in addition to a temperature and humidity record, a draft record is wanted, it may be advisable to use an anemometer. If so, this is a fairly simple instrument and almost any one can learn to use it.

CAUSE OF MANY SHOE MISFITS.

A. D. writes: The idea of licensing shoe clerks, while seemingly a good one, will not remedy misfits in footwear. Having been engaged in the retail shoe business for the last twelve years, I find that the fault of this condition in most cases is not with the clerk but with the buyer.

Seventy-five per cent of potential purchasers want shoes that look petite. This is true of both men and women, and in some cases it amounts to a mania. The best efforts of a competent shoe man to induce a patron to take the proper size is most often in vain. It seems that they would rather crowd their feet than take a size which appears to them long, or even feels comfortable.

It seems to me that vanity on the part of the customer is the principal reason for incorrect fitting in the majority of cases, i. e., where the store is doing a straightforward business. In most reliable stores a penalty is imposed on salesmen for improper fitting, and if a customer insists on a short shoe the letters "F-S," meaning "fitted short," are marked in the lining to protect the store and clerk in the event of a return.

My suggestion is that the public be educated through advertising as to what constitutes the correct fit; also, to buy the shoe that fits the foot and not the mind.

REPLY.

Spoiled feet represent a fact. There are several theories as to the cause. The clerk is one. You are right in suggesting that the customer is another.

Another correspondent is right in so far as he suggests that the use of X-rays is a beginning toward a better method. As it is now it is a start rather than a perfect method.

UNAVOIDABLE INCONVENIENCE.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like to call to your attention the condition of Washington boulevard and Crawford avenue. There is a building under construction at this point and no precaution has been made to protect pedestrians on either Washington boulevard or on Crawford avenue. It is particularly dangerous on Crawford, as the workmen park their cars in the only space available for walking. They have also blocked the alley, making it necessary for tradesmen to carry ice, packages, etc., for a half block. F. M.

Report is made that in connection with the construction of an apartment hotel at the northwest corner of Washington boulevard and Crawford avenue all necessary precautions have been taken to prevent accident. A steel canopy has been erected for the protection of pedestrians and the alley has been barricaded, as excavation is being made to a depth of forty feet. There is no parking of cars, as there is no available space for parking.

With construction operations under way there is bound to be more or less inconvenience but in this case it has been minimized.

Superintendent of Streets.

SOME RELIEF.

Chicago, Nov. 10. — [Friend of the People.]—Is there any possible way that the city can be made to clear up the condition of the streets and sidewalks of 79th street, east, west and under the Illinois Central tracks? After a heavy rain the street under the viaduct is flooded to over the sidewalk top, making it impossible for the pedestrians to use the walk and are, therefore, forced to trod through a muddy field up the embankment over many tracks to the I. C. station and those trying to reach the street cars west of the tracks are forced to kneel down through wire fences and go through a coal yard to the next street. The danger of being run over by the trains and much blowing of whistles make the pedestrians lose their nerve. Besides all this, the trucks and autos are using the sidewalks for a thoroughfare. M. C.

Report is made that sewers in this vicinity are inadequate and after a heavy rain the water is frequently over the sidewalks. At such times the automobiles drive over the walks, resulting in a muddy condition of same. The police department has been requested to make every effort to stop the practice of driving over the walks in the future.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 18, 1862.

CAIRO.—Holly Springs, Miss., has been left by the rebels, who have fallen back on Abbieville, twenty-two miles east of Holly Springs. There it is supposed they will fortify themselves and show fight, to allow time for like preparations at Jackson, Miss., where the celebrated last ditch is supposed to exist. Here they will attempt to stop the federal march on Vicksburg.

NEWS ITEM.—On the passage of Kirby Smith's rebel army out of Kentucky, via Cumberland Gap, they captured Capt. H. King and fifteen other Home Guards and hanged them without any charges being made against them or giving them the benefit of a trial. Union men of the vicinity determined to retaliate, threatening death to all rebel soldiers between Mount Vernon and the Gap. The threat was carried into execution on finding nine rebel stragglers. Two were executed at Hockney's, two at Putnam's Corners, and the remainder beyond London.

CHICAGO.—George P. Upton, local editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and Miss Sarah E. Bliss, daughter of Perrin Bliss, Esq., were married on Nov. 17 by the Rev. Robert Collyer.

CHICAGO.—At the city council meeting the committee on streets and alleys reported that $10,000 has been subscribed by private citizens toward the expense of constructing the State street bridge.

CHICAGO.—The board of education elected William J. Armstrong of Yellow Springs, O., principal of the Kinzie school. Trustee Carpenter called attention to a rule in the high school compelling male students to take off their books in the anteroom and substitute therefor light slippers. The students objected, pointing out that the young ladies these days also wear heavy boots and make a great deal of noise. The dispute was referred to the superintendent of schools for remedy.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—The latest notable arrival in the divorce colony is Mrs. Roland B. Molineux of New York City, who authorizes the statement that the object of her visit is to secure a divorce from Molineux, who was last week acquitted on the charge of murdering Mrs. Kate Adams after two sensational trials.

MEMPHIS.—The military parade of the Chickasaw guards, which was to have been a feature of President Roosevelt's visit here, has been abandoned and from individual members of the companies it is learned that the recent Booker T. Washington dinner at the White House is the underlying cause for their objection to marching behind the President.

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Josephine Moffitt, who is trying before Judge Clifford to establish her claim to be known as Mrs. William W. Pike, suffered severely yesterday at the hands of her one time dearest friend and confidant—Mrs. Gladys Forbes. The witness accused Mrs. Moffitt of having planned the suit with the purpose of making the Pike relatives pay a large sum in order to save themselves from the publication of details of the case.

CHICAGO.—Duane Doty, for 20 years agent of the town of Pullman, a civil war veteran, educator, editor and statistician, died at his home, 7 Florence boulevard, after an operation for dropsy, at the age of 67.

CHICAGO.—Charles A. Plamondon was appointed a member of the school board to succeed Frank J. Loesch.

SEVILLE, Spain.—The ashes of Christopher Columbus, which have rested in the cathedral here since their removal from Havana after the American occupation, were transferred with impressive solemnity to a special mausoleum which will be under the care of the city of Seville.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 18, 1917.

CHICAGO.—Joseph W. Noth, German secret service agent employed by Count von Bernstorff and Count von Papen, and trusted messenger of Baron Kurt von Reiswitz, former German consul in Chicago, was arrested and placed in jail here. He declares, however, he has not been connected with the German secret service since the United States entered the war.

PETROGRAD.—Peace has been definitely declared in Moscow with victory for the bolsheviki. The white guard has been disarmed and likewise the military cadets.

WAR NEWS.—Rome reports that the German troops which forced a crossing of the Piave river at Zenson are being pressed back steadily by the Italians. Two more crossings of the Piave were effected by the Germans. At Follina the German troops were destroyed or captured. At Fagare they were driven back to the embankment. Turkish forces which have been falling back before the British army under Gen. Allenby in Palestine are preparing to make a stand north of Jaffa.

CHICAGO.—Nicholas Hunt, former chief of detectives and for years policeman, captain and inspector, recited his official opinion of Chicago's sordid underworld in the trial of Charles C. Healey, former chief of police, William Skidmore and "Steve" Barry, former detective sergeant, on graft charges.

THERE'S NOTHING so lovely as antique furniture, let people say what they will. There's something of permanency, of personality in old furniture that no new furniture can possibly have. Just yesterday a woman in Ishpeming, Mich., bought an antique cabinet at a rummage sale for 75 cents. She took the cabinet home and opened it and down in one of the drawers were two quarts of Haig & Haig whisky, thirty years old. No wonder the craze for antiques is extending.

And, furthermore, said deponent, with his hand upon his heart, declareth that said stair hangs with the lightness and beauty of a spider's web blown loose from all of its moorings and floating softly in the evening air.

RHL: Her name is Rosie and she's head night waitress at Freddie's Café. She must have heard the traveling men talking about the Line and the Linebook, because last night, as I was swigging the evening java, she accosted me—to wit: "Say, mister, you have jokes in that Line, don't you?" As modestly as I could I admitted the charge. "Well, about that there Linebook," continued Rosie, "when is that coming out and how much will it be?" I told Rosie the magic date and the 10 cent price. "Well," said Rosie, reaching for her pocketbook and opening it, "will you get one for me?" Right in the midst of my telling her I would be glad to, Rosie broke in with: "You'll have some jokes in it, won't you?" Blushing wildly, I said: "Maybe—but I'm not sure." "Oh," said Rosie (and I wish you could have heard that "oh!"), and with that she closed the pocketbook again, gave me a dazzling smile, and said: "Well, if they's any of your jokes in it, let me know and (grandly) I'll take TWO." And then, Richard, there are those cynics, misogynists, and general crêpe hangers who try to tell you that a guy is without honor in his own—etc.

Oh, joy! The two teams play tomorrow at Evanston. If Iowa loses we are going right out to Iowa City Sunday. 'Twill, indeed, be a most interesting, not to say, a thrilling spectacle! "But," said Tommy, "shucks! with the prospect of hanging from that hanging staircase hanging before 'em the team won't lose."

SILENT NIGHT.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—It is indeed with sincere regret that I note the passing of silent night. I have recently purchased a more expensive radio not for the purpose of hearing our Chicago stations with more volume or greater clarity but for the thrill I find in pursuing DX stations on Monday nights. Regardless of the excellent programs our Chicago stations afford it remains for out-of-town stations to really impress one with the wonders of radio reception. Last year when some station insisted on broadcasting one Monday night, the president of the Broadcaster-Listeners association intervened and saved the day for us. I hope he hasn't forgotten the listeners and trust that he will again bring back silent night. MILTON DANENBERG.

THE MIDDLE-PRICED SETS.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—It seems too bad to take away Chicago's silent night, for it is really a pleasure to be able to get other programs that are entirely different from those heard in Chicago every night. I had a $20, very selective set that brought in Chicago stations and I have just purchased a new set costing about $200. On silent nights I can get Cuba, but the air other nights is so full of Chicago programs that it is impossible to reach distance. It simply means that the radio stores will sell many of the cheaper sets and the very expensive sets with no sales for the middle-priced sets. It seems very unfair, in my opinion.

FOOTBALL AT THE MIDWAY.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The sad, floundering Maroons remind me poignantly of our dear old Cubs and White Sox, who are always certain to be pushed in the face whenever the fight grows serious and the going rough. I can't remember the last time the Maroons beat a team classed as good. Their efforts are pitiful to behold. They can't throw or receive a forward pass, their famed line never holds when it means a touchdown, and the decisiveness of their victories is usually open to question. The Maroon followers thought it nothing short of marvelous that Chicago should beat Pennsylvania and Purdue, but the Maroons, it seems, were kidding the public all the time.

Of recent years, whenever the last mentioned team played a fairly decent schedule, the papers invariably came out next with Chicago put up a good fight until their star was kicked in the face, until they remembered who they were playing, until somebody fumbled, or until the enemy began a passing attack. Taken all in all, the Maroons are about as colorful as the walls of the Midway.

It's really too bad that a university whose boast is that the educational value of its diploma is ranked only second to Harvard cannot put a team on the field worthy of its name. JOHN F. GODAR.

OAK PARKER'S COMPLAINT.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—At the inauguration of the Westchester service on the Garfield park line trains running into the loop in the morning made the usual stop at Oak Park avenue and had six car trains. Now that the business has increased five to six times they run a four car train stopping at Oak Park in the morning at 8:30 that is so crowded that it is impossible to get aboard.

In the evening the Wells street Garfield train stops at Marshfield to let Westchester and Aurora-Elgin go ahead, holding the Garfield park train up. This same thing is done at Louis, Laramie, and Gunderson, making the running time of Oak Parkers and Forest Parkers longer than those people living 10 and 15 miles farther west.

E. BEN.

THE LONG DECADES OF PEACE.

Lake Forest, Ill., Nov. 13.—May I, as a former captain in the A. E. F. and a present major in the reserve army, suggest that Mr. McCutcheon's cartoon on pacifism in Wisconsin carries its own answer?

Wisconsin people have always been lovers of peace, and, so far as they could be, have been pacifists in the truest sense. The old Iron Brigade was made up of civilians who, untrained for war and regretting the occurrence of war, went out in the pinch, did their fighting, and returned to the ways of peace. So, too, was the 32d division. The youngsters at the University of Wisconsin today are resisting compulsory military training largely because a considerable proportion of the veterans from the 32d division are encouraging them to do so.

Many of us who served in the late war and who would serve in another war if it were necessary still feel that the likelihood of war is less if the youth of the country is kept in that state of mind which considers war a last resort, rarely if ever justified, and many of us believe further that the amount of suffering occasioned in the early stages of actual conflict by the state of unpreparedness of soldiers is probably small in comparison with the totality of poverty and suffering which would be caused by excessive expenditures of energies and means on military preparedness during long periods of peace.

JOHN H. SHERMAN.

HARVARD'S CHARM.

Lacarne, O., Nov. 14.—I would like to suggest that possibly the peculiar grace and charm which Harvard has shown of late might be attributed to the fact that it is a Chicago man who is coach for Harvard. Incidentally, I am not a Harvard man. J. W. ORCUTT.

THE FAMILY HEARTH.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—What we miss most in the light housekeeping life is the good fireplace. There was something fine in imagining that a hearthstone fire kept constantly burning would help cement the family ties. The radiator is indispensable to the modern home, but even an old fashioned stove or an auxiliary heater helps to keep the family together, and there is nothing like the piles of trash wasted around large spaces that would interest the children in an hour, not to speak of winter evenings with the glowing fire, with roasting apples and taffy.

YOUTH CHARGES POLICEMEN BEAT HIM UNCONSCIOUS

Asserting that he was so severely beaten by a police squad at the Des Plaines street station that he had to be carried home after his captors had been convinced he was not a criminal, John Frano, 24 years old, 1019 North Hamlin avenue, announced last night he would swear to a warrant charging the policemen with assault with intent to kill.

Frano, a truck driver, was employed by the Peter Fox Sons company, dealers in butter. On Tuesday, according to a report he gave the police, three armed men climbed on to his seat at Fulton street and Milwaukee avenue and took the truck from him. He was then forced into an automobile and held prisoner for several hours.

"As soon as they let me go," he declared, "I called my employers. Then I notified the police. A bureau squad rode me around for several hours and took me to the Des Plaines street station at about 9 p. m. There I was turned over to Sergt. Thomas Kennedy and his squad. They said they were going to question me.

"They began by telling me I had to confess I stole the butter. Next they led me to a back room. Kennedy beat me on the head and face until I fell to the floor.

"When Kennedy's hands got sore from hitting me he grabbed a short-handled baseball bat and laid on me with that until I was unconscious. They didn't quit until 5 in the morning. At noon Sergt. Mulvihill let me out and told me to go home and forget it."

Unable to walk, Frano said he called a brother, who took him home and summoned a physician, Dr. Emil G. Vrtiak, 1610 West Chicago avenue.

The victim of the alleged beating said that one of the policemen told him they would kill him unless he admitted the theft of the butter.

INSULL UPHOLDS UNIFIED RULE OF ELECTRIC GIANTS

Answers Congress Critics of Power Industry.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Samuel Insull made a speech last night telling the status, and reasons and justification therefor, of the electric light and power industry of the United States.

The speech was considered of nation-wide importance because, in effect, it was a reply to the proposed electric power investigation which Senator Thomas J. Walsh says he will bring to the attention of congress on Dec. 6.

Added significance was attached to Mr. Insull's remarks because among the 1,200 listeners were representatives of about $8,600,000,000 of the estimated $9,000,000,000 capital invested in the power companies of the entire country. The occasion was the annual dinner of the Electric Association of Chicago in the Palmer house. It was said to be the largest gathering of electric leaders ever held in this country.

Calls Industry People's Friend.

Mr. Insull told congressional critics of the power industry that they are barking at benefactors of the people. The Chicago public utilities magnate said that 16 times as much electric energy was sold in 1926 as 1913, but that the total paid for this power in 1926 was only five times as great as in 1913, although the cost of labor and materials has greatly increased.

"The average selling price in cents per kilowatt hour is actually lower now than before the war," said Mr. Insull. "It is about the only commodity or service of which you can say that. And when you translate average prices of 1914 into the less valuable dollars of 1925, you will find that the average selling price of electricity has come down more than 60 per cent."

"Constantly increasing service at constantly declining rates. What industry can show a better record or, indeed, a comparable one?"

A Word to the Government.

It was not by inference alone that the impression was conveyed that Mr. Insull was talking to Senator Walsh. For Mr. Insull, at one point, said:

"Just a word on current proposals for harassing or shackling this electrical development by governmental action in one direction or another. It is only history repeating itself. It is off the same piece as the opposition to industrial consolidations twenty-five or thirty years ago and to the railroad mergers in the Hill-Harriman-Morgan era. The railroads are now governmentally advised to consolidate."

Mr. Insull replied not only to investigating congressmen and senators but to "certain financial writers" and "critics of this and that." He sought to justify on every general reasonable ground the growth and size of the electric industry.

He stated, frankly, however, that there are a few undesirables in the business in these words:

"If financial adventurers have broken in here and there—security floaters and manipulators, instead of operators—they are only flies on the windowpane. Economic progress will soon wipe out all trace of them."

He asserted that the industry as a whole is sound. But, he added: "Glib talk of millions here and billions there—whether of customers, kilowatts, or dollars—is apt to make the layman dizzy and leave only an impression of inhuman size and strength.

"There is no evil in mere size. It is the disposition and purpose of it that counts. The growth of the electric light and power industry has been as natural and understandable as the growth of a tree and as devoid of sinister implications and consequences.

Follows as Day the Night.

"Interconnection, 'super-power,' group management, and all the rest have followed low cost steam generation and distance transmission as naturally as day follows dawn. Neither financial hocus-pocus nor malign ambition for control—for 'getting a strangle hold on the public,' as it is sometimes phrased—has ever been a factor in this development.

"The development will go on, unless checked by undue political interference, until good electric service is practically universal throughout the United States."

He traced the development and growth of the industry. Then he made this comment: "These results, when honestly analyzed, are a complete answer to allegations and insinuations that electric light and power has been dominated by avarice and financial thimble-rigging."

Mr. Insull, who is the operator of electric companies in the Chicago area of $780,000,000 invested capital, discussed at length "The Holding Company," which has been the particular target of Washington attacks. Mr. Insull started with probably the first successful holding company, organized in 1910 in a group of 32 little towns of Lake county, back from the lake shore.

"Ten of these towns had electric service of a sort, but only at night, supplied by little plants one jump ahead of the sheriff," he explained. "We bought the little plants, shut them down, built one plant on Lake Michigan, and erected transmission lines. The results:

"Within two years all but two of these little villages and 125 farms were getting full 24 hour service. While the investment charge per kilowatt of maximum demand was practically doubled, the increased and diversified use of energy was so stimulated by better service, and the output was so increased, that fixed charges per kilowatt hour of output were only slightly affected.

He Enumerates the Gains.

"The increase in fixed charges was more than offset by other gains, as follows: The operating load factor of the new system was improved about 100 per cent, the fuel cost per kilowatt hour of output was reduced 70 per cent, the other operating costs were reduced about 84 per cent, and the total cost per kilowatt hour of output was reduced practically 60 per cent.

"The net result of this experiment therefore was 24 hour service instead of night service for a population of 14,000, 24 hour service instead of none for a village and farm population of between 8,000 and 9,000, all at lower rates than any part of the territory had previously enjoyed, and also the establishment of financial credit for further development that would have been impossible under the previous conditions."

"This experiment gave impetus to the development, now conspicuously exemplified by long distance transmission, interconnection, 'super power,' and group management. What was done in Lake county is exactly what has been done throughout the country on an immensely larger scale, and, generally speaking, the operating results and the benefits to the users of the service have been identical, assisted, of course, by coincident improvements in the art.

"Certain financial writers said then (1910) that we were 'putting together a lot of junk.' No investor lost a penny by the acquisition of the 'junk' in Lake county, and users of the service had nothing but profit from it."

Still Another Illustration.

Illustrating further the method of growth, Mr. Insull cited many facts with reference to the Central Illinois company directing serving 320 communities, the largest 36,000, 216 under 1,000, 129 under 500 inhabitants, and 20 of less than 100 people.

Of the 320 communities 174 had no previous electric service. Of the 146 other communities—including 31 with municipal plants—only 51 had what might be called 24 hour service. All of them now have rates lower under the centralized policy than any of them had before, Mr. Insull said.

"This central Illinois company," he went on, "also illustrates the helpful part played by the holding company, or better still, the investment company, in the present day development—a helpfulness that was emphasized by wartime conditions. The local company was headed for the rocks by the mounting costs, inadequate rates and restricted credit of war time. What was done in central Illinois was only an amplification of what was accomplished in Lake county.

"The so-called super-power systems of the country are simply an amplification of what was done in central Illinois. The only difference between the Lake county experiment and the central Illinois project and the super-power systems of the country is the size of the figures. The size of the figures disturb some people, although it is neither mysterious nor sinister."

ANY GIRLS SEEK AGEANT GLORY S LADY GODIVA

ead of Committee Asks Help in Choosing.

pplicants to play the part of Lady iva in the pageant that will open Arts ball in the Stevens hotel on . 25 are so numerous that Andrew Rebori, chairman in charge, an- ced yesterday that he had to call assistance to make a choice.

"As my office is swamped with girls my desks piled high with photo- phs of those who did not call in son," he said, "I can't go there. with the aid of Benjamin Marshall have chosen six Godivas for the t tableau. The one who will ride horse, however, is still in question. hope it will soon be settled, as I am ing hounded to death by women ting the part."

Trick Rider Applies.

One girl, a product of the Texas plains, sent in her photograph in riding costume, with the appended message: "If you want a trick rider can do anything in that line. But would not appear before nobody with- anyhow some tights."

"She is, of course, barred," said Mr. Rebori. "But there are lots of others are not so fearful of cold breezes. Finally, I am being hounded to death women who want to model for pageant."

Miss Marion Gheen, leader of the mittee faction that has protested Lady Godiva showing as inartistic immoral, announced yesterday she was still fighting for her side.

Hands Off, Says Pelouze.

"I shall call on Col. William Nelson se to stop any such exhibition," affirmed.

Col. Pelouze, president of the Arts Industries association, which is sor for the ball, already has de- d a hands off policy, adding that responsibility for the show must go the shoulders of Mr. Rebori.

DEAF MUTE WIFE AND HER HUSBAND MAKE UP IN COURT

Mrs. Louise Rutherford, 6811 East End avenue, a deaf mute, was sued for $25,000 on a charge of alienation of affections yesterday by Mrs. Lena M. Michenhan, also a deaf mute, residing at 7131 Champlain avenue. The defendant is the divorced wife of the Rev. Henry Rutherford, 5338 Greenwood avenue, a deaf mute minister.

After filing the suit Mrs. Michenhan and her attorney, M. L. Berkemier, went before Superior Judge John J. Sullivan with a motion to cite her husband, Ashely J. Michenhan, another deaf mute, for failure to pay temporary alimony pending her suit for divorce. The judge, with a sign language interpreter, took the couple into his chambers. After a few minutes man and wife came out to the courtroom arm in arm and it was announced they had been reconciled.

Not more than
OneHome in 10,000 is adequately wired

ELECTRICAL development has been so rapid that thousands of homes built but a few years ago are not adequately wired so that you can have all the comforts and conveniences which modern appliances make available. By adding wiring, which can easily be put in at small expense and with little trouble, you can enjoy the health-giving and time-saving advantages of the use of electrical appliances and properly directed light.

So that you may know what adequate wiring is in your present home or one you are contemplating, the electrical industry has developed what is known as the "Red Seal Plan". A Red Seal house is one that is wired with a number of outlets for light and the attachment of appliances in accordance with the best modern standards. If you are renting premises, all you have to do is to ask if the electrical features are up to Red Seal standard. If so, you are assured of the most important facilities for adequate electric light and power in your home.

Red Seal Plan Your Protection

The widest use of electrical devices is looked upon as convincing evidence of a high standard of living, intelligence, economy and health. Red Seal stands for all of these things. If your premises are Red Seal, that assures you they are modern, high grade and particularly livable.

Service Free

In order to find out how much work and expense is necessary to bring your home up to the Red Seal standard, this Association, without any cost to you, will, on request, send its representative to make a survey of your premises, advise you how much additional wiring is required, and assist you, if you wish, in the selection of a contractor who will make an estimate of the cost.

CALL BIG BILL'S ROW WITH KING PERIL TO SEAWAY

BY GEORGE SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 17.—Mayor Thompson's tilting with King George was denounced by American delegates to the Great Lakes Harbor association today as a smoke screen.

The American delegates unanimously voiced their opinion in the following resolution, signed by W. S. McCormick of Duluth, George A. Wright of Detroit, and William A. Armstrong of Racine, Wis.:

"We deplore the unfriendly and unjust attitude of Mayor Thompson of Chicago and certain rich and powerful private interests in endeavoring to create ill feeling between Canada and the United States, which attitude, we believe, is clearly for the purpose of insuring the illegal diversion of the waters of the great lakes and injuring the development of the St. Lawrence waterway, and which attitude, we are confident, will be wholly disregarded by right thinking and right living people in both countries.

Cite Canada-U. S. Good Will.

"The friendship and good will of the people of Canada for the people of the United States and of the people of the United States for the people of Canada have proven to be reciprocal assets of inestimable value for over 100 years.

"This firm friendship cannot be shaken and in the accomplishment of the great purposes of this organization the people of the United States and the people of the dominion of Canada can be trusted."

The Canadian and American delegates then unanimously indorsed joint development of the St. Lawrence project as "the most expedient, practical, and economical," and denounced "the so-called all American route as well as the all Canadian route as visionary in conception and uneconomic in construction and operation."

"Defeat Sea Route."

"Both schemes," the delegates asserted, "are given the ring of patriotic appeal for the purpose of misleading the public mind, and thus defeat the most direct and most feasible route to the sea that can possibly be composed." They urged "that in the realization of the St. Lawrence project connecting the great lakes with the Atlantic ocean the equities involved be observed in the strictest sense so as to fully accord equal rights and equal service to two friendly neighborly countries, the United States and Canada."

In another resolution the association condemned the Chicago water diversion.

Mayor D. W. Hoan of Milwaukee said Milwaukee's growth and that of other middle west cities depended on increased transportation facilities.

William G. Bruce of Milwaukee was reëlected president of the association.

AMERICA FIRST SALESMEN START CANVASS OF LOOP

Attracted by the promise of pleasant, profitable, and patriotic work, a number of young men applied yesterday for jobs selling memberships at $10 each in Mayor Thompson's new America First foundation. Several were accepted.

Out of each membership they bring in the salesmen will receive approximately $1. They will call on business and professional men in the loop first, later probably making a house to house canvass over the city. After Chicago is covered they will canvass other counties in Illinois.

"Next summer we will probably draw our organizers from the colleges and universities," explained John J. Murphy, secretary of the foundation. "Then, as more funds come in, we will stage a membership drive in every state."

The announced program of the foundation is to promote loyalty to the flag, distribute copies of patriotic documents, establish classes in citizenship for aliens, and incidentally to advertise the ideals of Mayor Thompson. The foundation has offices in room 1408 Straus building.

"We are more than pleased with the reception the organization has received," Mr. Murphy said. "Hundreds of people have come in to offer their good wishes and pay their $10 and we are certain our work will progress faster than we at first expected."

LUCY HAGENOW PLACED ON TRIAL FOR GIRL'S DEATH

Dr. Lucy Hagenow, 82 years old, went on trial yesterday before Judge Michael Feinberg charged with murder of Miss Mary Baxter Moorhead, 25 years old, 537 Melrose avenue, secretary of the American Paint and Asphalt company. She is charged with having performed an illegal operation upon Miss Moorhead on Nov. 5, 1926.

Dr. Hagenow has practiced medicine in Chicago for almost half a century and was sentenced twice to the penitentiary, once in 1898 and again 1908.

SCHOOL HEADS OF STATE DENOUNCE TEXTBOOK WAR

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—The annual convention of the State School Board association and the City Superintendents' association today unanimously passed a resolution commending Supt. William McAndrew and denouncing the "destructive policy" of the Chicago board of education.

"In view of the unfortunate impression that the public may have regarding the purpose and the general operation and administration of public schools resulting from the present Chicago episode, it would seem a matter of justice to education in our state and country that recognition be taken of the destructive policy now being pursued on the apparent basis of personal ambition," the resolution stated.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Illinois State School Board association and the City Superintendents' Association of Illinois strongly express our feeling that education should not be handicapped by political tampering in which the welfare of boys and girls in the schools is subordinated to personal or political prejudice and ambition."

ERICSON DRIVE? COLUMBUS DRIVE? THE BATTLE'S ON

Oscar Durante, school trustee and editor of L'Italia, announced yesterday that a group of leading Chicagoans of Italian extraction would soon petition the south park commissioners to change the name of Leif Ericson drive to Christopher Columbus drive.

The announcement was made immediately after a long conference between Mr. Durante and Mrs. Berthe C. Petersen, vice president of the Norwegian National league, at which they failed to agree concerning the authenticity of Leif Ericson's discovery of America.

Mr. Durante contended that the story of the viking's voyage was a myth and should be treated as such, and that Columbus, as the bona fide discoverer of America, should be entitled to the honor of having the outer boulevard named for him.

Quotes Manuscripts for Leif.

Mrs. Petersen declared she had proof, based on ancient manuscripts reposing in the Vatican museum, which would substantiate the Norwegian contention that Ericson actually came to this continent 500 years before Columbus. Furthermore, she stated that any attempt to rename Leif Ericson drive would be hotly contested by the Norwegian National league.

"But," protested Mr. Durante, "the outer drive is not completed. How can you christen a baby before it is born? Besides, the outer drive leads directly from Grant park to Jackson park, where, in 1893, the greatest world's fair in history was held and named in honor of Christopher Columbus. A Leif Ericson drive leading to the site of the Columbian exposition would be an insult to the memory of the great navigator.

Deplores Chicago's Tendency.

"The whole world honors Columbus," he added. "On that part of the Spanish shore where he landed after his great journey stands a monument with the inscription, 'Columbus gave a world to the world.' Even the Chinese glorify Chistopher Columbus. Only in Chicago is there a tendency to credit Ericson with the first discovery, and that is because of politics."

Mrs. Petersen declared that the Norwegians were entirely willing to honor Columbus, but that they also wanted recognition for the Norsemen, especially in the school histories.

"That's impossible," Mr. Durante protested. "We can't tell the children that there were two original discoverers of America—that both were first. It's one or the other, and we shall insist on Columbus."

South park officials said yesterday that the outer drive already had been formally named after Leif Ericson. As a way out of the difficulty one of them stated yesterday that when the outermost outer drive is constructed across a chain of five islands to be constructed in the lake between Grant and Jackson parks it might be named Columbus avenue.

SULTAN MULAI OF MOROCCO, ALLY OF FRANCE, DIES

PARIS, Nov. 17.—Mulai Yusef, sultan of Morocco, died suddenly at the imperial palace at Fez, capital of French Morocco, this morning, from uremic poisoning. His death threatens further to complicate the troubles in France's African empire, already smouldering with discontent fomented by foreign and communist propaganda among the native tribesmen.

The news that the sultan had expired came just as Resident Governor Theodore Steeg was preparing to proceed from Rabat to Casablanca to meet six French citizens—one of them his nephew—who had been kidnaped and ransomed from the Atlas mountain insurgents, and he immediately started for Fez to attend the funeral of the sultan at 11 a. m. tomorrow and to watch over France's protégé who is to succeed the sultan—Mulai Idriss.

LABOR OFFICIALS PRAISE LUZZO AT CELEBRATION

Laudatory speeches by politicians and leaders of Illinois and Chicago trade union movements featured the testimonial banquet given for Samuel P. Luzzo, vice president of the Chicago Building Trades council, at the Rainbo gardens last night. Mr. Luzzo, who was recently appointed a member of the Illinois boxing commission, is also head of the Hod Carriers' union, and it was in celebration of his political appointment that the banquet was given. About 2,400 people attended.

Yesterday members of the Motion Picture Operators' union, by a unanimous vote, reëlected Thomas E. Maloy business manager of the organization for a five year term. Others returned to office with Maloy are Thomas Reynolds, president; Ralph O'Hara, assistant business agent; Hal Johnstone, secretary-treasurer, and Frank Clifford, assistant business agent.

Chuckles

from the Chuckle-makers

John E. Larson, who is in the sixth grade and lives at 7314 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, says: "Just now when writing you this letter I am eating one of your Chuckling Chuckles. Oh, Boy, ain't they good! Well, here's my Chuckle: One morning Billy's mother came to his bed and said, "Billy, breakfast is ready." Billy meekly replied, "Oh, gee, can't you wait till I finish this dream."

Mother replied, "How come you are awake and dreaming at the same time?"

"Why, the dream man forgot to leave me."

You know I'll bet the youngster's name in the original story was Johnny and that Johnny's folks still remind him of "the time when—" Well, anyway, John E. you win the dollar and a box of my good old-fashioned candy Chuckles. And, Johnny, tell your mother it's O. K. to eat all you want, as they're as pure as can be.

Free: a dollar bill and a tin of Chuckles if you send me a Chuckle wrapper and a funny Chuckle I can use.

RELATE HORRORS OF CAPTIVITY BY MOOR BRIGANDS

French Chief's Kin Freed for Big Ransom.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TADLA, Morocco, Nov. 17.—A tale of unbelievable hardships and nightly terror was unfolded by Yves Steeg, nephew of the French governor general of Morocco, Jean Maillet, his brother-in-law, the elderly Mme. Marie Prokorof, and the Baroness von Steinheil, who reached here tonight after having been held for ransom several weeks by Moor brigands.

Simultaneously the little Arnaud orphans, four and six years of age, pitifully wasted and covered with rags and fleas, their bare feet bleeding, were handed over to the French outpost near Aguennous, whence they were transferred to Beni Mellal. The Arnaud girls' parents were murdered by the Moros on Oct. 6.

French to Take Reprisals.

Although the Chleuh tribesmen are revelling tonight with the huge ransom the government was forced to pay for the release of the six French citizens, it is reported that they will not revel for long. It is rumored that reprisals will be begun immediately, if the weather permits. M. Steeg and M. Maillet will direct the punitive columns, with plans of the rebellious territory which they managed to draw during their captivity.

Several million francs in cash was transferred to the rebellious Moors through the agency of Chieftain Ben Naceur, but the exact sum the government has taken the greatest precautions to prevent leaking out. Because M. Steeg's nephew was involved and because M. Steeg is none too popular, certain political leaders in Paris feared a scandal might develop so all mention of the amount paid was scrupulously avoided.

At 9:45 a. m. French scouts in the open country near Ksiba sighted a band of seventy Chleuhs descending the slope from Ait Aouirat pass. With their glasses they spied Yves Steeg and the two women. M. Maillet was missing.

Beards Many Weeks Old.

Because the natives employed by the French to bargain with the captors failed to show up with the sum agreed on at the other side of the pass at down, M. Maillet offered to stay behind as a voluntary hostage lest the bandits, smelling a mouse, slay the women in a moment of panic. But upon reaching the French line the Chleuhs found the money intact and sent runners back to get him.

In midafternoon the party arrived at Tadla, where they were given first aid at the post infirmary. They presented a sorry appearance. Both men wore beards weeks old. Young Steeg wore a piece of ragged burlap from his shoulders and a pair of faded red breeches which some zouave left with his corpse in the dissident territory. M. Maillet was dressed in a filthy burnoos and a snappy pair of velvet pants such as workmen wear in Paris. The two women were scantily clad in once white burnoos.

Asks for Vanity Case.

Baroness von Steinheil, the moment she stepped out of the automobile at Tadla, asked for a vanity case so she could arrange her hair and powder her nose. Her daughter, Mme. Prokoroff, rushed to the telephone to call her husband, who this far had been kept much in the background to avoid any more scandal than necessary in the governor's family.

M. Steeg told a graphic story of the kidnaping, but from his manner apparently expects difficulties with his uncle, whom he has got in hot water.

"What luck to be caught in such imprudence!" he groaned, "when uncle particularly warned me not to do anything an ordinary colonist would not do."

Seven bandits were in the party which attacked their car while on a hunting expedition late at night a considerable distance from Beni Mellal, he said.

Prodded Captives with Knives.

"They forced us to walk all night long, and until 2 o'clock the next afternoon," he continued. "They had no pity. They prodded us with knives and bayonets whenever we faltered, and forced me to carry a thirty pound sack. The women nearly died.

"Every few days during our captivity, when the negotiations for the ransom were going slowly, the tribesmen kept saying in our hearing: 'why keep them? They are dead weight on our hands. Let's slit their throats and get it over with.' We lay awake night after night, fearing they would make up their minds to follow this idea. They took everything we had. We were forced to tear up our underclothes for handkerchiefs."

The moment the Arnaud girls were in their hands, and before their captors left the scene, French army doctors examined them and found that they had in no way been maltreated, though they were in a pitiful state. They have clean beds tonight in Beni Mellal, where they cried themselves to sleep, as they have done every night since they saw their parents hacked to death by the Moors. They will be sent to Rabat tomorrow to be placed under the care of Mme. Steeg.

Convict Stabs Keeper to Death on Way to Mess Hall

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The principal keeper at Auburn prison, James B. Durnin, was fatally stabbed by a prisoner while the inmates were marching into the mess hall for supper this evening. Durnin died in the prison hospital. The stabbing was done with a knife made out of a file. The prisoner, Alex Kolinski, was quickly overpowered and placed in the prison isolation cell. He has a long criminal record.

ACE AND WIFE END 1ST LEG OF 20,000 MILE FLYING TOUR

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Amidst scenes of tremendous enthusiasm, Sir Alan and Lady Cobham made a successful start from the River Medway at Rochester this afternoon on a 20,000 mile flying tour of Africa.

They landed at Hamble airport, Southampton, late this afternoon, completing the first leg of their long journey. The party will hop off for Bordeaux, France, tomorrow morning.

Lady Cobham, dressed in a gray felt hat, gabardine raincoat, riding breeches, woolen stockings and brown shoes, said she expected to find the trip a "rest cure." She will act as cook and secretary, and the machine is outfitted with desk and typewriter to facilitate her work.

Given Farewell Luncheon.

Sir Alan and his wife were guests of honor at a farewell luncheon, at which the aviator outlined some of the interesting facts of the trip. The flying time would be 250 hours, the gasoline used would total 100,000 pounds in weight, the number of magneto sparks would be 684,000,000, and the distance the pistons of the engine would travel would be 160,200 miles, he said.

Thousands lined the banks of the river to witness the start. On arriving at the landing stage, Sir Alan and Lady Cobham were besieged by photographers.

At 1:35 p. m., with a terrific roar, the plane began cutting across the water and rose gracefully, circled over the town, and set out for London.

Large crowds of Londoners gathered along the river embankment to watch him flying up the Thames. The machine, suddenly appearing through the mist over Westminster, flew low to give the crowds a splendid view.

Distance Flyers Still Missing.

No news has been received at the air ministry of Capt. R. H. McIntosh and Bert Hinkler, the two pilots who left Upavon air field for India Tuesday in the plane Princess Xenia in an effort to break the long distance nonstop flying record, now held by Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine, the American flyers.

They had gasoline enough to last only until 11:30 o'clock today, English time, and it is feared that they have been forced to land where it is impossible to communicate or get supplies.

HUNT MISSING MADISON YOUTH HERE.

The Chicago police were requested yesterday to search for Franklin K. Glasier, 25 years old, who has been missing from his home in Madison, Wis., since March. His relatives learned only recently that he had left his automobile in the Hotel La Salle garage. He has not been heard from since then.

FRANCE WILL PAY U. S. $30,000,000 ON DEBT IN 1928

[Copyright: 1927: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The French government has notified Washington it will pay again during the coming year $30,000,000 towards the liquidation of the French indebtedness to the United States. This sum represents $10,000,000 in addition to the $20,000,000 annual payment due for war stocks.

In an analogous manner, France will pay Great Britain £7,000,000 [$35,000,000] in 1928 as she did in 1927.

It is learned the French government recently asked Washington to give receipts for this money as being paid on account under the terms of the Mellon-Berenger agreement. Washington is said to have replied that this could not be done until France had ratified the agreement.

TROTZKY RUMOR HAS HIM RULER; MAY BE CAPTIVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—In financial circles tonight it is rumored that Leon Trotzky by a coup d'état has seized power in Moscow.

TALK TO TROTZKY

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Leon Trotzky was at his residence in the Kremlin and alive this afternoon. He answered a telephone call from certain diplomatic officials who called regarding dispatches being sent throughout the world from Warsaw, Poland, tonight, saying that the former commissar was shot while trying to flee the Kremlin.

THE TRIBUNE's informant, who obtained the foregoing information from Moscow this afternoon, says, however, that it is apparent that M. Trotzky is a prisoner in the Kremlin. One Moscow report says M. Trotzky officially was arrested. The soviet embassy here refuses to confirm or deny the report.

Reds Slip Into U. S.

Russian communists in ever-increasing numbers are slipping into the United States. Although the majority of the hundreds of visas issued to bolsheviks in Berlin, Riga, and other main centers are for genuine business men, a large number of bolshevik agents whose activties are dangerous to the welfare of the American republic are able to enter American ports.

The American consulate here today explained how the United States government is taking the utmost precautions to prevent terrorist or revolutionary communists from obtaining visas, but owing to America's not having consulates in Russia, where more information regarding the applicants could be obtained, and because American regulations permit communists holding certain papers to obtain visas, officials say it is not possible to keep all the communists out.

Soviet-U. S. Trade Boosted.

Within the last year Russian business with America has increased enormously. Because of this the soviets are seeking hundreds more visas for their representatives, the American consulate explained. According to the soviet law the entire import and export business is in government or communist bands; therefore whenever the state department grants so-called Russian business men visas it is granting bolshevik officials visas.

The consulate says communists frequently apply to Berlin and Riga at the same time, and when their papers are not in order or they are otherwise refused visas they go by airplane to the next consulate to try their luck. The consulates exchange information daily, but officials say that as long as America permits the Russian communists to enter when armed with commercial documents it is impossible to exclude all the dangerous ones.

FINDS JUVENILE VICE CONDITIONS WORST IN YEARS

"Vice conditions that contribute to the delinquency of juveniles are worse in Chicago today than they have been since 1922 at the time of the investigation by the American Social Hygiene association," Miss Jessie Binford declared yesterday at the Chicago Juvenile Protective association, 816 South Halsted street, of which she is an official. She made her statement in answer to Chief of Police Hughes' assertion that "Chicago's morals were never better than they are today."

"Gambling and the liquor and vice problems which confront us today have become noticeably worse since last June," said Miss Binford.

Quoting examples of juveniles reported to the protective association for delinquency, Miss Binford said: "There are approximately 1,600 soft drink parlors and beer flats in Chicago. At most of these young boys and girls can purchase liquor. The real problem is the home where liquor is made and sold. It is demoralizing for the children brought up in that environment."

"Commercialization of vice is so ruthless," said Miss Binford. "To flourish each place must have all the worst elements of vice. As long as they exist the young boy and girl is in danger."

MASS COLORS OF 33D DIVISION FOR REUNION

Colors in all the units of the 33d division, just as they were at the final overseas review of the division at Ettelbruck, Luxembourg, in 1919, will be massed tomorrow in the Hotel La Salle, where the division will hold its reunion.

The business meetings in connection with the get together of the veterans will begin at 9 a. m. Officers for the coming year will be elected. At 7 p. m. there will be a banquet and entertainment. Reservations can be made today at 1922 West Lake street or can be obtained at the hotel tomorrow morning.

N. W. SIDE PLANS MASSMEETING TO DEMAND TRANSIT

Northwest side residents, aroused by the lack of transportation facilities in their section of the city, will hold a protest massmeeting next Sunday afternoon at Central and Diversey avenues to demand relief from the transit companies, the Illinois commerce commission, and the city administration.

Resolutions will be adopted asking Mayor Thompson to refuse extension of the surface lines' franchise Dec. 1 unless extensions are made on Diversey, Belmont, Fullerton, Austin, Irving Park and other northwest side avenues. The resolutions will also demand affirmative action by the commerce commission for feeder bus lines.

There are 35,000 people in this district without transportation, according to the promoters of the massmeeting.

Ten thousand circulars, advertising the meeting, were distributed yesterday.

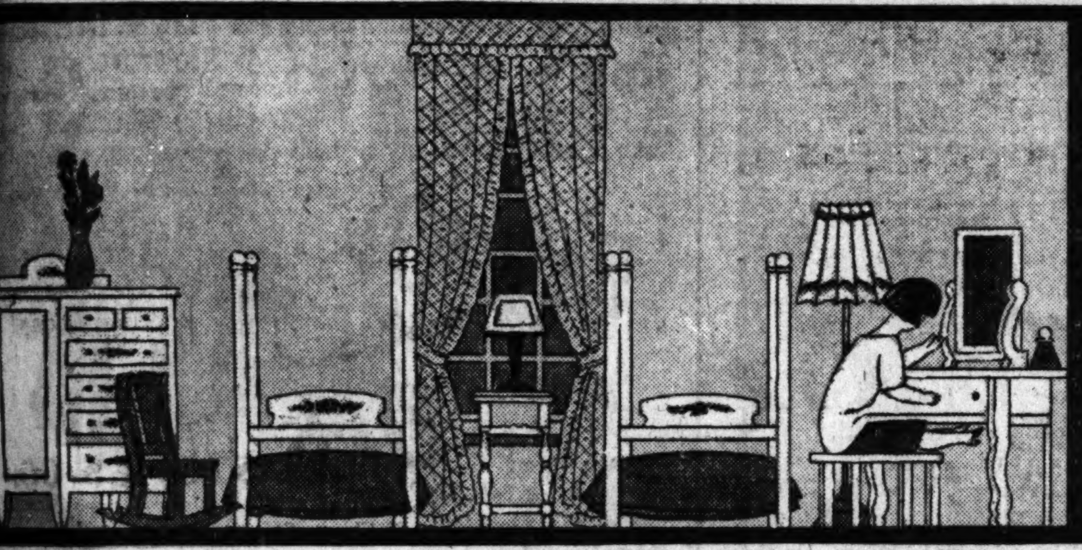
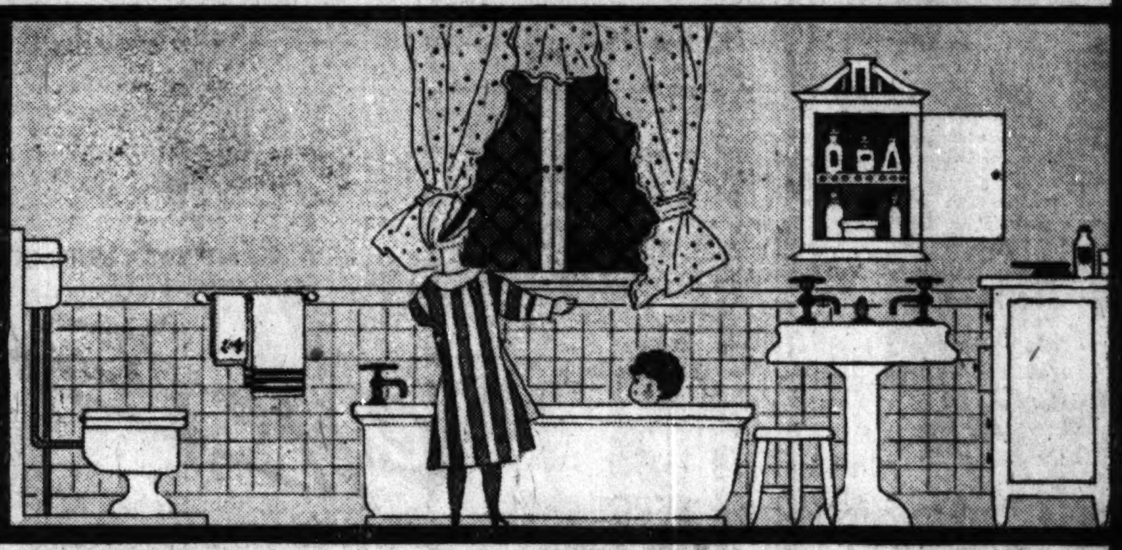
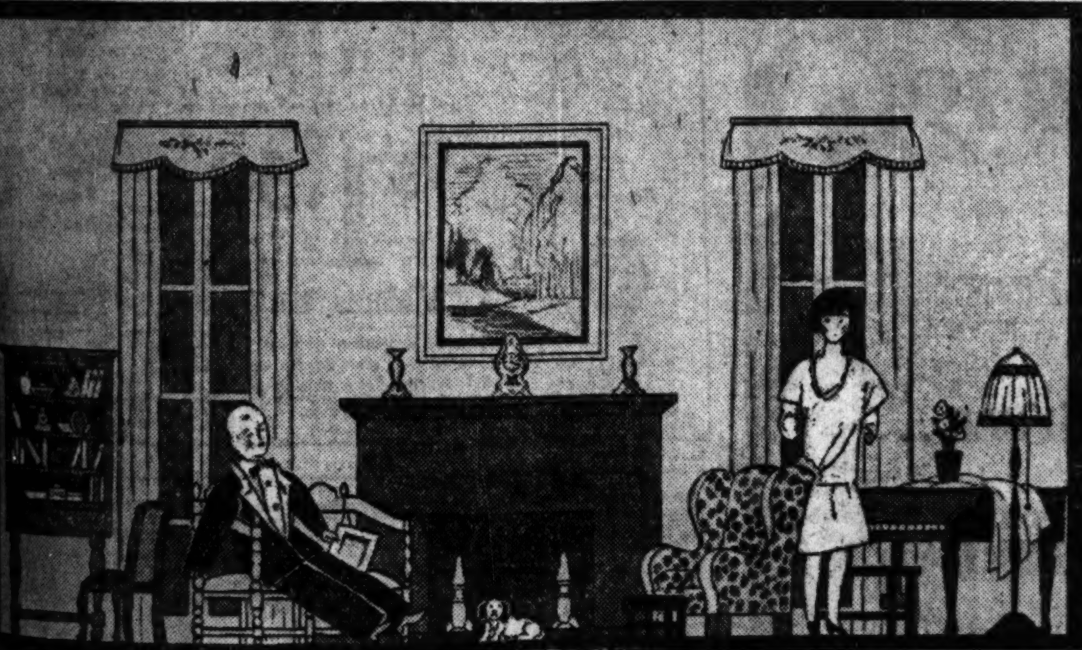
INTERIOR DECORATORS TO DOLLS



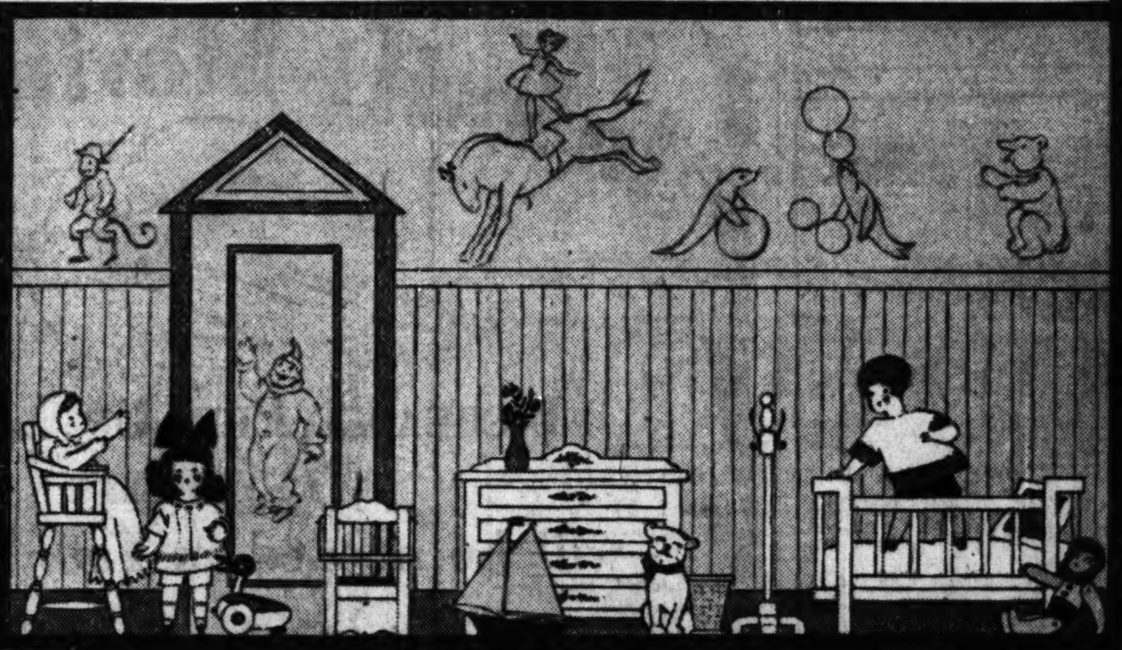
Mother's and Father's room, with two tiny four posters, decorated in pink, hand-tufted pink homespun spreads to match, a chiffonier with drawers that pull out, a dressing table with swinging mirror, a real little hooked rug in pink and green and a standing reading lamp with a smart pleated silver shade, "style moderne."



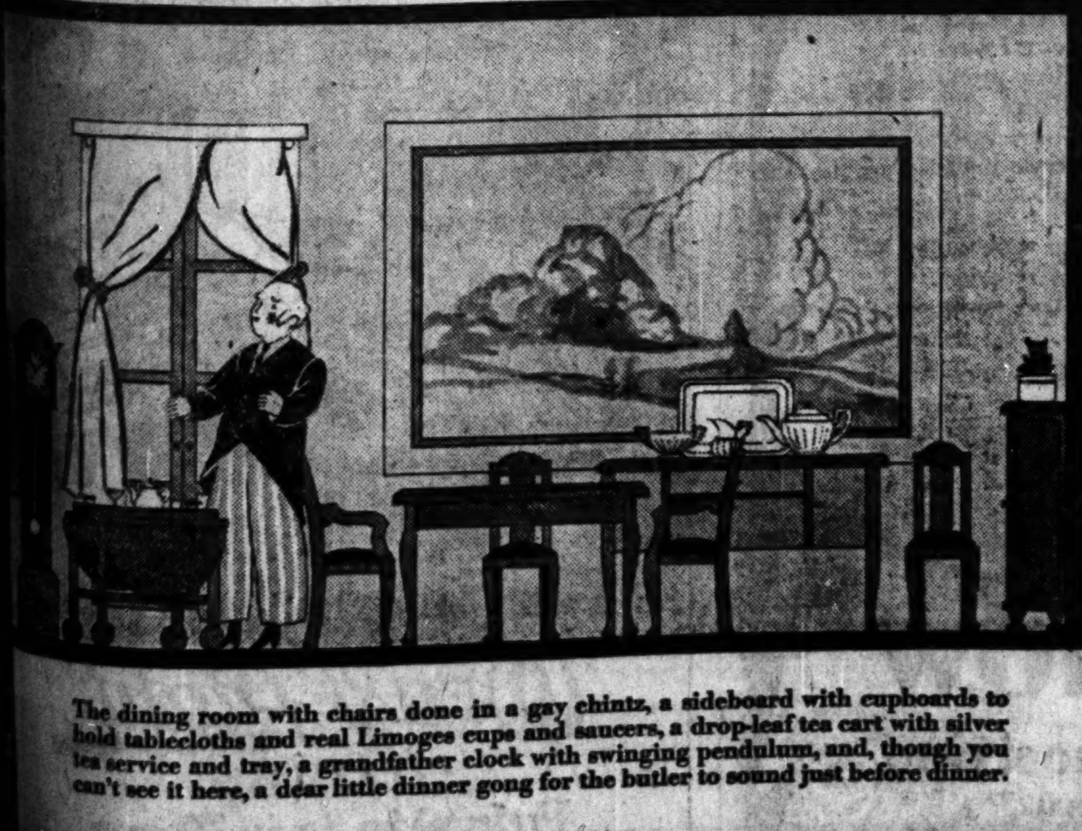
A perfect little bath room, all complete with modern white fixtures, a tub for Baby to splash in with faucets that actually turn, a towel rack for the tiny bath towels and a medicine chest that contains bottles marked "PILLS" and "SPIRITS," two little packages of cotton and an ominous table spoon, destined, we fear, for doll castor oil.



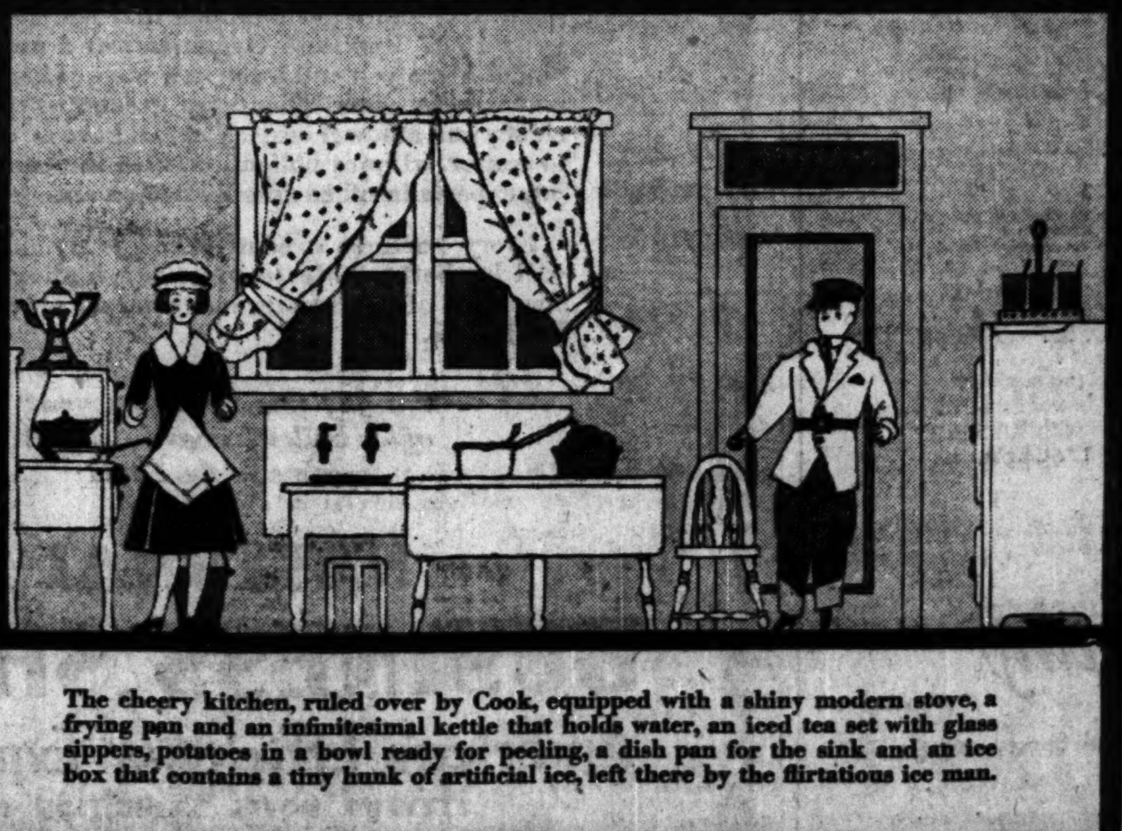
The handsome living room with a comfortable settee upholstered in blue velvet and puffy pillows of glazed chintz, a Colonial wing chair set close to the fire, a pug dog snoozing before the logs, a piano, covered by a gay piano scarf, for Mother who has musical tastes and a book case filled with tiny books for Father who is a literary man.



The nursery, a bower of ivory furniture painted in blue forget-me-nots, with a crib that has hand-knitted blue blankets and snow-white sheets and pillow slips, a high baby chair with a movable bar to hold Baby in, a costumer with hooks for the clothes, a chiffonier with a baby blue bureau scarf and a wee New England rag rug.



The dining room with chairs done in a gay chintz, a sideboard with cupboards to hold tablecloths and real Limoges cups and saucers, a drop-leaf tea cart with silver tea service and tray, a grandfather clock with swinging pendulum, and, though you can't see it here, a dear little dinner gong for the butler to sound just before dinner.



The cheery kitchen, ruled over by Cook, equipped with a shiny modern stove, a frying pan and an infinitesimal kettle that holds water, an iced tea set with glass sippers, potatoes in a bowl ready for peeling, a dish pan for the sink and an ice box that contains a tiny hunk of artificial ice, left there by the flirtatious ice man.

MASSMEETING TO DENY PACIFISM AT WISCONSIN U.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—A mass meeting has been called for Monday night at the University of Wisconsin to answer charges of "pacifism" that have recently been made against the Badger school. The meeting had been called particularly to answer the charges made in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, it was announced.

The meeting was called by the Athena Literary society, and its sponsors declared that a resolution will be drafted to show just what the attitude of Wisconsin is towards the R. O. T. C.

Those asked to speak at the meeting are Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman, Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, the Rev. George E. Hunt of Christ Presbyterian church and Jack Kyle, Whitewater.

Col. Barnes Denies Pacifism.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Attacks by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on the University of Wisconsin for R. O. T. C. conditions were declared to be "unjustifiably and unsound misrepresentation" by Lieut. Col. Joseph F. Barnes, Wisconsin R. O. T. C. commandant, in an address before the Kiwanis club here today.

TRIBUNE cartoons and editorials, characterizing the decreased enrollment at Madison as evidence of "pacifism" in the school or state have created the greatest reaction of bitter animosity on the university campus that Col. Barnes has ever seen, he said.

He told the Beloit group he believed a TRIBUNE reporter had misrepresented and misquoted persons he interviewed on the campus.

"I made not a single statement regarding the unit nor any university project and expressed no opinion whatever," the colonel said, in describing a visit of THE TRIBUNE reporter who came to his office wanting "to get the low down" on the Wisconsin R. O. T. C. situation.

The motive of the 1923 legislature in making R. O. T. C. training optional was "unquestionably political," the colonel said, but it is not likely the university board of regents would favor complete abolition of the R. O. T. C. at Madison.

A time conflict in schedules prevents students from taking both physical education and R. O. T. C. work, Barnes said, which is a situation unique at Wisconsin. The courses in military training on a voluntary basis have difficulty competing in student interest with physical education courses, he said, because requirements of the latter are less rigid and the gymnasium classes seem to have a greater appeal for students.

"The only solution in Wisconsin," he declared, "is for fathers to impress upon their sons what they are losing by not enrolling in military training work and for development of knowledge regarding the mission of the R. O. T. C. and the fulfilling of civic and federal responsibilities."

Mine Cavein Buries 31 After Quake in Africa

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Nov. 17.—Following two severe earth tremors at Johannesburg, a cavein at the Crown mine buried four Europeans and twenty-seven natives. Rescue gangs rescued three of the Europeans and eight natives, and still are working to extricate the remainder. Thirty tourists in the mine at the time of the slide reached the surface uninjured.

MACHINE GUNS AWE I. W. W. IN MINERS' STRIKE

Sing and Cheer Instead of Picketing.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Under the threatening barrels of mounted machine guns, hundreds of I. W. W. miners and their sympathizers sang and cheered today in peaceful manifestation against operation of coal mines in Colorado's strike affected mining districts.

Gathering in their daily demonstration near the Columbine mine, about 30 miles north of Denver, the miners fully heeded the warning of operators that the guns would be brought into action if they invaded the property to picket. The Columbine is the only coal mine still operating in northern Colorado.

One machine gun was mounted over a barricade near the tipple of the mine and another was placed at a point of vantage on a truck, commanding all entrances to the property. Colorado National Guardsmen manned one of the guns.

Aviators Not on Duty.

Airplanes of the National Guard, which yesterday flew over the mining area, were not on duty today. An anonymous warning was posted in Lafayette, a nearby town, last night saying the planes would be shot down this morning. Officials, however, said the warning was not responsible for the nonappearance of the planes.

Mines in southern Colorado reported increased working forces. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company mine at Crested Butte in Gunnison county will be indefinitely closed unless the miners return to work soon, officials announced. Only seven men appeared at the mine today. One large mine in Fremont county operated today, but others there were idle.

Injunction Halts Picketing.

Indiana, Pa., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A far reaching temporary injunction against the United Mine Workers has been granted by Judge J. N. Langham of the Indiana County court to the Clearfield Bituminous Coal corporation, it became known today. A hearing in the case was set for Nov. 21.

The injunction restrains the union and its members from interfering with nonunion miners going to and from work at the Rossiter mine, from picketing, parading, loitering, assembling, or congregating around the company's property, from operating or maintaining automobile parades near the mine, and from erecting or maintaining billboards asking nonunion men to stay away from work. The union members also were restrained from congregating about the Magyar Presbyterian church while employés of the company are inside attending services.

Governor Denies Charges.

The Clearfield concern figured prominently in the conference of American Federation of Labor leaders in Pittsburgh this week when mine union leaders named Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania as an official of the company, which was identified as a subsidiary of the New York Central railroad. Gov. Fisher said he resigned from all business connections when he became governor and was not interested financially or otherwise in the Clearfield concern or any other mining company.

MAGRUDER DROPS PLANS TO SPEAK ON NAVAL TOPICS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, whose criticism of the present naval administration as extravagant resulted in his being placed on "waiting orders," today suddenly dropped all plans for further speech making and announced he would not participate in advertised debates on naval questions.

The rear admiral refused to state publicly the reasons for his decision, but his friends said he took the step in order to keep out of the limelight for the present. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur stated Admiral Magruder's action had been taken voluntarily and that no pressure had been brought upon the naval critic to give up his scheduled engagements.

While Admiral Magruder is not talking for publication, he will continue writing for a weekly magazine. An article written by the admiral on submarines appeared today, and according to Secretary Wilbur no objection will be made to its contents.

LEITER LAWYERS, UNABLE TO AGREE, APPEAL TO COURT

Attorneys for the heirs of the late Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant, will go before Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan this morning for an interpretation of his opinion handed down several weeks ago in the controversy over his $30,000,000 estate. The lawyers have been unable to agree, it was learned yesterday, as to what extent the court wants an accounting from Joseph Leiter, son of the merchant, a trustee of his estate, and defendant in the litigation. The principal plaintiff is the defendant's sister, Lady Marguerite Hyde, countess of Suffolk and Berks.

Stop Tri-Chor-Rhex-Is!

(Dry Rot)

If you value good appearance and want beautiful hair!

DOCTORS may have told you that new germs and new diseases march hand in hand with civilization. Changing modes require new precautions. Just so, the new-day emphasis of hair brings a host of new-day problems.

The heat of permanent waving or of the curling iron bakes out natural oils of the hair. Roots are starved and growth is stunted. In the quest for a smart coiffure, greases, waxes, gums, quince or flax seed often are used for dressing. They clog the follicles, choke the roots, cover the scalp with a dangerous coating. Healthy hair-life ceases ... Tri-chor-rhex-is (dry rot) begins ... dandruff forms and the hair loses every trace of beauty.

Flakes first flash the danger signal. Heed it ... meet the new condition in a very simple way. Use a modern product, one that is infinitely more than its name implies. When you comb your hair or dress it, spray on Marcelle Brilliantine. Greaseless ... absolutely pure ... it is more than a brilliantine. Its rare oils penetrate the hair follicles and feed them. The scalp becomes soft and healthy. Tri-chor-rhex-is (dry rot) can not make or keep a foothold. Beautiful hair is sure to follow.

Marcelle Brilliantine comes to you in an original atomizer-top package. And refills can be purchased to use again and again with this atomizer-top—or pour the contents of a refill bottle into your own atomizer.

PARENTS TO AID SPOTTER SLAYER OF BEER SELLER

South Beloit Murder Stirs Denunciation of Law.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—"Johnny" Beyer, liquor "spotter," facing a murder charge as a result of shooting William Petroff in a single handed raid on his victim's resort in South Beloit, welcomed his parents when they came to his defense today.

The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Beyer of Janesville, Wis., grief stricken over the outcome of their son's career as a liquor investigator, visited him at the county jail. They announced their intention to stand by him and retained Attorney B. J. Knight to represent him.

The preliminary hearing will be held before Justice F. V. Rohlen early next week.

Killing Stirs Indignation.

Meanwhile the practice of hiring spotters on a commission basis has led to lively discussion here and in South Beloit since the shooting. Beyer was working under the system provided by ordinance of getting part of the fines of the men he gathered evidence against. He received $40 of the $200 fine paid by John Ray, bartender for Petroff.

Bitterly denouncing the spotter system, Leroy M. Green, state representative from the 10th district, said:

"Prohibition has claimed another victim. The already long list of prohibition murders has added another to its grewsome total—this time a resident of Winnebago county, a man who served his country, a member of the American Legion, one of the service men who were disfranchised while an unpatriotic gang of clerical politicians remained at home and put over the eighteenth amendment.

"Impersonating" an Officer.

"The spotter who did the killing was not an officer and was, in fact, impersonating an offcer," Mr. Green said. "He left his victim to wallow in his own blood while he rushed back to the town hall to secure his pay, a percentage of the fine levied.

"Do not the people see what a terrible condition it is when an unauthorized person may act as a spotter on his neighbor and receive as a reward his portion of the fine? If this condition is right where the prohibition law is concerned, then it should be the same as regards a violation of the income tax law, the inheritance law, and every other law and ordinance."

DENY EARLY TRIAL TO MEN HELD AS SLAYERS OF DRYS

Miami, Fla., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Horace Alderman and Robert Weech, alleged liquor smugglers, charged with the murder of two coast guardsmen and a secret service agent, have lost their plea for an early trial.

Federal Judge Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, who has been assigned to hear the case, refused to set a trial date for the two men, who have been held in jail three months. The alleged murder occurred Aug. 7.

The trial was to have started this week, but a continuance was granted the district attorney who said he had been unable to locate an important witness.

Judge Clayton also refused to grant the prisoners bail and they were sent back to jail in Jacksonville.

Defense attorneys had also asked that if their motions were not granted that the prisoners be confined in jail in Miami, pointing out that it was necessary for counsel to make frequent trips to Jacksonville to see them.

Rivers, Swollen by Rains, Threaten New Quebec Flood

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

QUEBEC, Que., Nov. 17.—A constant downpour of rain for the past thirty-six hours threatened today to result in another flood of eastern Quebec and New Brunswick worse than that which two weeks ago washed out bridges and flooded hundreds of miles of highways. All the rivers, already high, were rising steadily tonight as the rain continued to pour into them. Telegraph communication is cut off.

BRITISH HOLD UP TRIAL TO SNARE U. S. COAST GUARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NASSAU, Bahama Islands, Nov. 17.—The trial of C. H. "Pop" Nesle, former Florida prohibition agent, on a charge of piracy in British waters was adjourned by Chief Justice Sir Kenneth Beatty today until Jan. 18. The reason for the adjournment is that the British authorities seek to extradite Larry Christensen, member of the United States coast guard, so that he may be tried along with Nesle in connection with the same case. The Bahaman authorities already have begun extradition proceedings to bring Christensen here to stand trial on charges of larceny and kidnaping.

Attorney General H. C. F. Cox said it was necessary that Boatswain Christensen be tried with Nesle.

Christensen commanded the coast guard patrol boat, on which Nesle was a passenger, which is said to have seized the liquor laden boat of B. C. Backus of Miami, Fla., in British waters, near Piquet Rock. Liquor alleged to have been taken from Backus' cargo was found later at Nesle's home on a small island.

JUDGE CHARGES FIXING DISRUPTS TRAFFIC COURT

$600,000 in Fines Will Be Lost to City, He Says

So many police tickets are being "fixed" every day through political pull that judges of the municipal traffic court are dismayed by their helplessness, Chief Justice Harry Olson told the city council's committee on traffic yesterday.

"Half the people who are arrested, rather than pay a $1 or $2 fine, hunt up five judges and a dozen aldermen to help them out of it," he asserted, "and the sad part is that they often do get out of it.

"One day last week the clerk of the court showed me $205 worth of slips withdrawn that day. At this rate the city is losing $600,000 a year and the traffic violations go merrily on."

Aldermen Titter at Charge.

A titter ran around the committee table, then a hearty laugh. Somebody suggested that a check up be made to see how many aldermen had fixed slips for their friends but nobody pressed the proposal. After several moments of embarrassing silence, the chairman asked if anybody wished to ask any questions but receiving no response, thanked the judge, and the committee hurriedly resumed other business.

Capt. Frank Matchett of the police traffic division started the "fixing" discussion when he cited an Association of Commerce report that there are twice as many traffic case dismissals now as last year. The "skirts of the police are clear," he said. "They have issued two or three times as many slips but they disappointed somewhere."

"Where did they go?" asked Ald. John Massen [48th]. Capt. Matchett said he didn't know.

Judge Asked to Explain.

"Call Judge Olson," Chairman T. J. Bowler [41st] told his secretary. When the judge arrived he was asked to explain the missing slips.

"Nothing mysterious about it," Judge Olson replied. "The city prosecutor comes into court every day with a long list of cases he wants nolle prossed. A defendant sees the fellow ahead turned loose, although he committed the same offense as himself, so the next time he tries to have his slip fixed, too."

Some of the judges, Chief Justice Olson admitted, are not immune from the fear of political influence. In a recent case, he said, a defendant paid $100 to a bond runner who persuaded a judge to withold a $100 fine and release the man on probation. Judge Olson, hearing about it, told the judge to send the man to the Bridewell.

One of the Sh! Cases.

"Sh! Don't you know who this man is?" the judge asked him. "He's a Republican committeeman."

Another leak, Judge Olson said, is the failure of policemen to serve warrants. A motorist often gives a fictitious name, he said, doesn't appear in court, and that ends the matter. In other cases, he merely greases the palm of the policeman who throws the warrant away, the judge asserted.

Judge Olson announced that he had discussed the "fixing" evil with Corporation Counsel Ettelson who had promised to aid in putting a stop to it. He said he hoped Mr. Ettelson's action would bring some results, but doubted if the practice could be totally abolished until public officials and politicians cease taking care of their friends.

Automobile Driver Freed of Manslaughter Charge

George Birks of Mount Pulaski, Ill., was acquitted yesterday by a jury before Judge Harry A. Lewis on a charge of manslaughter growing out of an accident April 16 in which his automobile struck and ftally injured Harry Coy, superintendent of delivery for a Chicago newspaper. The defendant testified he did not see Mr. Coy due to a heavy rain until too late to avoid striking him.

A Message to Underweight Men and Women

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

They build flesh where flesh is needed—sunken cheeks, neck and chest—and many a man and woman, skinny and scrawny, have thanked McCoy's after a few weeks' treatment for the decided improvement in looks and figure.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing — one exceedingly thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days. McCoy takes all the risk—Read this financial guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America, such as Economical Drug Co. or

CITIZENS' GROUP AGREES ON 1928 ROAD BUILDING

Recommends 150 Mile Plan to County.

Final agreement as to the definite highway projects, totaling 150 miles, to be built by Cook county in 1928 was reached yesterday by the citizens' advisory committee to the county board, appointed by President A. J. Cermak early in September.

The program is in the form of a recommendation to the board. It includes the conclusions of the three divisions of the advisory committee representing three geographical divisions of the county. The coördinated report was passed into the hands of the county highway department yesterday afternoon and will come before the board next Monday.

At the time the committee was appointed, with Harry T. Branstetter as chairman, it was the understanding of the committee and the county board that the recommendations of the committee would be accepted as a definite and official program for the initial work contemplated under the $15,000,000 bond issue plan, which was approved a year ago this month.

Calls for 61 Miles.

Under the terms of the committee report, Cook county, at the end of 1928, will have completed sixty-one and a half miles of 40 foot country highway. Twenty-two miles of this will be new construction of 40 foot width and thirty-nine and a half miles will be 40 foot highway widened from the existing 20 foot roads.

Besides the 40 foot mileage of county construction, two state projects of 40 foot width, under construction this summer and fall, will add about ten more miles of 40 foot roadway within the county limits. This promises a total of approximately seventy miles of four lane highway within Cook county.

The roads recommended for widening are:

NORTH—Waukegan road, Dempster street, Touhy avenue, and Des Plaines river road. WEST—Des Plaines river road and Irving Park boulevard. SOUTH—95th street, Dixie highway, and Halsted street.

The new 40 foot work includes:

NORTH—West Railroad avenue, Asbury avenue, Devon avenue, and Harlem avenue. WEST—Harlem avenue and First avenue, Maywood. SOUTH—Southwest highway.

Plan Connecting Projects.

The total of 20 foot road recommended is 89.2 miles. In addition a schedule of 27 miles of pavement of various widths is specified for connecting projects with the city of Chicago, within or bordering upon the limits. The report also shows that 97.2 miles of pavement, provided for in the county bond issue original program, have either been completed or are now under contract.

COUNCIL GROUP VOTES TO BAN LOOP PARKING

If the city council adopts a recommendation made yesterday by its traffic committee, automobile parking in the loop will be prohibited by ordinance after Jan. 2. Action by the council is expected at its next meeting on Nov. 23.

As originally drafted by the committee, the ordinance provided for a sixty-day experiment with the parking ban beginning Nov. 15. The date was set forward at the behest of Chairman Thomas J. Bowler [41st], who expressed fear that a slump in holiday business might be blamed on the ordinance, killing it permanently.

Despite repeated debates on the merits of the ordinance, its reappearance in the committee occasioned another heated argument, Ald. A. K. Mose [50th] and Stanley Adamkewicz [31st] opposing its passage at any time.

A majority of the committee agreed with Ald. Bowler and approved the ordinance, as amended, with Ald. Adamkewicz voting no.

From hundreds of different coffees... a few were chosen and mingled

"Good to the last drop"

A SPECIAL shade of mellow richness which no single coffee grown could yield! This was what Joel Cheek set out to create years ago in the old South.

What uncounted natural flavors he had to choose from! Syrupy, rich coffee from the East Indies, winy "acid" coffee from Arabia—hundreds of different kinds and grades of coffee from the tropical fields of four continents.

Down in that land of good living—in old Tennessee; Joel Cheek worked long months combining and recombining, testing and rejecting. In the full-bodied goodness of the blend which he created is the very genius of the man himself.

Today that touch of extra richness in his blend has won it such fame as never before came to a coffee.

The news of that mellow shade of difference in Maxwell House Coffee has travelled swiftly from the South through the entire United States. It is now by far the largest selling coffee in the country.

An adventure awaits you in your first taste of the smooth, rich liquor of this blend. Maxwell House will give you a new idea of how good a cup of coffee can really be.

Brush head adjustable to fit every tooth surface AND THE CREVICES BETWEEN. "Refill" brush only 25c each.

How can you keep your breath sweet without keeping your teeth 'surgically clean'?

If bad breath were merely offensive that would be serious enough. But the same things which cause disagreeable breath also cause diseased teeth and then dangerous illness.

Mouth washes are sufficient for a momentary correction but the real cause is not reached until you KEEP your teeth surgically clean.

That means the backs as well as the fronts; foreign matter completely swept from between the teeth; all poisons pressed clean from the gum-pockets.

This requires correct regular brushing and nothing else you can do at home will accomplish it.

The Clean-Be-Tween is the only brush made adjustable for up and down brushing to reach all surfaces and all pockets where waste-matter collects.

CLEAN-BE-TWEEN

Use the Clean-Be-Tween a few days and you will find your teeth in better condition than they ever were (except the first few days after the dentist cleaned them).

While the Clean-Be-Tween with its handsome handle of nickel, monel metal and Bakelite costs a bit more than a "toothbrush," new brush heads for refill cost only 25c each. So your cost of toothbrushing is less with Clean-Be-Tween.

JURY REOPENS 'BLACK BOXES' IN INDIANA INQUIRY

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—The Marion county grand jury today resumed its investigation of alleged wholesale political corruption in Indiana. The grand jury's activity began again despite the announcement last week by two special deputy prosecutors that there was little left on which to base further investigation because of incomplete evidence or application of the Indiana statute of limitations. The grand jury is continuing with the aid of the regular prosecutors. It was announced that the 1928 grand jury will be asked to continue the investigation if the present jury's work is not completed when it adjourns in December.

Among witnesses called today by the grand jury was Earl Garrett, market master under John Duvall, ex-mayor, who recently resigned after being found guilty of accepting a bribe.

It is believed that the resumption of activity on the part of the grand jury may have been stimulated in part by the recent suggestion of United States Senator Arthur Robinson that the contents of D. C. Stephenson's "little black boxes" be made public. Robinson's suggestion was made after he admitted that Stephenson had presented Mrs. Robinson with a string of pearls as a Christmas present in 1924. Robinson said that the gift was only one of a great number of presents given to his friends that Christmas by the klan dragon, then Hoosier political czar.

Rucker Absolves Clarke.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Alvah J. Rucker, former Indianapolis corporation counsel, in a retraction filed in federal court today, exonerated Harley L. Clarke, Chicago utility operator, of a charge that he was a contributor to an alleged $19,000 campaign contribution to Gov. Jackson in 1924.

The libel suit, which Clarke instituted in federal court against Rucker, seeking damages of $250,000, was dismissed following Rucker's retraction.

Absent Minded Man Orders Lunch, but He Can't Eat

Miss Josephine Kohli, in charge of the lost and found department at the Hotel Sherman, was approached yesterday by a stout man who made a request in a halting, mumbling voice. Miss Kohli nodded, reached into her collection of mislaid miscellany, and drew out a set of false teeth. The stout man fitted them in and smiled.

"Isn't it funny?" he asked. "I forgot those teeth early this morning and I didn't miss them until I started to eat lunch."

WOMAN TAKES POISON AFTER QUARREL

Mrs. Emma Kronn, 33 years old, 933 Sheridan road, swallowed poison last night at her home. At the American hospital it was said she probably would recover. Mrs. Kronn said she had been quarreling with her husband.

ACCUSED HEAD IN WINE THEFT PLOT IS SEIZED

George Steiner of 4928 North St. Louis avenue was arrested by prohibition agents last night as the master plotter under whose direction eighty barrels of wine were stolen from the Midland warehouse at 1524 South Western avenue on Monday.

Mrs. Helen E. Rieger, agent for the California concern that owned the wine, which was of the sacramental variety, and one of her salesmen, Otis E. Dunn, confessed that they aided in the plot. They named Steiner as the principal, declaring they were turning against him because they had failed to receive $5,000 promised for their share in the theft. Mrs. Rieger at first said she was forced at the point of robbers' revolvers to order her employés to permit the removal of the wine, but weakened after Dunn confessed.

F. D. Silloway, chief prohibition investigator, announced that Steiner, who is head of the Steiner Scrap Metal company at Roosevelt road and Washtenaw avenue, would be arraigned before a United States commissioner today. Steiner was taken into custody several years ago in connection with a widespread sacramental wine scandal.

U. S. ENVOY SAYS ARICA SITUATION WORSE THAN EVER

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Nov. 17.—Miles Poindexter, American ambassador to Peru, who passed through here today en route to his post, said that the Tacna-Arica situation is worse today than before the Coolidge award, the feeling between Chile and Peru is more bitter than it has been since the war and a settlement is further away than ever. It is said Chile is feeling out the chancellories preparatory to announcing completing annexation of the territory.

MANSLAUGHTER SENTENCE GIVEN EX-INDIAN CHIEF

Antlers, Okla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Written law of the white man prevailed today over the old code of the Indian when Maj. Victor M. Locke Jr., 51, former chieftain of the Choctaws, was sentenced to ten years in prison for killing Abner Battiest, a young tribesman.

A jury in Pushmataha County court found him guilty of manslaughter, deciding he was not temporarily insane when he shot Battiest. Tribesmen had called upon Locke to uphold an Indian chief's pledge to protect womanhood, accusing Battiest with mistreatment of tribal girls. On the witness stand Locke said he failed to remember the shooting.

Defense witnesses, some of whom could speak only their native Choctaw tongue, testified that Locke and Battiest had quarreled over the young tribesman's advances to girls in the tribe.

FOUR WILDCATS SING SWAN SONG IN IOWA BATTLE

Purple Back Field to Be at Full Strength.

All plans having been made to win a football game as a birthday present for Coach Dick Hanley tomorrow, Northwestern's interest in preparation for the season's closing game against Iowa yesterday turned to regrets about the passing of four of the Purple's stars.

WALDO FISHER.

The four Wildcats who, in a mixed manner of speaking, will sing their swan songs are Capt. Vic Gustafson, Tiny Lewis, Waldo Fisher, and R. Schuler. all are veterans of the glorious era when the liniment bottle was less familiar than touchdowns in the lives of Evanston warriors. All have fought valiantly throughout this sad season to throw off aches and pains and such to restore former prestige, but each almost constantly has been beset.

Purple Holds Spirited Drill.

At Evanston it is felt, in a great burst of sympathy, that the scheduled three rousing cheers for each of the retiring heroes will be much more rousing if shouted in the midst of much dashing across the Hawkeye goal line. So, in accordance with this idea, snow flurries which swept the practice field late yesterday afternoon went unheeded and the most spirited drill in five weeks was held.

Indications after the scrimmage were that Coach Hanley would be able to muster his full backfield strength for the first time since the Ohio victory early in the season. Capt. Gustafson, Lewis, Walt Holmer, and Yatz Levison will be ready to start tomorrow, it was announced.

Two Regulars Are Out.

Only two regulars, Kit Karsten, tackle, and Henry Anderson, guard, will be kept out of tomorrow's game on account of injuries. Under these circumstances the probable opening lineup will be:

The Iowa squad, composed of 35 athletes, will arrive at Evanston this morning. The final practice at Iowa City before the team entrained last night was nothing heavier than a brief dummy scrimmage. This afternoon the outfit will go through a limbering drill on the Purple practice field.

It was announced that the Iowa probable starting lineup will be as follows:

JACK THREATENS A COUNTER SUIT AGAINST KEARNS

Newark, N. J., Nov. 17.—(AP)—In the event that Jack Kearns wins a verdict over Jack Dempsey in the former's suit for $333,333.33 charging breach of contract, Dempsey will counter with a suit for a half million dollars, Richard J. Mackey of the former heavyweight champion's counsel said today.

Mackey declared that sum represented money which was due Dempsey and which he never had received from the Bill Brennan fight in Madison Square Garden in 1920 and the Tom Gibbons fight in Shelby, Mont., in 1923.

Dempsey's counsel indicated that these claims would be disregarded unless the jury found that the contract under which Kearns is suing is valid. Reports that a settlement had been offered were denied by both sides.

The trial was postponed until Monday today, as Arthur F. Driscoll, chief counsel for Dempsey, is ill.

MAKING PREP HISTORY

When Proviso Charges, Foes Take Out Time to Count Ribs

BY EDWARD BURNS.

A considerable portion of the populace of Maywood is just plain cuckoo over that gang of kids who are playing football at Proviso high. It has got so strong that Tebby Theibert, coach of this remarble herd of juvenile colossi, is embarrassed. Yesterday he even was worrying about the possibilities of an anti-climax in the windup game with the not so good Morton outfit of Cicero.

"There never was a high school team like this bunch," Tebby said yesterday. "But the town's gone batty over them and my biggest problem now is not to teach football but to keep them from getting inflated domes as a result of the attention they are attracting here and throughout the country."

As most high school football fans know by this time, the secret of the success of the Proviso pachyderms is a bonecrushing technique. There's speed where needed, but the big kick the followers get is in the unusual size of Theibert's protégés.

Tackle Weighs 260 Pounds.

In this connection, here's one for the book: Proviso's right tackle is one Tub Wickenden, aged 16, and a mere tot of 260 pounds, which is more than the total weight of Coach Theibert, Mrs. Theibert, and the two Theibert youngsters, Jack and Dick.

When this observer attended Proviso practice Tub apparently was in a playful mood. He insisted upon romping with Emil Luedtke during lapses in the scrimmage. Emil's just a little fellow compared with Tub. He weighs only 232.

Then there are the two ends, Fritz Fliege and Les Klaphdohr, neither of whom smoke cigarets for fear it would stunt growth. Fritz is 6 feet 4 in his socks and Les is 6 feet 2. Each weighs 170.

Good News for Zuppke.

Another of the big boys of German lineage is Firehorse Schultz of the Illini Schultzes. Young Schultz weighs 170 and is the triple threat man of the team. His punting, which forms an equitable basis of collegiate comparison, has been slightly better in his worst game than Louis Gilbert, Big Ten booting star, has been in his best, statistics show. Zuppke will have him as a sophomore in 1929, according to present plans.

Hank Hardt and Joe Wrobke are other regulars who, listed with the foregoing, indicate a sweeping triumph for Germany. But it's not a sweep, for Irish Murray is quarter back and runs the team; Tom Farney is right guard and Liz Guy, weight 185, is the full back. And then there's Roy Johnson, 170 pound left half back. The alternate backs are a pair of sophomores, Bob McHugh and Will Haas. Haas tips the beam at 180.

In case you haven't been following just why these lads have been attracting so much attention, here's the answer:

Proviso	20	Schurz	0
Proviso	14	Rock Island	0
Proviso	39	Evanston	6
Proviso	32	Waukegan	2
Proviso	51	La Grange	6
Proviso	25	Oak Park	0

All of the foregoing lost their first game to Proviso with the exception of La Grange. Waukegan and La Grange scored their points on the Proviso second team.

BELGIANS CLIMB TO 2D PLACE IN DETROIT RACE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Belgian team of Wynsdau and Vermeerbergen forged into second place tonight in the six day bicycle race here after trailing far down in the list since the start of the race Sunday night. At 11 o'clock tonight only two laps separated them from the leading team of Beckman and Debaets.

Condition of Pfeil, Head of U. S. G. A., Still Critical

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Charles O. Pfeil, recently elected president of the United States Golf association, still is in a critical condition following weeks of illness, his physician said today. He is suffering from septicemia.

FINALS IN GIRLS' HOCKEY TRIALS START TOMORROW

Final rounds of trials for the Chicago girls' teams which will compete in the annual midwest hockey championship tournament in Dyche stadium, Northwestern university, on Nov. 25 and 26, will be held in Lincoln park tomorrow morning starting at 10 o'clock.

A committee, appointed by the Chicago Hockey league, sponsor of the midwest meet, has been working on the Chicago teams for the last month and it is expected that several of the athletes who took part in the city championship finals at Washington park last Saturday will be selected on the Chicago squads.

ZUPPKE STEERS ILLINI ELEVEN INTO OHIO CAMP

Reserve Power Key to Victory, Coach Says.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Maybe because he thinks he can scare Ohio State into a condition bordering on hysteria or because he feels entitled to boast of his plethora of material, Bob Zuppke, the gentleman who schemes in the interests of Illinois grid affairs, is broadcasting.

FRED GRIM.

With his youths under his guidance, Zuppke passed through Chicago last night wanting the world to know that if Ohio whips him Saturday in the only struggle that separates him from a Big Ten title, it (Ohio) will have to whip at least two men for every one of the eleven positions. The process was a howling success against the Maroons last week.

And if pressed he can stretch a point in some of the berths by calling forth a third man to assist in the well laid plan of running Ohio ragged with replacement troops. Unhappily for Ohio, Coach Jack Wilce is not so situated.

How the Plan Works.

Zuppke's scheme operates somewhat as follows: He can start a back field comprised of Walker, Timm, D'Ambrosio and French. This gives him kickers, runners and passers. Or he can elect Mills, Stuart, Humbert and Stuessy. This also gives kickers, runners and passers. This does not include several other backs who would like to get their names into the public prints.

The situation is almost the same in the line. Two sets of wings are available. One of these—Art Wolgast—is a casualty, and this fact causes Mr. Zuppke to grieve, but only outwardly. To take Wolgast's place Bob Hickman, a third string quarter back, has been tutored in the fine points of the extremity post. And to make sure that the supply of quarter backs will be plentiful Ken Fields, a half back, has been primed for that work in the event both French and Stuessy fold up.

The big shot in the Illini, of course, is Capt. Bob Reitsch at center, but even if the team leader melts under the strain of smashing holes in the Ohio line or preventing holes from being smashed in his own, Zuppke will be able to produce at least two other fellows of worth.

Ohio Drills in Snow.

While the Illini were engaged in train riding toward Columbus, the Ohioans were dodging snow flakes in their last hard drill of the year. Despite the inclement weather Coach Wilce gave the squad all the work it could assimilate. Apparently there was a hope that all signs of snow would vanish by Saturday as the Ohioans do not want to be hindered in their forward pass attack, which is about their only chance to outscore the Illini.

The Scarlet and Gray prospects brightened a bit when Fred Grim, the skillful quarter back, reported for practice. One of his legs was given a few fancy twists in Tuesday's drill and there was fear that he might be nothing more than a spectator in the season's closing engagement. It is likely that Wilce will elect Grim, Kriss, Marek, and Rowan for his starting back field. Bell and Alber will be at the ends, Raskowski and Uridil at the tackles, Young and Cox at the guards, and Ullery at center.

Black, Pekin, Ill., Gridder, Named Dartmouth Captain

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 17.—[U. P.]—Richard (Bullet) Black of Pekin, Ill., was elected Dartmouth football captain for 1928 today. Black has been out of the game most of the season because of injuries, but last year had a brilliant record.

Rockne Tells of Notre Dame Player Who Has $5,000,000

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, last night at a banquet in Whiting, Ind., said that his team had a player worth $5,000,000 in his own name.

Rockne, en route to Des Moines, Ia., where Notre Dame plays Drake tomorrow, dropped off at Whiting long enough to make an address at a dinner in honor of the championship baseball team of the Slovak Athletic association.

Confining himself to a brief appeal to high school students to continue their education, Rockne said that money did not affect a man's status in any big midwestern school. As an example he said: "On our football team is a boy worth $5,000,000 playing next to a lad who is getting his education by working his way. Both are making good."

Other athletic notables attending were Ray Schalk, manager of the White Sox; Brick Owens, American league umpire; and Johnny Mostil, White Sox outfielder.

Rockne did not disclose the name of his millionaire athlete, but from Notre Dame it was learned that he must have referred to Fred Miller, regular left tackle and one of the best linesmen on the squad. Miller's home is in Milwaukee, Wis., and his father was a wealthy brewer. Notre Dame officials were unable to estimate how much the football player was worth.

Miller is a junior in the school of arts and letters at Notre Dame. This is his second year on the football team. He weighs 190 pounds. He will start for Notre Dame in the game against Southern California at Soldiers' field Nov. 26.

MILLIONAIRE?

Fred Miller, tackle on the Notre Dame eleven, is believed to be the man to whom Coach Rockne referred when he said last night that he had a player worth $5,000,000 on his team.

Old Doc Time Advances Football to the Big Ten's Five Yard Line

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Big Ten elevens will enter their last games tomorrow with full strength, thereby insuring interesting contests. No excuses will be necessary from the defeated teams, for nothing will be held in reserve.

The games between Illinois and Ohio State and Michigan and Minnesota will attract major interest. The conference championship will hinge upon the outcome of these struggles, as neither Minnesota nor Illinois has been defeated, but their opponents will make gallant efforts to close their seasons with victories over unbeaten elevens.

The Illinois and Ohio State struggle will be decided at Columbus before a mammoth homecoming gathering. Both elevens are in splendid physical condition, and each coach can make numerous replacements without weakening his team. Coach Zuppke has a wealth of material which is improving with every game. D'Ambrosio is a slashing full back who is nearly the equal of Joesting of Minnesota as a line plunger.

D'Ambrosio has been out of Illinois' last two games because he violated a rule forbidding students to use automobiles, but will play most of the Ohio game.

Ohio State will be represented by a formidable outfit which may rise to the occasion and surprise the gridiron world. The Scarlet and Gray is a better aggregation than its record shows, but dissension on the squad, combined with the uncalled for criticism of Coach Dr. Wilce, has had a bad effect on the team's play.

Michigan will throw its full strength against Minnesota. The Wolverine line will be intact and Coach Weiman will be able to start a powerful back field which will be composed of Gilbert, Rich, Miller, Puckelwartz, Fuller, and Whittle. The forward pass combination, Oosterbaan to Gilbert and vice versa, will be called upon many times to net the yardage necessary for touchdowns.

Coach Spears also will be able to present a powerful team. The Gopher line from end to end is strong. This forward wall supports a valiant array of ball carriers who are certain to give Michigan plenty of trouble. The Gopher coach will have Capt. Joesting at full back. He will be flanked by Nydahl and Barnhart while Almquist probably will call the signals from the quarter back berth. Hovde may start at quarter back in which case Almquist would be moved to half back. Aside from these ball carriers, the Gopher coach has Matchan, Pharmer, and Riddell for replacement purposes.

Chicago should place a fairly strong eleven on the field against Wisconsin. Coach Stagg will have Capt. Rouse back in his old position at center and his presence in the game will strengthen the Maroon defense.

Capt. Crofoot will be back in his old position at quarter back for the Badgers. The Cardinal line will be intact and Coach Thistlethwaite will send his strongest ball toters into the first scrimmage. These will include Rose, Smith, Cuisinier, Rebholz, and Kresky. Crofoot is one of the best open field runners in the conference and the one player whom the Maroons must watch at all times.

For the first time since the Ohio State game early in the season, Northwestern will have its full strength in the game on the opening kickoff against Iowa at Evanston.

The Hawkeyes, who sprang a surprise a week ago by defeating Wisconsin, will have a strong eleven at the start of the struggle.

Purdue and Indiana will meet at Bloomington in a game which means as much to the combating elevens as the Big Ten championship. For this reason no player will be spared nor any plays held back. Both coaches will send their strongest elevens on the field for the opening kickoff and this battle should be as keenly fought as any in the country.

Coach Jimmy Phelan will have two splendid half backs in Capt. Wilcox and Welch in his starting lineup. Koransky will be at full back and Wilson at quarter. Phelan has Harmeson, Caraway, Miller and Guthrie in reserve.

Indiana also has a strong team and in Bennett the Hoosiers have a ball carrier who is expected to equal the yardage to be gained by either Wilcox or Welch of Purdue. Aside from this excellent player, Coach Page has Balay, Harrell, Rinehart, Garrison and Faunce. Indiana has a good line which is expected to give the backs the necessary support in their ground gaining efforts.

M'KAY'S GOAL GIVES HAWKS 3 TO 2 VICTORY

Maroons Fall in Last Minute of Play.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 17.—Chicago's Blackhawks handed the Montreal Maroons a 3 to 2 defeat here tonight in Montreal's opening game of the National Hockey league season. Mickey McKay's fine shot in the last 30 seconds of play gave the Chicago team its victory.

MICKEY MAC KAY.

Chicago displayed a fine brand of hockey, playing a wide open attacking game and presenting a strong defense. Chuck Gardiner, the little Chicago goalie, playing his first year in the National league, featured the contest, making several brilliant stops of hard drives by the Montreal forwards. Gardiner stuck to his net like a veteran and Montreal's experienced forward line found him all but unbeatable.

It was the second game of the season for the Blackhawks. Last Tuesday night in Boston they fought the Boston Bruins, one of the strongest teams in the league, to a 1 to 1 tie.

Maroons Even Count.

Chicago had a clear advantage in the first two periods of the match. Several times the Blackhawk forwards charged up the ice and threatened the Montreal goal. In the opening period, Cecil Browne of the Hawks counted the first goal and then in the second session McKay scored his first goal and sent the Hawks two goals ahead with a fine shot.

In the final period the Maroons managed to tie the score after two desperate attacks on the Hawks' goal. Both times Gardiner dashed out and tried to stop the puck but was upset by a Montreal attacker while another Maroon player scored the goal. Stewart scored both of Montreal's goals.

Then with the score tied at 2 goals each, McKay made his great dash up the ice, taking the puck through the entire Maroon team and beating Goalie Benedict with a long, low shot thirty seconds before the gun ended the contest. The lineup:

MONTREAL [2].		CHICAGO [3].
Benedict	Goal	Gardiner
Monro	Defense	Trapp
Dutton	Defense	Wentworth
Stewart	Center	Bodden
Siebert	Wing	Irvin
Phillips	Wing	Fraser

Substitutes: Chicago—Browne, Taylor, Wasnie, Graham, Dennenay, McKay. Montreal—Ward, Cardon, Touhey, Atman, Emms.

GOALS.

First period—Browne, 12:00.
Second period—McKay, 18:12.
Third period—Stewart, :28; Dutton, 10:00; McKay, 19:45.

PENALTIES.

First period—Wasnie.
Second period—Stewart, Emms, Browne, Phillips, Taylor, Dennenay, Graham.
Third period—Trapp, Graham, Emms, McKay, Munro.
Referees—Cooper Smeaton and Alex Romerit.

RANGERS, 3; OTTAWA, 2.

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Swept aside by a masterful exhibition of combination play, the world champion Ottawa Senators lost their second successive National Hockey league game tonight to the New York Rangers, 3 goals to 2. Ottawa penalties proved costly. Clancy and Finnegan scored for the Senators while Frank Boucher scored two goals and Bourgault one for the Rangers.

Reiselt Cuts Hoppe's Lead in Cue Match

Otto Reiselt, world's three cushion billiard champion, speeded up in the seventh 50 point block of his three cushion exhibition match with Willie Hoppe at Mussey's yesterday afternoon while the 18.2 wizard slipped a bit, and though they reversed that in the evening block, Reiselt cut Hoppe's lead considerably. The score at the end of the eight block was 400 to 356 in 413 with Hoppe in front.

Hoppe fell off considerably from his scoring pace of the last couple of days in the afternoon block, scoring fifty points in 85 innings. Meanwhile Reiselt with a series of small runs averaged exactly a point an inning for the 85 innings and gained thirty-five points. The score at the end of the block was 350 to 320 with Hoppe still leading.

At night they almost reversed the scoring speed of the afternoon, Hoppe clipping off fifty points in 49 innings, with the help of a run of eight. Reiselt at the same time was gathering 36 angle caroms and ended the block 44 points in arrears. Two more matches will be played at 3 and 8 o'clock today and the final blocks at the same hours tomorrow.

Armour Cuts Par 3 Strokes to Lead Oregon Open Golf

Portland, Ore., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Tommy Armour, national open golf champion, representing the Congressional Country club of Washington, D. C., finished 18 holes three under par with a 69 in the Oregon open championship tournament here today.

MICHIGAN BUILDS CORRAL FOR THAT THUNDERING HERD

Wolverines Set to Repel Gopher Attack.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—True Minnesota weather, cold and biting, awaits the arrival of the Gopher eleven and its 6,000 followers tomorrow while a Wolverine team today struggled through its last intensive practice session of the year.

HERB JOESTING.

Spurred on by reports which have rated Minnesota as a decided favorite in the battle Saturday and hopeful that Ohio State will prove the stumbling block for Bob Zuppke's Illini in the championship race, today's practice, despite the inclement weather, evidenced a spirit which was an obvious demonstration that Michigan will not be the under dog Saturday.

A versatile attack, developed to the highest point, plus a defense designed especially for Minnesota's juggernaut, are indications that Weiman believes his charges will overpower the highly touted Northmen.

Michigan Braces Defense.

Although Michigan has not shown great defensive strength in its last few games, Joesting and his Thundering Herd probably will not stampede over the Maize and Blue forward wall, for the Wolverines have designed a corral of their own for the special "Brown Jug" ceremonies.

Tomorrow's drill will be confined to a short signal workout in which Coach Weiman of Michigan will work on two types of offensive, one to cope with a defensive backfield formation for passes, and one for an aerial attack against a backfield groomed to stop a running attack. The Wolverines have used both types of offense in Big Ten games and the Gophers will spend a busy afternoon in attempting to determine whether they must stop fleet backs or block a shower of passes from trick formations.

BAND TO HONOR CAPTAINS

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Two all-American captains playing their last games for their respective alma maters will be honored by the University of Minnesota band, numbering 100 pieces.

The band will pay its respect to Capt. Herbert Joesting of Minnesota, unanimous choice for all-American full back last year, and Capt. Benny Oosterbaan of Michigan, also selected as an all-American end in 1926.

In honoring the two captains the Gopher bands will spell out in human formation the name of "H-E-R-B" in honor of Joesting and will then emblazon the huge letters of "B-E-N" in honor of Michigan's great Bennie.

30th Game of Title Chess Tourney Ends in a Draw

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Another draw was recorded in the world's chess championship series tonight. After Alexander Alekhine had made his 41st move, on resumption of the 30th game, José R. Capablanca, Cuba, defended the title, agreed to a draw. The record for the series stands: Alekhine, 4; Capablanca, 3; drawn, 23.

Harvard May Whip Yale, but Horween Sets the Odds at 3-1

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 17.—A varsity football player is forced to acquiesce in a great deal of wall motto psychology and copy book dogma in the course of a season, all contrary to his own intelligent opinion, lest he be considered spiritually irregular and a bad influence.

TAD JONES.

For instance, on one of the corner stones of the University of Pennsylvania athletic structure there is chiseled the phrase, "A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten," which was the fondest bromide of Mr. Mike Murphy, who was a great trainer but only an indifferent philosopher. And if any member of the Pennsylvania team, in a sudden success of intelligence, should get him a pot of red lead and inscribe some sane but nonconformist sentiment as "applesauce" or "horse radish" under this permanent thought wave he would be run off the team as a defeatist and perhaps out of the school as a vandal.

Forced to Say "Yes."

Any one who has ever enjoyed the privacy of a football team's dressing room between halves and heard a coach beller and rant about the old pepper and heard the old trainer with Nick-Wattles and shingle feet go on about how the other team is yellow and ready to quit, though leading by nine touchdowns, will realize what nonsense football players have to say "Yes" to, though they know better.

The ideal that I am backing into is that the Harvard football team, on any intelligent comparison of scores or exhibitions, is due to take what might reasonably be called a pasting from the Yale team in their game at Cambridge, Mass., Saturday afternoon. Harvard is less than two years out from a flat footed start under a coach with no previous experience as a big league coach, whereas Yale's team is the product of years of work by a proven genius in the same line and years of selection and an uncommonly fine run of big, smart, handy athletes with aptitude for the game.

No Monopoly of Saints.

Furthermore, no team has any monopoly on these sainted apparitions, so it is bound to occur to any Harvard man that even if a Mahan or a Buell should appear at his elbow to inspire him to do something of special elegance, a corresponding ghost of a Coy, a Shevlin, or a Mallory will arise on the other side of the scrimmage line to thwart the plan, because Yale can summon haunt for haunt with any team in the country.

Then there is a statistical peculiarity very popular just now that Yale, playing at Cambridge on alternate years, has scored but one touchdown, and that one by a fluke, in twenty years, and this gives rise to a theory that some spiritual force will play a defensive back for Harvard this time and preserve the goal again.

ARNOLD HORWEEN.

Yet the Harvard idea that smites the eye and assaults the intelligence in these last few days before the game at Harvard is a misty notion that when the Harvard team takes the field Saturday afternoon, spotting the Yale team a handicap of about 40 per cent all around, the spirits of Eddie Mahan, Tacks Hardwick, and all the other great Harvard footbal players will leap right out of those gentlemen's carcasses to go prancing up and down the football field, inspiring an inferior football team to deeds beyond its rightful expectations.

A Practical Aspect.

Of course, when the members of the present Harvard team are out on the field doing the best they can, they will have plenty of practical considerations to occupy their minds, and if anybody runs a broken field for 90 yards or toes the ball over the lumber from the 45 yard line, he will do it personally and he will be much too busy to listen to any promptings of any wraiths of any past grand performers, living or dead.

I don't believe Mr. Arnold Horween, the Harvard coach, is a true believer in the efficacy of the blackboard slogan or the stalking spectre, because he seems to be a most practical, reasonable and unsentimental man.

He has been quoted as stating in a wire to one of the New York papers that the rightful odds in the game should be about three to one. When his football team goes out to meet a stronger and generally better Yale team Saturday afternoon the boys will know better than to throw any passes to some one who left school before the war, or wait for some great departed end to take out an oncoming tackler.

And this does not deny Harvard a chance to win the football game, because it often happens that a glum and well-walluped football team will shake together and fight its hardest all at once with terrific unanimity, while the most cherished rival, after a generally successful season, will suddenly shake apart to a corresponding extent and lose the game.

NOTRE DAME AND NAVY ELEVENS TO PLAY IN CHICAGO

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Of the nine teams which were on the Naval academy football schedule this fall, the Navy will meet five again next season, the military academy being the sixth if the game is continued, and will probably meet another of this year's opponents. The games definitely arranged are:

Oct. 13—Notre Dame at Chicago.
Oct. 20—Duke at Annapolis.
Oct. 27—University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.
Nov. 3—West Virginia Wesleyan at Annapolis.
Nov. 10—University of Michigan at Baltimore.

Davis and Elkins, which opened the schedule with the Navy this season, will probably do so next year, while the Navy does not expect to play Drake, which was on the schedule for the second game this season, nor Loyola which it meets Saturday.

Possibilities for the second game next year, the sixth of October, are the University of Virginia, Boston college, and Western Maryland.

HARRIERS RACE TOMORROW FOR BIG TEN TITLE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Three outstanding teams, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Iowa, are favored to battle for Big Ten cross country championship in the conference meet here Saturday.

Wisconsin, by reason of its early dual meet victories in which Zola and Petaji have been repeated winners and the remainder of the squad has performed well, holds a slight edge over the well balanced Illinois squad and the Iowa team led by Hunn, winner last year.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT.

FRIEND HARVE: Say Harve, old pal, as a time-honored friend of Illinois, won't you please put a maxim silencer on the collegiate braying in The Wake, anyway from my Alma Mater. Some of your contributors with Illini leanings will make us unpopular among our friends and rivals, and that's the last thing we want.

Of course, we have a good football eleven. Its record speaks for itself. It's so good it is a surprise even to most of us. We are privileged to think it the best in the Big Ten or even the middle west, if we wish, but we don't need to housetop it.

Also, let me apologize for the "dig" at you by an excitable undergrad editor in the Daily Illini. Why, Harve, you were the toast of that same Daily Illini in 1921, and we of '21 remember. You were the only critic with courage enough to feel that the Illini, who hadn't won a game, had a chance to beat Ohio State, which hadn't lost a game, in that year's final. Your report was the greatest tribute ever paid an Illinois team and the greatest story ever written of an Illinois game. Your thrice iterated "Fighting Illini Beat Ohio State" in your introduction helped establish the nickname, then new, on our gridiron teams.

So Harve, if those from other colleges wish to bray, all right, but soft pedal our brayers although we have more to bray about.

(Editor's note—Thanky, old top. S'all right anyway. We were once an excitable undergrad ourself and we rather like the spirit. What you term the "braying" season is about over for this year anyway.)

Sir: For the last two years, Minnesota has been repeatedly described as possessing a most powerful back field with a fairly good line. Wisconsin did not make one first down through it last year and I think only one this fall. All first downs Iowa made last year and this, you could count on one hand. Michigan made two downs by rushing last year and I predict they will not make many more Saturday. Flanagan of Notre Dame got away once but was stopped or thrown for losses on nearly every succeeding effort. Offensively and defensively, the Gophers have the strongest line in the Big Ten, if not in the country.

C. T. M., Wisconsin '18.

Dear Harve: Please let some Michigan Helper tell us how Gilbert would have plugged the holes in the Michigan line while Oosterbaan threw passes to him. Using Michigan logic, Chicago would not have lost to Michigan if Rouse had not been injured.

Sportsmanship.

Dear Harve: Northwestern, beaten by Purdue, left us in Lafayette with a fine feeling of respect for Tiny Lewis and his sportsmanship in that game. Welch, a pile driving tackler, downed the great Purple full back with such force as to make time out necessary for Lewis. It was one of the hardest tackles ever seen in Ross-Ade stadium.

Talking to Coach Jimmy Phelan in the dressing room afterward, "Pest" asked "Do you know what Lewis said to me after that hard tackle?" Jimmy said no, but he might guess. "You're wrong," replied Welch. "Lewis said, 'That's the way to tackle, young fellow.' That was the finest thing ever said to me by an opponent in a football game."

Camel

One of life's great pleasures is smoking

Camels give you all of the enjoyment of choice tobaccos. Is enjoyment good for you? You just bet it is.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

RING NOTABLES PAY TRIBUTE TO TIGER FLOWERS

Leaves $100,000 to Wife and Child.

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The same ring in which Tiger Flowers made his New York début also was the scene of the last fight in his colorful boxing career, during which the Georgia deacon, former middleweight champion of the world, earned approximately a half million dollars.

This was disclosed today by Walk Miller, first and only manager of the Georgia Negro, before leaving on the Crescent Limited for Atlanta with the body of Flowers, who died last night after undergoing a minor eye operation.

Won Last Fight by K. O.

"The Tiger's first fight here was just like his last," said Miller. "Flowers started against Lee Anderson, a light heavyweight, and knocked him out in the fifth round at the Commonwealth club in Harlem. His last fight was against Leo Gates, a heavyweight, last Saturday, and Flowers won by a knockout in the fourth round in the same arena. They have changed the name from the Commonwealth club to the Olympia, but otherwise it is the same place."

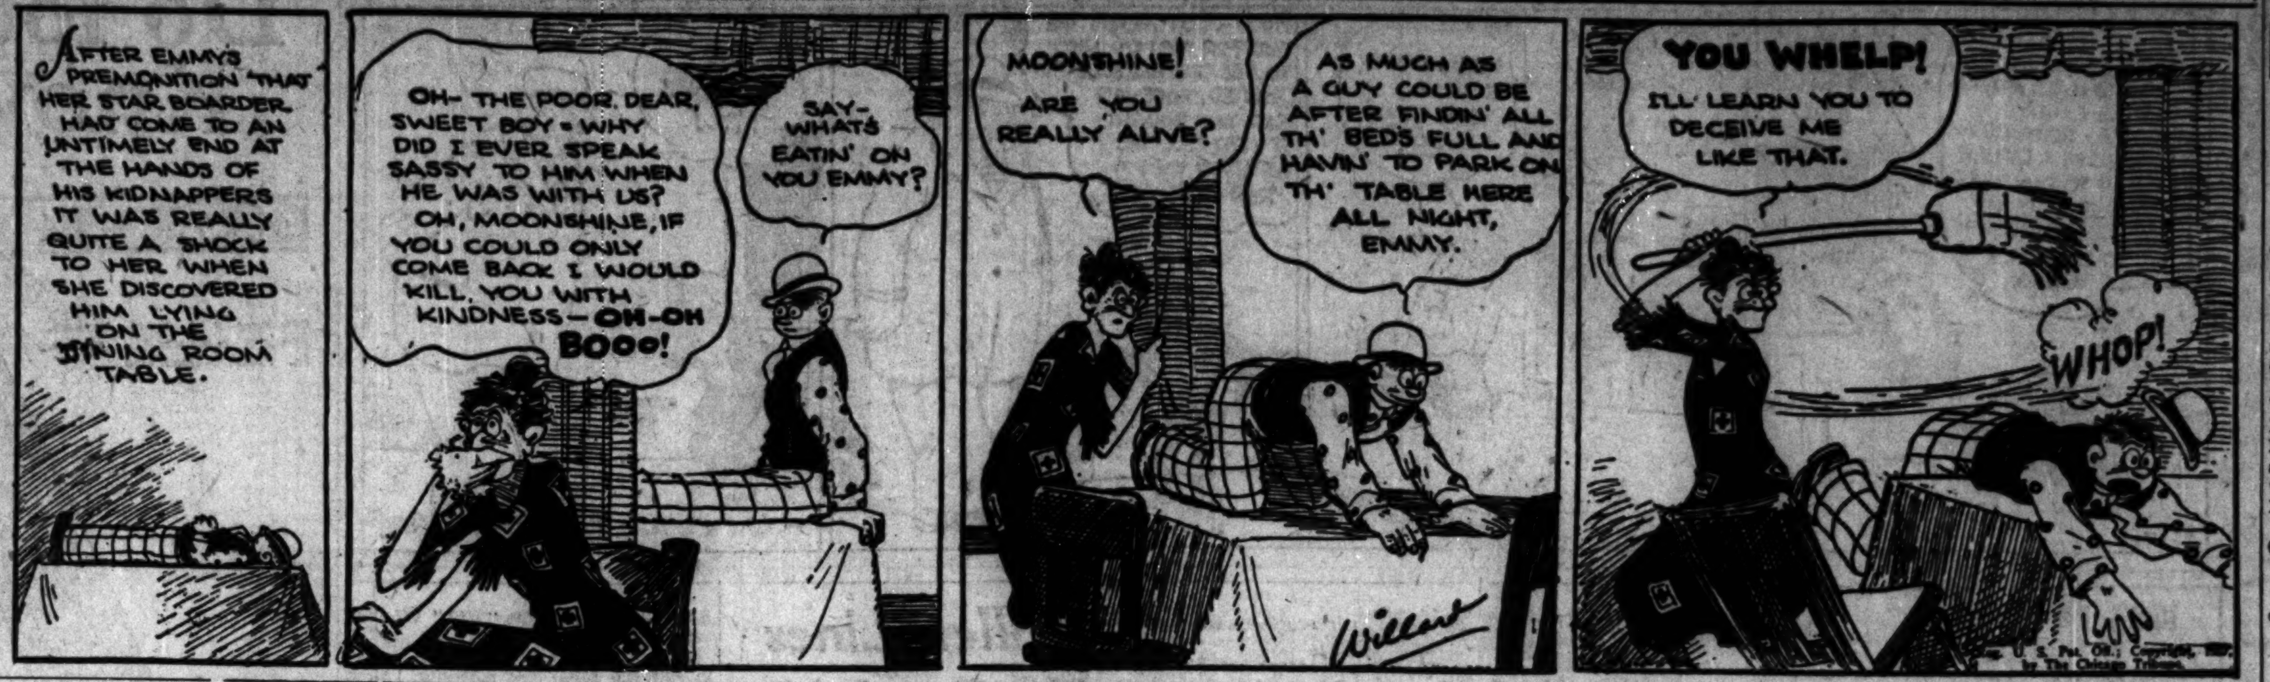
Friends and ring notables, including Gene Tunney and Mickey Walker, the man who took the middleweight title from the Negro last December, paid tribute today to Flowers.

Leaves Property to Wife.

Flowers was the only Negro who held the middleweight championship. He was highly religious and a deacon of the Baptist church in his home town. Before the operation, Flowers made a will bequeathing property valued at $100,000 to his wife and a 6 year old daughter.

The body of the former champion will lie in state at the Flowers home in Atlanta on Saturday. The funeral will be held Sunday.

MOON MULLINS—EMMY DON'T KNOW WHAT SHE DOES IN HER GRIEF



AFTER EMMY'S PREMONITION THAT HER STAR BOARDER HAD COME TO AN UNTIMELY END AT THE HANDS OF HIS KIDNAPPERS IT WAS REALLY QUITE A SHOCK TO HER WHEN SHE DISCOVERED HIM LYING ON THE DINING ROOM TABLE.
OH- THE POOR, DEAR, SWEET BOY - WHY DID I EVER SPEAK SASSY TO HIM WHEN HE WAS WITH US? OH, MOONSHINE, IF YOU COULD ONLY COME BACK I WOULD KILL YOU WITH KINDNESS—OH-OH BOOO!
SAY- WHAT'S EATIN' ON YOU EMMY?
MOONSHINE! ARE YOU REALLY ALIVE?
AS MUCH AS A GUY COULD BE AFTER FINDIN' ALL TH' BEDS FULL AND HAVIN' TO PARK ON TH' TABLE HERE ALL NIGHT, EMMY.

PURDUE REVIEWS PLAYS; READY FOR INDIANA BATTLE

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Purdue's last drill of the season on Stuart field was held tonight. The practice opened with a fundamental session followed by dummy scrimmage in which the Boilermaker offensive was reviewed thoroughly. Phelan's two sets of backs, Wilson, Welch, Wilcox and Koransky and Harmeson, Guthrie, Caraway, and Miller went through their paces with a freezing temperature adding zest to the concluding gridiron work for the Indiana game Saturday.

Indiana was burned in effigy before 6,000 students and townspeople tonight.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Indiana had its last scrimmage of the year in Memorial stadium this afternoon when three varsity and freshmen teams went through a limited tackling workout in preparation for the Purdue game Saturday. Coach Page gave his ends another overhauling, using Weaver and Baker, who are rather light but more experienced than Catterton and McCracken. It also looks as if Todd will get a chance to show what he can do at half back.

Judge Dismisses Suit for $15,000 Against Tunney

Judge Denis J. Normoyle of the Circuit court yesterday dismissed the $15,000 suit that was instituted against James Joseph [Gene] Tunney, heavyweight champion, in September by Thomas M. McHale, Tunney's former social secretary.

Floyd Lanham, Tunney's attorney, appeared before Judge Normoyle with the motion for dismissal, saying that the complainant had failed to file his declaration within the prescribed time.

Catholic Prep Teams Evenly Matched Foes

When Mount Carmel and St. Rita meet tomorrow afternoon at St. Rita field for the championship of the Catholic High school football league, two even matched teams will clash, league records show. Both teams have won six games and are undefeated. Each has scored more than 100 points, indicating that both have versatile back fields, and both are strong defensively.

The only blot on Mount Carmel's record is an early season tie, but since that game the south siders, led by Capt. Brosseau and Borelli, have romped over all opposition. St. Rita has beaten all opponents with ease, with Gallagher playing one of the leading rôles.

St. Rita has amassed 108 points while allowing the opposition 14. Mount Carmel has scored 113 and yielded only 2 points to the opposing teams. Mount Carmel would have blanked its foes except for an intentional safety in the Loyola game.

The league has two more rounds before the season ends, but the winner of tomorrow's game between St. Rita and Mount Carmel will be the undisputed champion. The standing:

St. Rita	6	0	0	108	14
Mount Carmel	6	0	1	113	2

Duck 'Skates' Under Ice; Puzzles Bob

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Upper Illinois River, Nov. 17.—Last year we saw mallards "skate" on top of the ice during a late hunt along the Illinois river, but this morning we sat in a blind and for the first time saw a greenhead try to do his skating under the ice. It was one for the book, and the stunt had us guessing for a while.

When Frank Collins and I joined Bolen at the duck pond shortly before sunrise this morning, we found a thin layer of ice covering the water with the exception of one hole kept open by the flock of mallards that used to pond during the night.

A flock of nine mallards came in. We huddled in our blind, watching this beautiful bunch settle down, and then when Bolen said "Let's go" up we raised and what a circus it was. Bolen made his double and we nailed one bird quite low with our first shot, so three cornfed mallards came crashing down to the ice. Our second shot was at a high climbing drake. This bird was rising like a rocket when we drew on him. One shot and down he came. As he crumpled and started to fall, we turned to Bolen with a happy comment on the way the birds had decoyed.

But, when we looked around we saw three mallards on the ice instead of four. The last bird had crashed through and was not floating. Bolen said, "That's a dead bird. He can't be skating under the ice." Walking out we found that the mallard had broken through the ice, hit the bottom [the water was only five or six inches deep], bounced back at such an angle that it had come up against the ice and there it was held fast.

Small bubbles slide to base of beard

COLGATE'S "small-bubble" lather teems with water, because more bubbles mean more moisture. Furthermore, these midget bubbles seep right down to the beard-base, and douse it thoroughly, ready for the razor. See how by the lather pictures.

ORDINARY LATHER

This lather-picture (greatly magnified) of ordinary shaving cream shows how large, air-filled bubbles fail to get down to the base of the beard, and how they hold air, instead of water, against whiskers.

COLGATE LATHER

How "small-bubble" lather works

The moment Colgate lather forms on your beard, two things happen:

1. The soap in the lather breaks up and floats away the oil film that covers each hair.

2. With the oil film gone, millions of tiny, water-saturated bubbles bring and hold an abundance of water down to the base of the beard, right where the razor does its work.

Because your beard is properly softened at its base, your razor works easily and quickly. Every hair is cut close and clean. And your face remains cool and comfortable throughout the day.

A week's better shaves—Free

Once you try this unique "small-bubble" lather, we believe you will never go back to ordinary shaving methods. Prove this for yourself—at our expense. Just clip the coupon. We will send you a generous trial-size tube—free.

INDIANAPOLIS, IN COMEBACK, WINS LEXINGTON RACE

Mare, Crippled 6 Weeks Ago, Regains Form.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Boots Durnell performed another turf miracle here today when he sent Indianapolis, 4 year old mare, out to win the feature race on this afternoon's program.

Indianapolis beat Bright Shawl easily after a fast drive down the stretch by five lengths. Six weeks ago Indianapolis almost was given up as a hopeless cripple. Durnell took her, patched up her weak legs, brought her around to good condition, and won today's race at 3 to 1 in the betting.

Adamas was the favorite, but he could not get any part of the purse, George De Mar coming with a belated rush down the stretch to take third money.

The track was sloppy and it was snowing and raining most of the afternoon. A heavy fog hung heavily over the track making it next to impossible to distinguish the horses going down the back stretch.

C. Meyers, the youngster who has been riding many winners here this fall, was up on Indianapolis. It rounded out his third victory of the day.

Favorites dropped by the wayside in almost every race. Blue Granite at a little less than 2 to 1 won the third race over the short Futurity course and was the only heavily backed choice to reward his backers. He beat Ruth Gold and the heavily backed Indian.

LONG SHOT WINS AT BOWIE

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 17.—[Speical.]—Cloudland, ridden by Jockey F. Stevens, surprised the large crowd at Bowie this afternoon when he beat the favorite, Watkinson, by less than a lenght in the Capital City handicap. Willie K., also prominent throughout the struggle, got third money. Cloudland made the pace all the way and his price in the mutuel betting was $17.70 for $2. Rain and a cold wind drove the crowd to cover before the sixth race was run and slowed up the track. When Hamadan won the last race the track was in almost complete darkness.

HOMECOMING AT ELGIN.

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Wayland academy, Beaverdam, Wis., and Elgin academy, will clash here Saturday in a homecoming football game. A large delegation of the Chicago alumni of both schools will attend.

Mullen Lines Up Card for Coliseum Show

Promoter James C. Mullen, who will stage the ten round decision contest between Mickey Walker and Paul Berlenbach at the Coliseum one week from tonight, yesterday announced the supporting card.

My Sullivan, the St. Paul welterweight, and Tommy Freeman of Cleveland will be the principals in the ten round semi-windup. Sullivan is a strong favorite with local fans. Freeman is the fighter who stopped the winning streak of Shuffle Callahan of East Chicago two years ago.

Other fights will bring together Mike Mandell and Vic Brog, light heavyweights; Joe Guinan and Louie Lavelle, 133 pounders; Patsy Pollock and Henry Andrews, welterweights, and Billy Light and Eddie "Kid" Whalen, 148 pounders.

Walker and Berlenbach will arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning. Most of the other fighters on the card are getting in shape at local gymnasiums.

Archie Bell, the clever New York bantamweight who meets Vic Burrone of Brooklyn in the windup of Mique Malley's show at White City on Monday night, arrived in the city yesterday. Burrone will be here today.

Eddie Kane, manager of Sammy Mandell, the lightweight king, has two matches pending for his champion. One fight will be held in Boston and the other in Philadelphia. The title will not be involved in either match and Kane said he will announce Sammy's opponents in a couple of days.

Knox Has Hard Scrimmage Drill for Monmouth Game

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—A hard scrimmage was engaged in by the Knox gridders today after two days of light drills. The team is idle Saturday but meets Monmouth here on Thanksgiving day.

SALEN SCULLS CHAMP.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 17.—Sven Salen was awarded a gold medal as the foremost Swedish sculler in 1927, according to the decision of sports experts.

Gives Pep and Power!

It's a tonic—this unique gasoline. Puts new life in an old car. New pep and power. Fill up the tank with Solite and see!

The engine is agile and eager. Quick to start. Away at a touch—smoothly, quietly picking up speed.

A motor fueled with Solite is ready and able to do your will. It has the nimbleness to respond on the instant. It has the power to do what you ask.

Most light gasolines sacrifice power for speed. Not Solite! It drives the piston the full stroke under power. That's why it gives such pep and power and speed! Motorists are glad to pay a few cents more to get it!

HIPPING LAWS AFFECT SMALL BUSINESS MOST

BY HARPER LEECH.

The small business man, not the big low, stands to gain most from a fication of our shipping laws ich would allow the principles of transport to be applied to ships s has been applied to rails. The fellow nearly always stands to more from economies of trans-

The epidemic of full crew bills, ich for a time checked the railroads their efforts to perfect economies, ced burdens on all shippers. But big producers with their industrial s, shipment by carload and train- economies of loading, private lines and what not could absorb her freight rates and yet have less transport cost in their unit of duct when it reached the consumer.

It's the same as to ships. The small facturer seeking foreign markets the service of cheaply operated ships devoted to his interests, of his own nationality, preferably operated with the closest coördi- to terminal facilities and internal ecting transport like the ships of Canadian railroads. The little fel- can't buy ships. But United States Standard Oil, American Sugar Re- the big lumber sulphur, coal, ni- and fruit companies have their own lines, often their own connecting ads, their own terminals, and they branch plants at dock side. They duce marine transport for themselves wholesale and these tremendous econ- make other expenses of ship opera- of less moment to them.

the little business man appears to the worst of it from our restrictive ping laws. He usually gets the hot of laws framed ostensibly for the people—a collective alias for the ician and his pets in most cases.

The threat of federal regulation of ity rates, threats of government in- of the field of power production, y a similar menace to the smaller ialist and merchant.

The smaller industrialist and his em- es are vitally interested in cheap for industrial power—the kind of which the private power producing anies in this country have set up, they have been guided by the rcial instinct in seeking the most ageous load factor. No such rates political control and its vote seek- instinct which plays to the domestic mer.

What does the big industrialist care that? Raise his rates on central ion power and he builds his own plant. Right now in our own Chi- district, the big steel companies ate a large share of their own er, and one of the big problems of future progress is a coördination of r power production with the indus- of the whole district.

What does the giant aluminium inter- care about the regulation of public ity power rates? Already it gener- s its own power wherever it needs it it can move its plants all over the rld to the cheapest water powers it buy or control.

MIDDLE WEST UTILITIES GAINS 2 IN STRONG CHICAGO STOCK MART

Chicago stocks continued strong, but less active yesterday. Middle West Utilities advanced to a new high for the year at 120½ and closed at 120, up 2 points. United Biscuit advanced 2 points, closing at 62½ on reports that stock, callable at 75, may be retired after Jan. 1.

Marvel Carburetor was up a fraction, with extra dividend of 20 cents a share. Other fractional gains were in Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery-Ward, Stewart-Warner, and Yellow Cab. Armour preferred was off ⅛. Initial trading in Monsanto Chemical was registered in fair activity, the opening price being 38¼ and the close, 38.

Warner Gear was quiet. The company reported 9 months net after charges, federal taxes, at $696,534, about triple last year's, and equal to $9.95 a share on 70,000 shares of class "A" stock.

On small sales, gains were: Midland Steel Products, 3½; American Shipbuilding, 3 points; Great Lakes Dredge, 2 points; Illinois Brick, and Thompson, 1½ each, and U. S. Gypsum, All-American Radio, and Central and Southwest Utilities, a point each. Hibbard-Spencer & Bartlett was down 2 points, and Auburn Automobile was 1¼ lower.

Club Aluminum reported October sales of $697,684 compared with $485,926. Four months' sales, $2,475,244 against $1,529,777. Directors of the Cuneo Press, Inc., called for redemption on Dec. 15 the outstanding class "A" stock at 55 and unpaid dividends. A final quarterly disbursement of $1 a share was declared.

GF Allsteel Desks
Protect your desk investment from rapid depreciation

It's a good thing to standardize on GF Allsteel Desks because every desk you buy solves permanently the problem of that particular piece of equipment.

There are no future replacements because you can't wear a GF desk out through legitimate office use. And, too, it's so easy to keep a GF desk looking clean and factory-new even after years of daily use. Drawers always operate evenly and smoothly and tops of Venvolem never roughen through wear.

TETER REVEALS BANK MERGER'S FINAL DETAILS

Formal announcement of the completion of the merger negotiations between the Chicago Trust company and the National Bank of Commerce together with the details of the absorption were announced yesterday by Lucius Teter, president of the merged institution.

The capitalization of the Chicago Trust company will be increased by $400,000 to $2,400,000, the new shares being exchanged on the basis of one-half share of Chicago Trust stock for each share of National Bank of Commerce stock. In addition, Commerce bank stockholders will receive approximately $50 in cash for each share held.

The stock of the Commerce Trust and Savings bank, a subsidiary of the national institution, will not go into the merger but will be distributed on the basis of one-quarter of a share for each share of the parent company stock held. This bank, located in the South Water market district, will be operated as a independent bank.

THE INVESTOR

ELECTRIC light and power companies are custodians of the savings of millions of people. The investor's willingness to put his money in the business is the very foundation of this growing industry, in which an average of five dollars must be invested in facilities for each dollar of annual gross revenue.

When economical transmission of electricity over broad areas was made technically possible it opened up an era of construction and consolidation of electric facilities outside of the large cities, a period of building widespread efficient systems in non-metropolitan areas to replace inadequate local plants in small towns and to serve rural sections for the first time.

To accomplish this, the fundamental problem was one of assembling capital with which to form these widespread systems, and of assuring a continuous flow of new capital thereafter to expand facilities and to meet maturing obligations. This required a financial structure whose intrinsic soundness would justify the confidence of the investor. It required, too, the credit standing and the ability to go beyond the limits of the territory served by the companies and assemble capital in quantities far in excess of the available amount in any one locality. It was in response to this need that the Middle West Utilities Company and other public utility investment companies were formed.

By bringing under a single direction companies operating in geographically diversified territories, serving a varied number of industries, public utility investment companies have given the investment a backing which is independent of any particular section of the country or of any particular line of industry. Even a small investment can be as fully diversified as though distributed among many different enterprises. Moreover, in contrast with small local plants whose facilities would inevitably be idle much of the time, these widespread systems embrace a variety of demands for service whose combined requirements are necessarily distributed over many hours of the day, tending toward maximum use of the investment—a highly important consideration from the investor's standpoint. And finally, a stronger group management to administer and protect the investment is made possible through the unification of properties under the public utility investment company's direction.

The public utility investment company represents equally the investor whose savings it puts to constructive use and the customer whose electric service it provides by assembling the capital with which to construct the necessary facilities. Between these two, investor and customer, it has established an identity of interest. Earned confidence and soundness of investment have enlisted millions of investors and thus assured that ready flow of capital necessary to the ample, economical and expanding electric service upon which the new industrial and social life of the nation is builded.

$3,456,115,000 BROKERS' LOANS BREAK RECORDS

BY O. A. MATHER.

As the result of the recovery in the securities market in the last fortnight, following the drastic slump in October, the amount of credit now being devoted to speculation is at the highest point in the country's financial history. The New York federal reserve member banks last night reported that loans to brokers and dealers on Wednesday totaled $3,456,115,000, an increase of $71,586,000 in the last week and also an increase of $847,091,000 over a year ago.

In spite of this large expansion in loans, money rates continue easy, and large offerings of funds are made by stock market purposes. Stock market call loans yesterday were made at 3¼@3½ per cent, despite the fact that the government today will withdraw more than $32,000,000 from its deposits in the New York district. This represents part of the proceeds from the sale of the new 3⅜ per cent treasury certificates.

Less Call for Credit.

Less demand for credit for all purposes is shown in the weekly statement of the federal reserve system, issued last night. At the same time, there has been a heavy influx of deposits to the reserve centers. In the last week, loans and open market bills have declined $93,205,000 and $2,606,000 respectively. Government securities expanded $174,584,000, but note circulation declined $28,260,000.

Deposits increased $142,661,000, due chiefly to member bank reserve credits increasing $131,073,000. Gold and total reserve declined $20,481,000 and $14,856,000 respectively. The ratio of reserves to liabilities fell to 70.8 from 73.1 per cent a week ago.

At New York, loans declined $51,309,000 and deposits increased $24,403,000. Reserves dropped $36,359,000 and the reserve ratio declined to 74.7 from 78.3 per cent. At Chicago, loans and bills declined $13,978,000 and $4,647,000 respectively. Deposits increased $17,245,000. Reserves showed little change, but the reserve ratio fell to 72.6 from 74.1 per cent.

Some Christmas Presents.

The customary flood of Christmas presents by corporations to their stockholders appeared yesterday. The International Harvester corporations declared a 2 per cent semi-annual stock dividend. The Adams Express company declared an initial dividend of $1.25 on its preferred stock. The Bendix corporation declared a dividend of 50 cents on its class B stock, compared with 25 cents paid a year ago.

Extra dividends were announced as follows: Atlantic Coast Line, $1.50; Dolese & Shepard, $1.50; Chesebrough Manufacturing, $1.50; White Rock Mineral Springs, $1 on common and $5 on second preferred; American Machine & Foundry, $1; International Cigar Machinery, 50 cents; Farmers Loan and Trust, $4; Marvel Carburetor, 20 cents. The Hood Rubber company declared a dividend of $1 on the common stock. The last previous payment was the same amount on March 31.

Redeem $350,000,000 of Liberties in Two Days

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Approximately $350,000,000 was received by the federal reserve banks in the first two days after the date fixed for retirement of the second liberty loan issue, leaving outstanding less than $300,000,000 of the original $3,800,000,000 issue. The books are not likely to be closed for some time.

International Nickel.

M. B. H.—The International Nickel Company, Inc., in its consolidated earnings statement showed a balance of $5,556,267 available for dividends in 1926, against $4,237,400 for the nine months ended Dec. 31, 1925.

This was equal to $3 a share on the common stock [par $25] in 1926, as compared with $2.29 a share in the last nine months of 1925.

Consolidated earnings statement for the first nine months of 1927 shows net profit of $4,183,318, against $4,089,122 for the first nine months of 1926.

This was equal to $2.26 a share on the common in the 1927 period, compared with $2.20 a share in the 1926 period.

Of these earnings, $1,380,688, or 74 cents a share, was earned in the third quarter of 1927, against $1,314,432, or 70 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1926.

Surplus stood at $17,952,659 on Sept. 30, 1927, comparing with $16,680,482 at the end of 1926.

Current assets were $18,579,799 and current liabilities $1,645,531 on Sept. 30, 1927.

This leaves net working capital of $16,934,268, which compares with $15,531,017 at the end of 1926.

Dividends at the annual rate of $2 are being paid on the common stock.

This stock deserves a fairly good rating.

New York, Nov. 17.—An aggressive selling movement in the last hour of trading unsettled the general list on the stock exchange today. Rumors that the federal reserve board's statement would show a heavy expansion in brokers' borrowings was blamed in financial circles for the selling wave. This apprehension had the effect of checking a broad and vigorous advance in parts of the market.

The early demand for the stocks of companies with large surpluses was ascribed to predictions that the proposed revision of section 220 of the revenue act would encourage such companies to make distributions to stockholders. The stock market made a great deal of this possibility.

U. S. Steel, Motors Lead.

United States Steel, General Motors, Allied Chemical, and other market leaders were bid up spiritedly on the strength of such talk. In nearly all cases, however, the earlier gains were lost in the late reaction. The market steadied a few minutes before the close as the selling movement quieted.

Among the issues to reach new high ground were American Express, American Can, American Linseed, Beechnut Packing, Congress Cigar, Freeport Texas, National Biscuit, National Radiator, Reynolds Tobacco B, Shubert Theaters, Transcontinental Oil, Union Carbide, Utah Copper, and Western Union.

Commercial Solvents broke 15¼ points to a new 1927 low at 145, and then rallied to 151. Burroughs Adding Machine, Federal Mining and Smelting, and R. H. Macy each fell back about 6 points.

Railroads Report Decline in Net Earnings Now

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Despite the highest recorded operating efficiency, railroads expect a decrease of earnings this year in comparison with 1926, it was reported today at the annual meeting of the American Railway association. Net operating income of class 1 railroads for nine months this year was $83,000,000 below same period of 1926; freight traffic declined 1 per cent and passenger traffic was lowest since 1916. Wages added $60,000,000 to the 1927 pay roll, the report stated. The ratio of taxes to revenue is at the highest point ever recorded.

SUGAR MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw, steady and unchanged today at 4.71c for Cuban duty paid. Private reports from abroad that a leading European statistician would estimate beet sugar crop there at 7,930,000 metric tons, 200,000 tons less than before, had a steadying influence on raw futures which closed 1 point lower to 1 point net higher. OUR BUSINESS
Constant Contact in Financial Circles
Loan policies of various financial institutions differ widely, and it is important that the persons or corporations in the market for financing, determine which organizations are interested in handling the particular type of loan they are seeking.
Some financial houses specialize in apartment building and hotel loans and offer attractive terms on such projects. Others prefer to make loans only on office buildings, garages and other commercial properties. The policy of many houses provides for loans only on completed buildings, at very low rates, while others regularly loan money on buildings to be constructed. It is not uncommon for institutions to confine their operations to certain districts or cities and to offer liberal terms on buildings located therein. Naturally the borrower may expect the very best terms from an organization specializing in the particular type of loan he desires.
It is the business of this company to maintain close contact in financial circles and to be informed at all times as to the type of loans preferred by the various financial institutions. It is this constant intimate contact, combined with our broad and varied experience, that enables us to handle or place loans at the lowest possible rates and on the most favorable terms.
We invite you to submit your financing problems to us.

Hogs declined largely 5@10c, with closing prices lowest of the day and in extreme instances as much as 15@25c under the high point Wednesday. Top fell 10c, with general average off 5c at $9.75 and $9.10, respectively. Larger houses operated indifferently, showing a preference for better grades, which weakened most after shipping orders were filled. Heavy packing sows held firm. About 14,000 were left at the close, and 25,000 estimated for today.

Receipts Season's Largest.

Receipts of hogs are running largest of the season, the week's total at Chicago promising to fall slightly below the 200,000 mark, second largest of the year, but below the five year average.

During the corresponding week in 1924 total receipts at 325,790 were fifth largest on record, with receipts two weeks later establishing the record weekly total at 384,295. Seven of the eight largest weekly totals on record were received in the months of December and January. The high price and shortage of other meats is switching more demand to pork as Thanksgiving nears.

Slight mid-week losses on inbetween classes of steers were quickly recovered yesterday, with yearlings averaging 1,003 lbs, at $18.50, establishing a new high mark for the weight this year. The University of Notre Dame was the contributor of the top yearlings. Steers averaging 1,271 lbs, also reached this price. Heavy steers stopped at $18.10, averaging 1,416 lbs. Butcher stock held generally steady. Calves sold steady. Stockers and feeders moved slowly, but at steady prices.

Lambs Reach $14.00.

On a 10@15c bulge of the lamb market, killers reached the $14.00 line for the first time this week, but are still fully 25c under a week ago. Aged and yearling sheep sold strong, 102 lb yearling wethers at $10.75 and old ewes up to $7.00. Feeding lambs moved slowly, best available stopping at $13.75. Sheep receipts continue to fall short, as has been expected, due to the reported shortage in corn belt feed lots. Seven markets receipts in four days totaled 170,000, against 207,000 the same days last week, with the year to date total standing 918,000 below a year ago.

LARD MARKET EASY

Due to big hog supplies here yesterday, buyers of provisions held off. Sellers offered product at reduced prices. Trading in all was slow and the close was at net losses of 12½@15c on the nearby deliveries and 7½@10c on the distant. Cash deliveries were 150,000 lbs. Liverpool was 3@6d lower and exports 1,801,330 lbs.

There were 50,000 lbs of short ribs delivered on November sales, but ribs and bellies were without change in price. Exports of bacon were 33,500 lbs.

Hog receipts in the west were 113,000, against 107,012 a week ago and 102,604 last year. Prices follow:

October surplus available for common dividends and reserves was $1,927,421, against $1,978,380, in October, 1926. For twelve months to Oct. 31 net was $21,965,929, against $14,169,423.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

The United Kingdom came into the market for cash wheat and sales for export in all positions were finally estimated at 1,250,000 bu. The continent took some wheat. As a result of the widening of the Winnipeg-Chicago December spread late in the day there was a much better demand for domestic No. 2 hard winter and No. 1 northern spring. Rye sales were 100,000 bu. Interest in barley was quieter with resellers reported in Germany. No business was claimed in corn, although there was inquiry for milo maize. Price of the latter has advanced 7c per 100 lbs in last week or so.

Baldwin Locomotive Board Seats Three New Members

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The directors of the Baldwin Locomotive Works today completed their board by electing the three new members recently authorized by the stockholders. The new ones are Fred J. Fisher and Clarenece R. Bittings, representing Fisher Brothers of Detroit, and Arthur W. Cutten, of Chicago. This ends a struggle that sent the common stock from the low of 143 for the year to 265. The Fishers are reported to hold 120,000 common out of 200,000 shares. The 200,000 shares of preferred have equal voting power. Mr. Cutten's holdings are said to be in both preferred and common, chiefly the latter.

WHEAT STEADIER, CORN DECLINES IN LOCAL MART

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat was dull and somewhat unsettled yesterday but pronounced strength at Winnipeg prevented any decline of consequence. The finish here was unchanged to ⅛c higher, December $1.27⅝@1.27¾ and March $1.31⅝. Corn was easy and off ⅝@¾c at the last with December 84¾@84⅞c and March 88¾@88⅞c. Oats were unchanged and rye ⅛@¾c lower.

Houses with eastern and northwestern connections were on the buying side of wheat early, and there was some support from locals due to unexpected strength in Liverpool which gained ⅝@¾d for the day. However, the trade in the aggregate was small, and a reaction of 1@1⅛c from the top followed on local pressure, with a moderate rally from the inside figures later in sympathy with Winnipeg. Exporters and the country were good buyers in the latter market and it was ⅞@1½c higher for the day. Buying of futures by the country has been much in evidence for some days in the Canadian market.

Better Cash Wheat Demand.

An improvement in the export demand for cash wheat was in evidence at the seaboard with sales of 1,250,000 bu largely Manitobas, finally reported, with the United Kingdom taking the greater part. More interest was claimed in domestic wheats as the result of the widening in the Chicago-Winnipeg December spread which was 4⅝c at the last with the Canadian market at a premium. Buenos Aires closed ½c higher with March $1.30½, while Rosario was ⅛c higher with March, $1.29. Good rains fell in the province of Buenos Aires, with the forecast for showers in Santa Fé, Entre Rios and Buenos Aires.

There was a noticeable lack of aggressive buying in corn, and the decline was due largely to lack of support with some profit taking by local longs and commission houses. Market was firmer early on scattered buying but quickly lost the advance.

The trade paid little attention during the day to disappointing husking returns from Oklahoma and Kansas, and country offerings in the two states are reported to have let up materially as a result. No export business was claimed at the gulf, although there was some inquiry. Domestic shipping demand was better with sales of 231,000 bu, and 250,000 bu were sold to go to store. Buenos Aires December closed 1c lower at 77c, while Rosario was ½c lower at 76c.

Trade in oats was not large, and prices held within a range of ⅜c with locals inclined to the selling side due to the easier tone in corn, while commission houses were moderate buyers.

SEABOARD NAMES L. R. POWELL JR. ITS PRESIDENT

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—L. R. Powell Jr., 43, vice president and controller of the Seaboard Air Line railway, today was elected president of the company, to succeed the late H. Davies Warfield.

Robert L. Nutt, vice president and treasurer, was elected chairman of the board, a post also held by Mr. Warfield. Both men were former railroad clerks.

Pressed Steel Car Melon to Be Voted on Dec. 12

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Pressed Steel Car company will meet on Dec. 12, it was announced today, to vote on a three for one splitup of the common stock, retirement of 25 per cent of the preferred shares outstanding and of $6,000,000 gold bonds, and the issuance of $9,750,000 of new debentures.

LIQUIDATION IN COTTON

A bearish private report of 11,150,000 bales ginned to Nov. 14 on a crop of 13,572,000 bales, combined with lower cables, Liverpool closing 13@14 points lower, with spot sales of 8,000 bales, brought liquidation, short selling, and stop loss sales. Prices were carried down, but the close was at a small rally, due to Fairchild's estimate of 12,903,000 bales.

In Chicago December contracts were offered in large volume at 30 points over New York. Chicago futures closed 32@39 points net lower. Spots lost 38 points in New York, selling at 19.35c, with New Orleans down 40 points to 19.45c. Houston was off 35 points to 19.50c and Galveston 19.60c. Prices follow:

START $477,000 APARTMENTS IN SOUTH CHICAGO

BY AL CHASE.

Peter Foote, head of the Peter Foote company, announces that plans have been prepared, contracts let and construction started on the second unit of twenty apartment buildings, of three suites each, in his Stateline Park subdivision bounded by Avenue B, State Line, 106th and 108th streets. The construction cost alone calls for a contract outlay of approximately $477,000, according to Mr. Foote.

John Hocke, architect, has planned buildings of various types of architecture. There'll be Gothic, Spanish, colonial, Elizabethan, and others. All buildings will be of steel, concrete and brick.

Apartments will have fireplaces, built-in bookcases, mechanical refrigeration, folding breakfast units, etc. Each suite will have a private screened in porch, a tile bathroom and unusually large living room, according to Mr. Hocke.

The construction of these twenty apartment buildings is part of a 100 building program now under way. Fifteen buildings already have been completed. Stateline park is just west of the big Insull power house development across the Indiana line, involving many millions.

Realtors Tour Coöps.

A tour of Chicago coöperative apartments was taken yesterday by realtors attending the second autumn conference of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, at the Drake hotel. A luncheon was served in the bungalow on the roof of 3300 Sheridan road, with Krenn & Dato as hosts.

The association adopted a resolution urging the federal income tax committee to place coöperative apartment buildings in the same category as homes and asking that they be subject to the same tax exemptions. The members were told that the value of Chicago's coöperative apartments has risen from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 during the year.

Borrow $7,000,000 at 5 Per Cent.

The State Safe Deposit company yesterday arranged with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company a loan of $7,000,000 at a net rate of 5 per cent for ten years on its new bank and office building now nearing completion at the southwest corner of La Salle and Monroe. This building will be the home of the State Bank of Chicago and also the Chicago Stock Exchange. The loan was negotiated by the loan agent of the company, William Scott Bond.

Charles A. Tenglin has sold the six flat building at 6428-30 North Robey street to Frances W. Hofmann for $67,000, subject to $40,000, according to James L. Holmes, broker.

The Portrait Invisible

BY JOSEPH GOLLOMB

SYNOPSIS.

Judge Craigin does not appear for the opening of a famous trial. His younger brother, Bruce, is known as the prodigy judge.

Francis Galt, whom Bruce knew in college as the Goldfish, a student of psychoanalysis, with a strange power over men and tricks of mind reading, begins work on the case. Police find the murdered body of Robert Craigin in a suburban cottage, the tenant of which is said to be a young woman named Kate Randall.

Jane Simmons, Bruce's faithful secretary, is poisoned in a restaurant by a young woman who assists her back to the judge's office and volunteers to substitute for her. She calls herself Mary Allen. Galt, meeting her there is suspicious and has her shadowed, whereupon she disappears. Bruce, realizing he loves her, starts to search for her and is badly injured in a motor accident.

The Goldfish finds Mary Allen and has her brought to New York. He tells Judge Craigin that he can save Mary from arrest by marrying her. The judge agrees to marry her.

INSTALLMENT XLVIII.

CONFESSION.

Suddenly Bruce was shocked to hear her laugh softly.

"Clemency . . . at the hands of Judge Robert Craigin!

"Accident brought me news that your brother caged mine up for life. . . . I didn't learn of it till Larry had been in prison two years. . . .

"I gave up my work . . . came to New York . . . to see what manner of man it was who could give that boy life sentence . . . at twenty-two. . . .

"Your brother did not know as he sat on the bench, sending human beings to prison for terrible terms that he was himself being judged . . . studied. I saw a man encased in iron. . . . A man doesn't wear armor without some reason. What was he afraid of? . . . I had to study him long to find out. . . . Finally I did. . . . He was afraid; afraid of being kind; afraid of love; afraid it would soften the judge in him. . . . His kind of judge; the only kind he knew. If he stopped being that kind he would feel helpless, lost. . . . So to protect himself he sacrificed others!

"I determined to find the weak spot in his armor. I placed myself in his path. I used all the arts at my command. He tried to avoid me. But soon it was I who avoided him—to make him want me the more . . . for I had indeed found my way to him. . . .

"I could almost pick and choose my revenge. . . . To kill a man . . . how much pain is there in dying quickly. But here was a man who lived by the feeling that he was strong, self-sufficient, on high, invulnerable. . . . And to bring that man down from the judge's bench to a woman's feet . . . to take away his self-possession, to make him plead for happiness . . . and then by laughing at him to give him a taste of that helplessness and suffering he so generously dealt to others . . . that was what I set out to do!

"I took the cottage on Wood road under an assumed name. I did not want your brother to learn by any chance who I was until I was ready to tell him. . . . I dressed that cottage as a woman dresses to bring a man to her feet. For I knew he would come! To the very day . . . the very hour!

"I was dressing one morning in my room in the cottage when a note was shoved under my door. I ran out to see who had done it. Whoever it was had hidden before I could see him. I opened the paper. It was a note. Anonymous."

She repeated the contents of the note by rote.

"'The man who is coming to see you has taken my wife from me. She killed herself. Do you want to go her way? If not make him tell you of Anna Slade?'

"Then he came. With a gardenia in his coat. He asked me to marry him. He did not suspect what my answer would be. I had seen to it that up to the last moment hope was his. . . .

"I did not know that close to my hand on a library table was a bushman's knife."

"I then gave him his answer—the anonymous letter. He read it. I watched his face. I never saw anger so cold. He crushed the note slowly and looked at me. He looked long and he read me well; for my mask was off. . . .

"He read his answer in my face; and what I had done to him. 'Who are you?' he demanded.

"Then for the first time I told him; that I was Larry's sister and what I had come to New York to do. He said:

"'First I'll tell you about Anna Slade. She was a slave at heart. To grovel before a man was her life. Her husband was a worm, happy at her feet. She despised him. Rightly. I met them when I was duck hunting. Because I gave her not so much as a look she sought to burden me with her slave self. I turned away. She threw herself into the harbor. . . . Now as to you . . . !'"

Her eyes were balefully smiling at a hated presence.

"I was standing by the library table," she went on. "He came close, his eyes burning into mine. . . . I was elated. He, the self-possessed judge, had such a passion of hatred in those eyes. Yes, I had found the weak spot in his defense! I exulted. And the more his eyes hated me the more I exulted. . . .

"But I had underestimated his power to hurt me," she said, a stony glare in her eyes. "He said to me, slowly, letting every word sink in like vitriol:

"'It was my intention to give you a wedding gift. I would have let you name any one who should come before me for sentence. You would have saved that wretch, whoever it might be, a year—two—more—by your grace. Now take this to your heart—let us call it such. . . . Hereafter every one on trial before me and up for sentence who in the least reminds me of your brother will suffer for it—buy your grace! And for that he may thank you and your degenerate breed!'"

She pronounced the words with the loathing she felt at their hatred.

"I did not know that close to my hand . . . on the library table lay . . . a bushman's knife. . . . My grandfather's. . . . I kept it always near me to remind me. . . . Now a vertigo came over me at his words, his look, his voice. . . . The room rocked. . . . I found myself on the floor . . . coming back to my senses. . . . I don't know how long I had been there." She tried to puzzle it out. "It seemed to me I had come out of a deep sleep. . . . And on the rug near me . . . lay a body . . . his . . . with my knife in his heart. . . ."

"I fled from the cottage in panic . . . and everywhere I saw the hunt closing in about me. I cut off my hair and dyed it. I watched Jane Simmons for days. . . . Sat opposite her in the restaurant. . . . Put something in her salt-shaker. . . ."

"Poor Jane," Bruce said with bitter compassion. "And I thought her devoted to you!"

"I was fighting for my life!"

"Of course. You poisoned Jane in self-defense. And married me for the same reason."

She drew her breath sharply. "Please, don't . . . say that! . . . I—knew you long before I came to work for you. Even before I first spoke to . . . him. I went to your courtroom to see how much his nature was a family trait. . . . I went often. Then I had to stop going. . . . Or I would have to turn back from the purpose that brought me to New York. . . . You were so different from him, so different! . . . And later when I came to work for you I tried to . . . keep away from you as much as I could. . . ."

"Yes. Just as you avoided my brother."

She shook her head helplessly. "I can't make you believe . . . that I would have done anything to save you . . . pain. When you sent me to the Bibliophile club I knew why. I lied to you. He had given me the book as a gift. I lied as to who had bought the book . . . to save you from suspicion you were afraid of . . . that he was interested in the woman in whose house. . . ."

Her story seemed finished. But Bruce, whether unready to face the next step or from a recrudescence of bitterness said:

Women Call on World's Nations to Check Wars

Europe's Life at Stake, Lady Astor Says.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Woman's "study conference" to consider what action they can take to promote peace and the league of nations began here today with 200 delegates representing 15 European countries and others throughout the world, including the United States.

Miss Ruth Morgan of the American League of Women Voters presided. Many prominent women were present, notably Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of the United States and Lady Astor. There were speeches today by Dr. Leuders, woman member of the German reichstag; Prof. Thomas Parker Moon of Columbia university, and Sir George Paish, editor of the London Statist.

Lady Astor at the evening session made a striking appeal for understanding hearts, coöperation, and a will for peace.

"The more one thinks of Europe," continued Lady Astor, "crippled industrially and hampered by customs barriers yet still spending £400,000,000 annually for armaments, the more one realizes how difficult it is for America with none of those handicaps to understand Europe. Peace may be good policy for America, but it means life or death for Europe.

"America may dread war as a theory, but Europe dreads it as a fact and America may observe that Europe has already proved by the way she clings to the league of nations that she does not want any more wars."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, was given an ovation, everybody rising when she stood up to address the assembly on "One Open Door to Peace." The best arbitration record, she said, was held by the two Americas, Brazil leading. Brazil, she declared, had a pact with every country in the two Americas, and its constitution had a clause never to go to war without first trying arbitration. The United States and Great Britain favor land disarmament, she asserted, but when the question of naval disarmament arises both nations maintain the utmost stubbornness. In conclusion she said:

"I pledge myself as long as I live never to think my duty is done until my country has signed a treaty with every other country to abolish war. Demand it morning, noon, and night, until the statesmen yield to you."

ILLINOISANS LAUD LEAGUE.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Praise for the league of nations was a feature of the final session of the convention of the Illinois League of Women Voters here tonight.

Mrs. James W. Morrisson of Chicago, however, declared that from her recent trip through Europe she was convinced that national and popular rivalries there were such that the United States would do better to confine its efforts for international peace to affairs of the two Americas.

Mrs. R. E. Heironymus had charge of a group of co-eds from Northwestern university, the University of Illinois, Knox college, Illinois Wesleyan, the State Normal college and Augusta college, who were instructed in foreign affairs.

Miss Julia Lathrop and Mrs. William G. Hibbard, in addition to Mrs. Morrisson, spoke tonight. The list of officers and directors nominated Tuesday was ratified by the delegates today.

Philadelphia Discovers and Honors Printers of U. S. Constitution

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(AP)—After a century and a quarter of obscurity, the two printers who first printed the Declaration of Independence, the constitution of the United States, Washington's farewell address, and the first daily newspaper in America were honored today when a bronze tablet was unveiled in their memory. They were Capt. John Dunlap and Lieut. David C. Claypoole, soldiers of the revolution.

They conducted the print shop of Dunlap & Claypoole on the site of what is now 134 and 136 Market street. The property now is owned by the Horn & Hardart Baking company, and the tablet commemorating the services of the colonial printers was placed by the Historical Society of Pennsylvania with appropriate exercises.

Dunlap & Claypoole were the official printers to congress and personal friends of Washington. As officers in the American revolutionary army and practical newspaper men, they were said to have exercised great power in molding the public opinion of their day.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Miss Mary Griffith, 7150 Cornell avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Are you glad or sorry that Monday silent night has been discontinued?

The Answers.

Conrad Lind, 1207 Grace street, chauffeur—I am glad, from the fact that we ought to have radio seven nights a week. I came near saying that it will help keep hubbies at home, but I hesitate over that. I presume we will now get the Monday night chain programs that have been filling the dials on Monday nights.

Mrs. John Fourkas, 1504 North Dearborn street, housewife—It's a nice thing that it has been brought back as it used to be. Monday evening is an off night so far as general amusement is concerned. We felt as though we were cheated when it started some years ago. It is bad enough to have a blue Monday wtihout a blue Monday night.

Charles Bell Jr., 2504 North Monticello avenue, bookkeeper — I am sorry that the silent night has been discontinued. I have a small set, but I found it a change and a certain amount of diversion to experiment on getting distant stations on that one night.

Miss Ruth Rose, 4642 North Drake avenue, home girl—I am pleased about it. I would rather have the local stations any time, and when I want to hear something on the air I want it to be clear and strong, else I am not interested. One reason for that is that I have a string of other interests besides radio entertainment.

Joseph Beelel, 57 North Parkside avenue, salesman—My wife squawks to beat the band the minute I turn the set on on Monday nights. We both feel about the same way about silent night. Monday nights used to be all right, but this year nothing from the outside is coming in satisfactorily.

Women, Stage Are Less Tame, Savant Charges

Tells Drama League Both Reflect Life.

"'Oats for Women!' seems to be the slogan of the present day dramatist, who, of course, takes his cue from life." Dr. Louis K. Anspacher, made this epigram yesterday before the Drama League of Chicago at the Lake Shore Athletic club. "A decade ago the safeguarding a woman formed the main problem of plays. Now there is no such moral. The ideal then was sacred. Life was secondary. Now life is first, ideals secondary. Love's the thing. It is like asbestos which burns itself white and pure. This change is everywhere in the new drama and in life. With women no longer regarded as the property of a man, whatever she is, she is that for her own sake.

"The old plays represented vice as man's property. Man was the seducer. In the modern play it is often the woman, as in 'The Road to Rome.' Plays like 'Fata Morgana' show that on the road to sin women are excellent self-starters.

"But vigilant censors and city police worry about the flagrant sex play because it is already demoded. It was popular immediately following the war because post-war audiences, always naïve, demanded the crude and elementary. The new drama deals with the more varied, more profound, more subtle adventures of the mind and soul."

Dr. Anspacher praised the Little Theater movement as the hope of modern drama. He predicted the end of the commercialized theater would be in fifty years, giving way to movie palaces and little theaters.

An item in THE TRIBUNE yesterday stated that Grace Porter Hopkins, D. A. R. member, was arrested in Washington in connection with the disappearance of a valuable oil painting. This Mrs. Hopkins is not to be confused with Mrs. Louis Fowler Hopkins, regent of the Chicago chapter of the D. A. R.

THEATER

EVIDENCES of professionalism multiply with respect to the Goodman Memorial Theater. For an example, a bulletin comes to say that the première of "Outbreak" is put off from Monday until Tuesday of next week "to allow for additional dress-rehearsal on what is one of the most ambitious productions the Goodman has yet undertaken." Besides, the arrival of the bulletin of postponement before the bulletined event is something new in the activities of this theater. A special performance of "Ghosts" was announced for a Sunday of last Winter, and then abandoned; but nobody save the actors knew that it had been abandoned until the scheduled hour of the performance, when those who sought to attend learned that it was all off from a placard in the lobby. . . . The author of "Outbreak" is, it seems, a son of the Vedrenne whose celebrated partnership with Granville Barker gave to London playgoers some years ago a number of interesting productions, including plays by Shaw that until then had not been acted.

The Manhattan play-reporters seem to be of the belief that Miss Pauline Lord has lemon'd again in the case of her new conveyance, "Spellbound."

The Actors' Theater of New-York is making ready to give Noël Coward's "Fallen Angels," said to have been a popular success when, some years ago, it was given in London with Miss Edna Best, of there, and Miss Tallulah Bankhead, from here, as co-stars in piquant rôles. Miss Estelle Winwood, from there, is to have Miss Best's part in the American performances; and Miss Fay Bainter, of here, will be in Miss Bankhead's.

One of Mr. Coward's new pieces, "Home-Chat," has been a quick flivver in London. . . . The author, in a first-night speech projected against the booing and groaning of a displeased audience, said that, in a play like his, "everything depends on the acting and the production"; and, in saying that, he put up a good argument as to why he should stop writing plays until he shall have learned that a good play shouldn't depend on anything save itself.

Miss Constance Collier, who journeyed from London to New-York to perform in "John" and was rewarded with eight nights of employment, is to go into a piece named "A Spot in the Sun," wherein Miss Marie Tempest has been appearing in England. It is by J. Hastings Turner.

It isn't likely that the season will bring hither any salesman of Shakspere other than Mr. Leiber, who is in process of unrolling his répertoire of the tragedies and the comedies in the Eighth-Street Theater,—although, of course, it isn't improbable that the Goodman Memorial will have a go at something of the Bard's before June 1: Wednesday's matinée of "Hamlet" had a large attendance; and those who made up the audience seemed to be either persons who knew something of Shakspere or persons eager to learn something of him. Even the "boxes" wherein we sat and drank beer and first heard Sophie Tucker were filled. Those who were there and glad of it heard and saw the star perform the greatest of rôles in all the styles: some passages were sung as if they were recitative; some he spoke as if they were by the author of "Broadway"; others had the advantage of declamation in the manner taught by Delsarte; and some were treated to the sane, direct reading of a man who knew what he was doing. The between-scenes waits were never longer than three minutes: some were as brief as one minute; and the tragedy was rolled off in good time. . . . Mr. Leiber switched last night to Shylock for the remainder of the week.

Ringling and Kargau Win Opera Triumph

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Two artists who can with some justice be called Chicagoans made debuts at the opera last night, and it is a pleasure to record that each scored a neat, well placed, and undeniable success. They were Olga Kargau, soprano, and Robert Ringling, and both appeared in "Pagliacci."

Mr. Ringling is a scion of the circus family of the same name. Possessing a baritone voice of operatic quality and dimensions, the footlights were a stronger lure to him than the sawdust ring, though it was a coincidence approaching the poetic that his first appearance with the Chicago Opera should be as the clown, Tonio.

He it is who preludes the opera with a lyric address to the audience before the curtain, and Mr. Ringling did it with an eloquence that provoked enthusiasm. His is not the largest voice that ever sang that number on that spot—comparisons are unavoidable in a well known opera—but his voice flows smoothly with excellent quality, and perhaps his quieter manner made the number the more moving. At any rate, it was a good performance and the audience liked it immensely.

Miss Kargau, too, has a voice that ingratiates with quality rather than stuns with volume. Her singing of the "Ballatella" was charming with its fresh flexibility, and the quarrel following between her and Mr. Ringling—a stage quarrel, naturally—while it did not sound all the depths of tragedy, was both intelligent and adequate.

Charles Marshall as "Canio" delivered the "Lament" with a trumpet-like force that started up the applause higher than ever. But Mr. Marshall, realizing that pleasant new operatic acquaintances were being made, courteously turned over as many curtain calls as possible to them.

"Pagliacci" was preceded by "Gianni Schicchi" and followed by the ballet, "Hungarian Rhapsody." The ballet came too late in the evening for the testimony of this pair of eyes, but "Gianni Schicchi" was, as it has always been, a triumphant delight of operatic farce. It is even funny in its music, and it certainly was in performance. Congratulations are hereby extended to those greatly talented comedians of opera, Giacomo Rimini, Virgilio Lazzari, Vittorio Trevisan, Maria Claessens, and to Charles Hackett and Elde Norena for their expert and highly agreeable lyric contrast.

Simultaneously with the opera Myra Mortimer, contralto, gave a song recital at Orchestra hall. In the interval since she sang here last she has improved her style while retaining its points of greatest merit. It is a fine voice, dark of color and dignified of manner, and in a group of Schubert songs she displayed herself not only as a singer but interpreter, and did both well.

The current season of Kinsolving Musical mornings began yesterday at the Blackstone hotel with a joint recital by Mme. Louise Homer, the contralto, and Alfredo San Malo, the violinist. Mme. Homer was liked by the audience in various arias and lieder, but the liking deepened to vast affection when she sang, "Sheep and Lambs," a song by her husband, Sidney Homer, who listened to it from the body of the house. Mr. San Malo, a splendid violinist, was especially good in Spanish works by Turina and Granados, and in a piece written by himself from original Inca folk sources and sounding curiously Scotch in manner.

Among the other musical events of the day were a children's concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra in the afternoon wherein Mr. Stock was both conductor and expositor; and in the evening song recitals by Austin Angell, tenor, at Fine Arts Recital hall; Meta Gibian, soprano, at Kimball hall; and Joy Luidens, contralto, at Lyon & Healy hall.

Astringents Give Final Touch to a Girl's Complexion

The purpose of an astringent is chiefly to close the pores that are extended through over-activity of the oil glands. It is a skin refiner, so to speak. It is a freshener and a cleanser, not with the cleansing power of a cream, or soap and water, but used after "cleansers" it is that final touch of meticulous care that the well groomed show.

There are a number of different astringents, some as simple as alcohol, or lemon juice, or witch hazel, each of them good. Cold water is an astringent and ice a very good one. Toilet waters and toilet vinegars have astringent ingredients and there are on the market prepared astringents that are worthy of trial.

For the girl or woman whose powder puff has to be kept in constant operation to remove shine or moistness, an astringent should be ever handy on her dressing table or in the cabinet over the washbowl. Whether you choose a simple astringent remedy or an astringent toilet preparation, it must be used frequently.

A simple remedy known to our grandmothers and used by them to combat the well known shine is to add a few drops of benzoin to the cold rinse water after the face has been bathed. Incidentally, an astringent should be used on the neck as a preventive of softness and bagginess there.

A delightfully refreshed feeling follows the wiping of the face with an alcoholic astringent lotion. It is claimed for astringents, and with good reason, that they stimulate the circulation and improve the general tone of the complexion. And, of course, they do contract the pore openings, as we have already said, so that a finer skin will follow their use.

Dry skins may be treated occasionally to the cold water rinse with benzoin or toilet water in it, but it is not wise for one with this kind of skin to indulge too often unless the indulgence is confined to the cold water and ice applications.

A woman I know who has lovely skin uses an astringent at night after she cleanses her face with cream and gives it a few minutes' massage.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

D. D.: WITCH HAZEL IS NOT harmful. When the skin has a tendency to oiliness and the pores are large, witch hazel may be used several times a day. It is one of the best astringents known.

Two Noted Hostesses Take Trips to Rest from Society's Whirl

BY NANCY R——.

[illegible] respite now and then is relished by the best of men—and women—and Mrs. Arthur Meeker, who as one of our social leaders constantly is besieged with demands on her time and energies, has slipped away for a few days of absolute peace and quiet.

She has gone to Watkins Glen, N. Y., but she'll return to this part of the world next Tuesday, in plenty of time for the large tea she is to give at the Casino on Wednesday for the next on the list of our distinguished visitors, His Excellency Mirza Davood Khan Meftah, imperial envoy and minister plenipotentiary of Persia to this country.

Mr. Meeker is chairman of the reception committee for the banquet to be given that evening at the La Salle hotel by the imperial consulate of Persia and the Persian National league.

Another of our well known Chicago hostesses, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, also has deserted the social ship for the moment and has gone east for the Yale-Harvard game. She expects to be away for about a month, and will visit for a week in Boston and another in New York, and will spend the rest of the time with her son, Kellogg Jr., at Harvard. In her absence Mrs. Edward F. Swift is in charge of the Lying-In hospital drive.

Speaking of the Persian ambassador and his coming visit reminds me that if Noble B. Judah accepts the post of ambassador to Cuba, to which it is said he may be appointed, I've no doubt that Cuba will immediately become a most popular winter holiday spot for several of our Chicago fashionables. The Judahs are among our skilled, favorite and delightful hosts, and will probably keep the same sort of hospitable open house in Cuba that they do in Chicago and Lake Forest, in both of which places they now entertain charmingly.

Sunday appears to be French speaking day in Chicago, for two luncheons for visitors from France are on the books, one to be given by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter for Bernard Boutet de Monvel, and the other by Mrs. Arthur Ryerson for her guest, Robert la Montaigne St. Hubert.

Day's News in Society

The committee of business men sponsoring the Actors' Equity ball on Dec. 16 will hold a meeting with members of the Equity next Tuesday afternoon to plan for the party. George Knutson is chairman of the invitations committee, Joseph T. Ryerson and John Wentworth will seek a chaperon list, Russell Forgan and Charles G. Cushing are box committee chairmen, Jacob Bischoff and John B. Drake Jr. will be in charge of supper arrangements, Philip H. Maher and John W. [illegible] of the decorations, John Findlay and Lloyd Maxwell the publicity, Louis Sudler and Stephen Y. Hord the floor committee, and John H. Winterbotham of the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Newton Perry are to give a large dinner party at the Casino next Wednesday evening, later attending the hockey matches at the Coliseum. Their guests include Mr. and Mrs. James Ward Thoren, Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Borland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mrs. George R. Nichols, and Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Hardwick.

One of the gayest teas on the books yesterday was that given by Capt. Vladimir Perfilieff, who invited a group of his friends here, among them the Aime Millets, the Cyrus McCormicks Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, to come to Thomas [illegible]'s apartment at 600 North Michigan avenue, for caviar from five to seven-thirty. "Not having a home of my own," read the invitations, "I am using the above mentioned apartment of a bachelor friend of mine for the purpose of consuming the caviar." And they were signed "Capt. Vladimir Perfilieff, commonly known as VoVo."

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine's committee for the silver and jewelry at the White Elephant Rummage shop on Nov. 29 and 30 is to meet on Monday afternoon at Mrs. Valentine's apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. William G. Hibbard of Winnetka, Mrs. James W. Morrisson of 1431 North State parkway, and Mrs. Hall Roosevelt of 200 East Delaware place returned yesterday from the convention of the Illinois League of Women Voters held this week in Peoria. Mr. and Mrs. Morrisson had returned only a few days before from a long trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dorr Bradley have closed their Lake Forest place and are at the Drake hotel for the winter. They plan to go abroad later in the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Carey have returned from their country place at Greenbush, Wis., and are at the Churchill for a few weeks before deciding to what part of the south they will go for the cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Wolf Erskine of 20 Cedar street stayed up at their island place at Desbarats, Canada, as long as they possibly could without being literally frozen in. They returned last week and are now in New York City for a fortnight's sojourn.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Morton of 20 East Cedar street are also in the east to stay ten days or two weeks.

BRIDE

[Raymor Photo.]

Miss Lillian Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Dana Wheeler of 25 East Delaware place, was a dainty, blue-eyed, gold haired bride in robes of ivory satin and billows of tulle and heirloom lace for her marriage yesterday afternoon to John Gage Tyner, son of Mrs. Alonzo Tyner of Washington, D. C. The service was read at the Fourth Presbyterian church, the Rev. John Timothy Stone officiating, and was followed by a reception at the Fortnightly. Two tapestries hanging back of the pulpit, tall silver candelabra and white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the ceremony. The attendants, Mrs. Gordon Wheeler as matron of honor, Miss Margaret Tyner as maid of honor, and Miss Marion Dixon, Miss Alice Little, Miss Emily and Miss Marion Smith as bridesmaids, were in period gowns of shimmering pale sea green georgette velvet with small matching hats with long ostrich feathers. The coral taffeta facing of their skirts, long in the back, and short in the front, was repeated in their bouquets of Lady Julia roses. The bride's bouquet was of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mr. Tyner and his bride are to reside in Tacoma, Wash.

Society at the Opera

In Mrs. Waller Borden's party at "I Pagliacci" last night were Princess de Broglie, Edward Blair, Guy Hardy, Chauncey McCormick, and Arthur T. Aldis.

In the Arthur Meeker box were Mr. and Mrs. James H. Walker, Mrs. David Shields Cook, William McCluer, and Arthur Meeker Jr. Mrs. Charles Edward Brown was hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cable, and William McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Blom and Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Woodruff, young Evanstonians, were occupying the George B. Dryden box. Mrs. William S. Covington and Mrs. Carl Stibolt were in the box of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, with Mr. Covington, Mr. Stibolt, Miss Jeanette Higgins, and John Watsek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roche Howland were hosts in George Carter Howland's box for Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Thurber and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Schroyer. Mr. and Mrs. Corson Ellis, Miss Katherine Thorne, and Louis Sudler were in the Robert J. Thorne box.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The fashionable printed velvet frock with swathed hipline and front flare is smart enough for any occasion. A wine red wool crêpe with matching sheer velvet used for flounces, gypsy girdle, narrow cuffs and effective bow is quite unusual, yet serviceable.

The pattern, 3195, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 40 inch material with ⅝ yard of 40 inch contrasting.

Here's the Other Side of the Gold Digging Shield

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Daniel's" complaint of recent date about gold diggers was met with indignation. His specific "pain" was spending two weeks' salary on one evening out. To employ the vernacular, the consensus is that he is eligible to the presidency of the Exalted Order of Saps.

"Any fellow who takes a girl out," Fair Play protests, "spends practically two weeks' salary on her and then cries about it doesn't deserve much consideration, but just to prove he is all wrong about girls, let me quote my experience:

"I am 23, average type, no beauty, still not objectionable, dress well and, like all normal girls, love good times. But am reasonable.

"Two young men are paying me attention. One has a car and money enough to take me any place I wish to go. Do I demand the earth and a fence around it? I can truthfully say an evening out with me has never cost him over $10.

"The other young man is just an ordinary every day type, earning $30 a week. He has an invalid father to support. He is extremely likeable, which is the reason, no doubt, I see him oftener than the other. We have good times together—yet our little dates might be termed cheap by some. I know he can't spend money on me so I expect no more than an occasional movie with an ice cream soda after. Then the street car home.

"Every Wednesday we go to a local theater which costs the huge sum of 25 cents, then home and I fix a little lunch, and does he enjoy it? He does.

"A short time ago we went to a movie some distance from home and upon leaving the theater it was raining. Not raining, but pouring. We had an umbrella, but you couldn't hold it up. He wanted to order a cab. I refused and that's the nearest we ever came to an argument.

"Now, I ask you, is that what one would call gold digging?"

The trouble with the boys, another correspondent explains, is that if you invited them to a quiet evening at home, sat in the living room, played the talking machine or turned on the radio your company wouldn't be sought a second time with most of the "fourflushers." They couldn't impress a girl sufficiently with this kind of an evening.

"So, if they holler," Steve says, "when some girl takes them in, let them squeal. It's their mistake."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Treat Them Alike.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am still a schoolgirl and like two boys. I'm not sure which I like more. Is there any way of finding out which of them likes me more, and which I like?

"JOSEPHINE."

It's better to like them equally well than to discriminate, Josephine. Were you to show a preference the other might become discouraged and you'd lose his friendship. Treat them exactly alike, dear.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Britten, wife of Representative Fred A. Britten, was a guest at the luncheon given today by Mrs. Lee, wife of Col. Fitzhugh Lee, in honor of Mrs. Summerall, wife of Maj. Gen. Summerall, chief of staff, U. S. A., and Mrs. Herbert Crosby, wife of the chief of cavalry, in the Florentine room of the Wardman Park hotel. A large company of distinguished women formed the remainder of the gathering.

Mrs. Jessie Emerson Moffat of New York and Washington last night announced the engagement of her daughter, Jessie Idanthea, to Capt. Hubert Ward Bayette, U. S. A., one of the military aids at the White House. The wedding will take place here the middle of next month.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Nov. 17.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan, who went abroad the latter part of July, is returning next Thursday on the Majestic. He has been in England at his estate, Wall Hall, near Aldenham in Hartfordshire and at his shooting lodge in Kincardin, Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan gave a dinner this evening at their home, 22 East 47th street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glasgow of London.

The Duchess of Roxburghe, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, will be at the Savoy-Plaza tomorrow for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds have come from Oyster Bay to spend a few weeks at the Ambassador.

Daughters of 1812.

The National Society of United States Daughters of 1812 of Illinois is to give a benefit card party for the "Carcassone Scholarship" at the Illinois Women's Athletic club this afternoon. Mrs. William H. Brittigan, chairman of the ways and means committee, is in charge.

Keeping that Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

© 1927 Fanchon Beauty Features

Beware of using any but true complexion soap on face

THE modern way to beauty starts with skin cleanliness; with never letting powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. That means careful washing with soap and water regularly.

But be sure you use only a true complexion soap for that purpose. Be sure it is a beauty soap.

Before Palmolive Soap was perfected, women were told "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. This soap creation largely changed the skin care of the world.

Made of rare cosmetic oils, made solely for ONE purpose, to protect the skin, Palmolive is the most widely urged soap in the world today for complexion use. In Paris it is supplanting domestic soaps.

For true skin beauty, get Palmolive today. Cleanse the skin with its balmy olive and palm lather regularly, and particularly at bedtime every night.

Do that for one week. Note how much better your skin. Costs but 10c a cake. Take care that you get the genuine Palmolive. Green soaps represented as of olive and palm oils are not the same. They are but crude imitations. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

A Spongy Stuffing.

The greatest cook in the world, now retired, used for the basis of his stuffings for chicken and small birds and turkeys what is called a panada. This is simply cooked crumb of bread, but when it is cooked it seems more like the preparation we make for cream puffs, that is, it is a homogeneous batter and a stuffing made with it will not be crumbly and fall apart.

To make such panada, trim off the brown crust of half a pound of bread and break it up. Put this crumb of the bread into one cup of boiling milk with a teaspoon of salt. When the bread has absorbed the milk, put it in a saucepan over a brisk fire and stir with a wooden spatula until the paste is so thick that it will not cling to the end of the utensil. Turn the cooked bread onto a buttered platter, spread it out, and butter the surface so it will not dry as it cools.

The great chefs combine this with expensive chicken meat or some similar meat, but we can make something less expensive by combining it with veal. To make it take a half a pound of veal steak, cut it up into small pieces and put it twice through the food chopper, using the finest or what is commonly called the third disk for the second time, and add to it a teaspoon and a half of salt. Put into a broad wooden bowl this meat and one-fourth pound of the cold panada. Using a wooden spoon, mix the two thoroughly and add a fourth pound of butter, mixing that in thoroughly.

As one gets experience, one can use less butter than this but one gets a certain valuable experience in trying to use this amount. Then add a whole egg to the mixture and mix it in, then the yolk of another egg, not beaten, and stir it in, and then a third. When this mixture is cooked and even after it cools, it has much the texture of a soufflé.

After one gets a bit of experience with it, various seasonings like onion and sage can be added to taste, but when it is baked in sweet peppers, or in any of the peppery containers mentioned, it gets well seasoned with them, which suggests that some green pepper chopped fine and almost equal to a paste would be an excellent addition to this stuffing.

CHARLES MELLEN, NOTED RAILROAD EXECUTIVE, DIES

Concord, N. H., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Charles S. Mellen, once known as "Czar of New England Railroads," who saw his empire totter and fall, died today at the home which he had maintained here since his retirement in 1913. Estranged from his wife, with whom he made a private financial settlement when she withdrew divorce proceedings in Massachusetts in 1918, he had passed his last years quietly and out of the public eye. He had a country home at Stockbridge, Mass.

Mr. Mellen, who was born in Lowell, Mass., in 1851, began railroad work as a boy in a clerical position, reorganized the Northern Pacific railroad, and built the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad into a virtual transportation monopoly in New England. His methods led to the financial ruin of the New Haven road and he was forced out of the presidency in 1913.

W. R. WILEY, 59 YEARS IN FIELD'S STORE, DIES AT 82

Willard R. Wiley, who for fifty-nine years was connected with the Marshall Field & Co. organization, died yesterday. He was 82 years old. At the time he retired from business in 1924 he was a department manager in Field's wholesale house.

WILLARD R. WILEY.

Mr. Wiley was a veteran of the civil war, having served under Sheridan and Custer in a Massachusetts cavalry regiment. He came to Chicago in 1865. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maud Morris Wiley, and three sons, Harold, Stanley and Clarence. Funeral services are to be held today at 2 p. m. in the family residence, 4811 Kimbark avenue.

MRS. W. H. ROSS, OF PARIS TAKEN BY DEATH HERE

Mrs. Justine Kendall Ross, wife of William H. Ross of Paris, died yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jacob Baur, 1511 Astor street. Death was due to double pneumonia.

Mrs. Ross arrived in the United States on Nov. 8 and had been in Chicago only two days. For the last thirty years she had resided in Paris. During the war she turned her home into a private hospital for wounded soldiers.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Ross is survived by two brothers—F. Perry Kendall of Linesville, Pa., and Ralph Kendall of Niagara Falls, N. Y. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Frederick T. Haskell, Robert Ross, and Mrs. Robert Metz.

President Fitzpatrick, Locomotive Magnate, Dies

Larchmont, N. Y., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Frederick F. Fitzpatrick, president of the American Locomotive company, died here last night of a heart attack after an illness of several months. Born in Ontario in 1866, Mr. Fitzpatrick came to the United States in his youth and became active in the manufacture of steel and locomotives.

Attorney Jay Border Rites Will Be at Zanesville, O.

Funeral services for Attorney Jay T. Border of 7076 North Ashland avenue, will be held at Zanesville, O., where he formerly lived, at 2 p. m. today. Mr. Border, who was 39 years old, died on Tuesday of heart disease.

U. of Illinois Student Dies After Breakdown

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Francis Key, 22, University of Illinois student and former editor of the Siren, humorous campus publication of the university, died today after suffering from a breakdown which forced him out of school last August.

CHARLES S. GILBERT, 69 years old, 809 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park, a veteran employé of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, collapsed and died in the waiting room of the La Salle street station last evening while waiting for his wife.

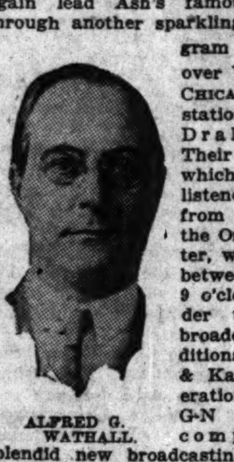
Fisher Leads Ash Gang in W-G-N Frolic Tonight

Two football games will be broadcast for listeners by W-G-N tomorrow! Early in the afternoon listeners will be taken to the new stadium at the University of Michigan for the broadcast by Quin Ryan of the Michigan-Minnesota game. As soon as that game is completed listeners will be switched out to Dyche stadium at Evanston for whatever remains of the contest between Northwestern and Iowa.

MARK FISHER, who is proving an admirable substitute director and radio announcer for the vacationing Paul Ash, will again lead Ash's famous "gang" through another sparkling radio program tonight over W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel. Their program, which comes to listeners direct from a studio in the Oriental theater, will be heard between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. In order to improve broadcasting conditions, Balaban & Katz in coöperation with W-G-N have just completed a splendid new broadcasting studio in the theater, and it will be used for the first time tonight.



ALFRED G. WATHALL.

Syncopation played as only Ash's "gang" can play it, with a multitude of trick arrangements and beautiful passages, will again feature the program. Mark, who has long been an idol of the radio audiences, will also be heard in several special songs, to orchestral accompaniment. A special group of jazz stars is appearing with him this week and they will also offer specialties during the half hour radio program which has come to be one of the listeners' favorite periods on Friday nights.

Aladdin's Arabian Nights' Entertainment, W-G-N's weekly presentation of the finest available music by Henry Selinger and his novelty orchestra, features the 9 to 10 o'clock hour tonight. Aladdin's splendid story of the history of music and entertainment down through the ages comes to a thrilling and musically beautiful climax tonight with the presentation of melodies by Stephen Foster, Victor Herbert, and special syncopation and "exhibition" numbers. Alfred G. Walthall, W-G-N's orchestrator and composer, has devised a number of special musical numbers for this program.

Edwin Kemp, the young W-G-N tenor, occupies the anchor position on tonight's bill, being heard in twenty minutes of songs between 10:40 and 11 o'clock. Fern Scull will accompany him. His program will consist of ballads and popular classics.

Edward Barry will give his second piano lesson today at 5 o'clock. Instead of presenting the second lesson, however, Mr. Barry will again review the work described last week in the first lessons because of the thousands of new enrollments which have poured in the last seven days.

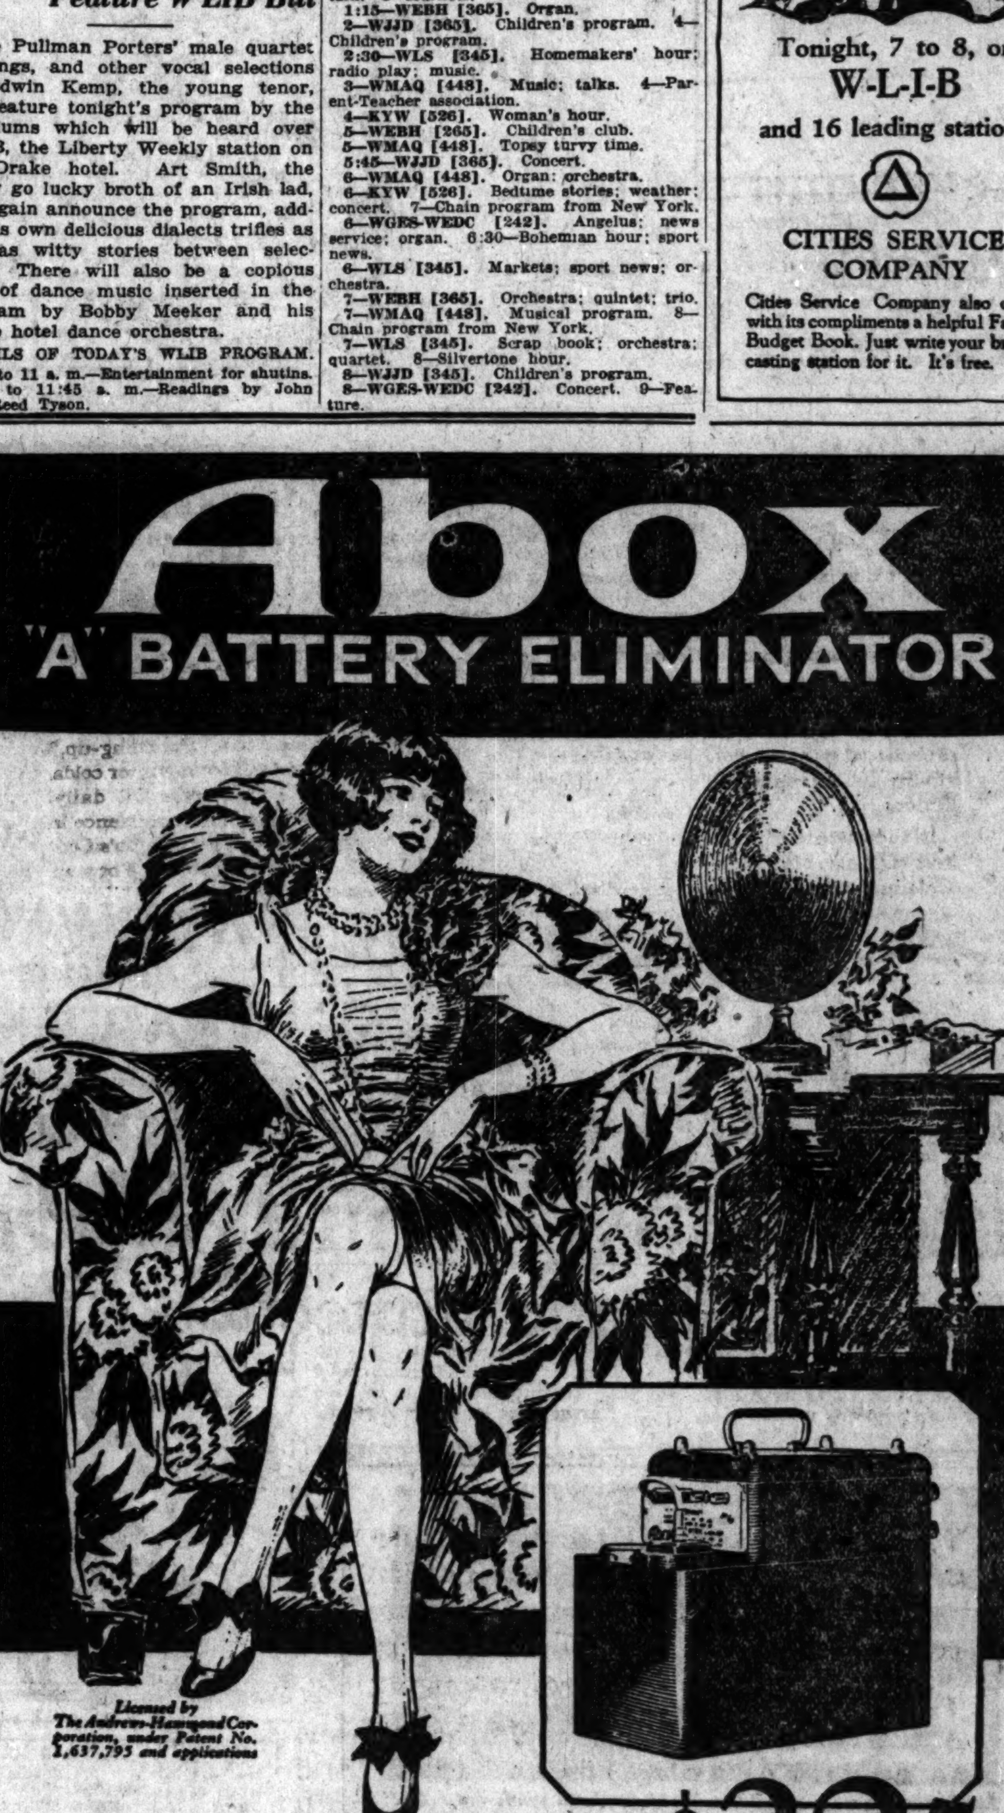
Abox
"A" BATTERY ELIMINATOR



Licensed by The Andrews-Hammond Corporation, under Patent No. 1,637,795 and applications
Slightly Higher West of the Rockies
$32.50

A royal reception greets ABOX wherever it is replacing storage "A" batteries and other indirect "socket power" units that contain a battery or embody a battery principle.

And in return, ABOX is giving radio reception of a quality and degree of convenience that is possible with no other form of "A" power.

Without the trace of a battery, this unit is always ready to supply a reliable and complete source of "A" power direct from the light socket.

Enthrone ABOX in the "A" battery compartment of your set, make two simple connections and give yourself the treat of true electric operation—that is ready any instant at the touch of a switch to bring in programs at peak efficiency. ABOX requires no attention or service.

See ABOX demonstrated at your radio store.

The ABOX Filter is an entirely different unit from the Eliminator, being the filter circuit alone in a small, compact unit. If you have a suitable charger, it can be easily converted into an "A" Eliminator by substituting the ABOX Filter for the storage battery. Shipping weight, 11 lbs. Price, $19.50. Slightly higher west of the Rockies.

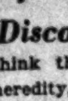
YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

by Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans



Don't Be Discouraged.

I sometimes think those theorists who say that heredity, natural endowment, call it what you will, count for almost nothing, and environment and training count for almost everything can't possibly have had children. Families so often confound such conclusions.

There's a mother I know who has a son about 8 years old and a daughter about 5. The difference between them is striking already. The little boy is warm, companionable, and happy at all costs. And this expression "at all costs" I use intentionally. His feeling is that he wants every one to be happy and he'll do everything he can to bring it about.

He was taken out to luncheon one day at a tea room. When he was asked what he wanted for dessert he said, "Ice cream, it's my most favorite dessert."

"Jim," said his aunt, looking distressed, "I'm awfully sorry, but they're all out of ice cream."

His face fell until he noticed his aunt's expression.

"Well," he said, "I don't care. Don't worry about it, Aunt Helen. What else have they got? Maybe they've got little cakes—I love little cakes."

But not so his little sister. She wept and would not be consoled. She is and always has been quite the opposite of her brother. You know—"each pinprick of fortune is a body blow of fate" with her. And she is such a little misanthrope that the family even yet are amused by her. It's quite a usual thing for her to say after some trip or sight or picnic that she has been longing for is over. "Well, it wasn't as nice as I thought it would be." There are those two youngsters—by natural endowment as different as can be, and continuing to develop so, though their training is identical.

Then there's the mother of two girls and two boys. Though the oldest is grown up and the youngest 8—she still can't get over marveling at their differences. The oldest is facile at learning, goes his own gait, is utterly unconventional, and has always been a great philanderer.

The second, a girl, is slow but thorough, definite in character, conforms to conventions for other people's sake, is warm and demonstrative and has no interest in boys whatever.

The third is the possessor of a one track mind, is very reserved, very active physically, has a keen sense of humor, and works constantly with his hands.

The fourth is a thoroughly feminine, rather shy, doll loving, not especially talented, charming, cuddly little girl.

Here are three sisters, as another instance. One is folksy and unfashionable, another is bossy and ill tempered and untidy, and another is beauty loving and sweet tempered and fastidious to a degree—all with the same father and mother in the same house.

So in your discouraged moments remember that you are not accountable for everything your children do and say. If you can't get your disorderly son to be as careful as your naturally methodical daughter, if you can't arouse your daughter's interest in reading and leessons, but your boy is a student by nature, if your daughter loves jazz and your son serious music, if your daughter is an artist and your son hasn't an artistic bone in his body, to put it rather blatantly —don't blame it on yourself and your training of them.

After all, environment and training [except where deep rooted, serious faults are concerned] should not have as their object to overturn, to revolutionize a character, a disposition, a temperament. If they could do it, it would not be well for the child. It is too much like fitting a square peg into a round hole. The most we should expect of ourselves as mothers and fathers and teachers is to mold, to modify, and to direct.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

On my nephew Vincent's fourth birthday I gave him a woolen sweater which fitted him perfectly. Recently I was walking along the street with him when it began to rain, and I stooped to button the little sweater around his neck.

"Why, Vincent!" I exclaimed, "this sweater won't meet on you. What has happened to it?"

The child evidently did not have the word "shrunk" in his vocabulary, for he said, "It seems to have grown younger since Muvver washed it yesterday."

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS ALL OVER FACE

Was ashamed to be seen—simple remedy brought quick improvement

Munden, Va., Aug. 5:—Awhile ago I began to be troubled with enlarged pores and blackheads. Then pimples developed, and even boils. My skin was very sore and in a terrible condition. It was so disfigured and unsightly I was ashamed of it. I tried about everything to be had for pimples, but with no good results. I had heard Resinol Ointment and Soap so highly recommended for troubles like mine, I decided to try them. After one treatment there was a decided improvement, and the pimples began to fade away. I advise everybody with skin trouble to try Resinol. (Signed) Miss Hazel Beasley.

Your druggist sells Resinol Soap and Ointment. Why don't you try them?

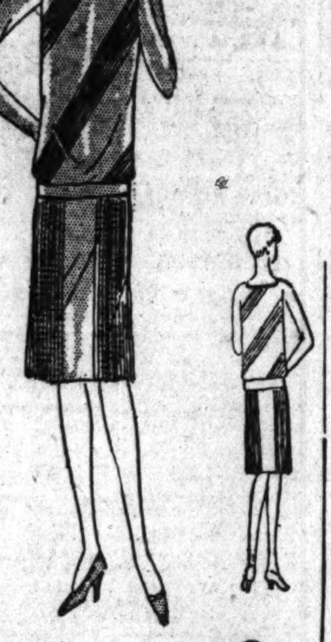
This Frock Uses an Old Slant in New Way



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There is really no such thing as getting a new slant on fashions, nowadays. But why, after all, should we display any fickleness when the old slants are so satisfactory and when the designers have discovered at least a thousand ways to vary that oblique line?

Today we show how a tan kasha frock of the type which every woman needs for general wear may be rendered chic by employing no other agency than the groups of fine tucks which you see pursuing their diagonal course across the bodice. The tucks are allied in spirit with the plaited skirt and the two are united by a belt of self material.

Kasha and the light weight woolens constitute one essential of today's well equipped wardrobe. Another garment which will be found exceedingly serviceable is one of the finely plaited black satin skirts that go with any type of blouse. For, thanks to the vogue of the jumper and contrasting skirt, the blouse is reinstated in our affections and by combining blouses with our one skirt, be that of the satin mentioned or of the equally smart transparent velvet, we obtain the usual result. A number of afternoon gowns instead of one!

Perhaps the smartest blouse of the season is belted, be it tunic or hip lengths. Sometimes, however, the belt is omitted in favor of a gather up in the front movement. And it is also unnecessary when the upper part blouses over a tightly fitted lower section.

The most popular of materials for the formal costume blouse are the lames and metallic fabrics, in general. Next come velvets and, last of all we find a number of laces. As to the laces, these are frequently beaded or else they are encrusted with rhinestones.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

She Was Guilty.

Shortly after my marriage my husband and I were invited to dinner at the home of a young couple who were close friends of his. This young hostess had the reputation of being an excellent cook, and indeed most of the dinner was very appetizing.

The cake, however, was dry, tasteless, and flat. Our host asked me to have another piece, as his wife had made it.

Trying to be polite to my hostess, and believing that I judged correctly, I said: "Don't insult your wife by calling that bakery cake home made!"

They both looked at me amazed, and then burst out laughing: "You're all wrong," said my hostess, "I did bake that cake."

Useful Books.

"I have a Webster's dictionary, quite new, and a 1923 almanac one of your readers might like to have.

"G. S."

Here are a couple of useful volumes which, perhaps, some student would like to have. You'll find this almanac contains valuable as well as interesting information.

They're 80 per centers never quite able to keep up

Always a little behind schedule; never quite able to keep up. . . . And so opportunities are missed just because so many of us are under par! Not sick—just lacking in the vital energy that is so necessary to success.

For this under-par condition physicians are now making new effective use of an old time health-builder. Only recently science has found the value of this health-builder—cod-liver oil—to be due to its exceptional richness in substances that build vitality and increase resistance to many infections.

In addition to its "building-up" ability, cod-liver oil is also of proved value in preventing colds and other infections. Scientists now know that cod-liver oil for these purposes depends solely upon its vitamin content.

Thousands of physicians use only Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil for this purpose, because it is always uniformly high in the health protecting Vitamins A and D and is Vitamin-Tested and Vitamin-Protected. Squibb's is the only cod-liver oil lastingly protected from the destructive action of air. It therefore does not lose its effectiveness.

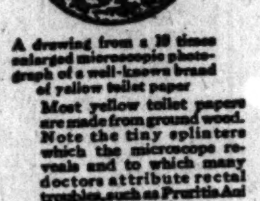
Ask your physician about "building-up," about protecting yourself from winter colds, by taking Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil daily. Physicians everywhere have confidence in the Squibb name. You can get Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil at all reliable drug stores. For your protection insist on Squibb's.

Doctors advise this sterilized, snow-white paper

. . . for your safety and protection

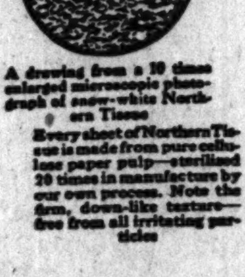
Downy soft . . . . Doubly absorbent

Costs no more than ordinary toilet paper



A drawing from a 10 times enlarged microscopic photograph of a well-known brand of yellow toilet paper

Most yellow toilet papers are made from ground wood. Note the tiny splinters which the microscope reveals and to which many doctors attribute rectal troubles, such as Pruritis Ani



A drawing from a 10 times enlarged microscopic photograph of snow-white Northern Tissue

Every sheet of Northern Tissue is made from pure cellulose paper pulp—sterilized 20 times in manufacture by our own process. Note the firm, down-like texture—free from all irritating particles

Your own doctor will tell you to use this sterilized Bathroom Paper. (Most particularly if you have children.) Because he knows that every sheet is sterilized 20 times to safeguard the health of your family. (See drawings at left.)

Actual laboratory tests prove Northern Tissue as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton. And with this sterile quality it is downy soft, snow-white, firm in texture, and doubly absorbent. Yet its price is no more than ordinary toilet paper.

Doctors Advise

the exclusive use of this sterilized Bathroom Paper (especially where there are children) because its extra hygienic protection safeguards health

DIRECTOR OF SALES
"Real Estate."

Here is a proposition which no qualified man, whatever he has been making, can afford to overlook. The set-up is ideal. The property—the transportation—the improvements — and the condition of the new organization back of them, are exactly what you would ask for. The man accepted must be fully and unquestionably qualified — he will be most liberally compensated—and he will have a free hand. The property is south, and this firm has no Director of Sales now. No Director of Sales in Chicago has ever had the opportunity of making a connection such as this one. Answers received in confidence. Address K G 403, Tribune.

A RECORD MAKING SALES CAMPAIGN.

There's a reason. Our new big ten million dollar water front development started on Lake Michigan has never before been available to the public at our low pre-opening prices and easy terms. That's why it is proving a real "best seller." Increasing business makes it necessary to employ a few more over 25 years of age, with good references, with or without experience. If you are experienced you can start earning at once. If you have no sales experience, but are willing to start in a small way, our veteran sales managers will give you personal co-operation and help you every step of the way. We will also consider a few men who have made a success in other professions.

SALARY, COMMISSION AND PERMANENT WORK WITH A FUTURE IF YOU QUALIFY. APPLY IN PERSON, 6TH FLOOR, 69 W. WASHINGTON-ST., FRIDAY, 10 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M.

A POSITION IS OPEN to a salesman, with or without experience, in our business; one that is seeking better than the usual and ordinary opening; or one that is familiar with Park Ridge. Have some very choice properties in Park Ridge, and have a position for one man to assist me in showing them. Have more people than I can personally handle. Absolutely no canvassing or digging up of prospects. Must have a car. Call 11-12 a. m., Room 616, 29 S. La Salle-st., MR. REDFIELD, or phone Franklin 6380 for appointment.

A REAL GOOD JOB IS HARD TO FIND.

So are good men. We are a nationally known organization, selling direct to the consumer and expanding rapidly; we need 3 good men who are seeking a permanent position. Possibly you are one of them. A 10 minute interview tells us whether you can qualify; salary and commission to permanent men. If we employ you, you are set for life. Call 37 W. Van Buren, Suite 1380.

A MAN WANTED

to assist me in showing homes and bungalow sites on N. W. Side of city. Have more people than I can personally handle. $60 weekly average. MEN,

Do You Fit This Picture?

In May of this year Elbert Kip was a solicitor for the X Railroad, getting a modest salary but had ambition for better things and the courage of his convictions. He came to our office, took our training course and went to work as a salesman. His earnings since starting employment have been over $20,000—at the rate of $3,000 a month. He is still producing regularly every day.

Such facts as these, which are picked at random from our records should be a guidepost to the greatest opportunity ever offered to a thinking man.

A POSITION OR A JOB; WHICH?

In fairness to yourself and those dependent on you, how can you be satisfied to putter along on a salaried job merely for the shaky security of having $25 to $50 per week assured, when the same hard work required to earn that salary, if expended here, will open wide

THE DOOR TO SUCCESS.

Why wish for things the other-fellow has? Why try to keep up with the Joneses and just ahead of the sheriff when all you need is faith in yourself and the courage to make the move? Follow out our instructions and make use of the co-operation offered and if it is in you we will bring it out.

WE HELP YOU

to the extent of virtually forcing you to earn big commissions. A Salesmanager works with you on your prospects and both the Salesmanager and the Sales Director close your deals for you. Such co-operation produces results.

OUR REAL ESTATE SALES SCHOOL.

This is the original, the most thorough Real Estate Sales School ever opened to the public. Many of the men who have received our training are now among our most successful salesmen.

THE HARMON ORGANIZATION

Is in a self-created class in reputation, resources and record. HARMON on real estate is synonymous with STERLING on silver—the mark of assurance and quality. Our organization sold the first lot ever sold in America on installments in Cincinnati in 1887. We have sold over two hundred million dollars worth of property in 26 different cities of this country. Our Chicago record of 12 developments of the type of Chatham Fields, Ravenswood Gardens, Ravenswood Manor, Southfield and others is 100% record of success. All who bought from us have made money. Our properties today are ALL monuments to the type of work we do. This opens prospect's doors and gains attention for our salesmen.

THE FALL TERM.

Applications are now being received for the term of this school for the year 1927. The course will be conducted by the same faculty that has graduated many successful students.

YOUR PLACE IS WAITING

as soon as you graduate from our school—a place which will pay you far beyond your fondest dreams.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN.

The school sessions are held in the evening so that you may secure your training during your spare time without losing an hour from your present employment, and we will start you on part time employment if you prefer.

GENTLEMEN,
STOP!!!
Will You Work One Hour During the Evening or During the Day?
Read..........Answer

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the newspaper columns. If you desire, employment can be made permanent; part time if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of the overgrowth and expansion of our Chicago offices. Earnings will delight the gentleman who is desirous of increasing his present income.

It is not necessary to "pound the pavements" or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the city of Chicago would be glad to avail himself of this splendid opportunity if he only knew the facts. Remember you don't need experience; and if you realize the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution we will put you in a good position if you will really devote one hour of your spare time in our work. NO RED TAPE. If you are over 25 years of age and are at present employed in some legitimate work you will be given the utmost consideration, and an opportunity to earn an extra weekly check while still retaining your present position.

Work may be done at home and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required and work can be done easily by gentlemen in all lines of work.

An answer to this advertisement will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly check is solved. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. We also have a few vacancies for gentlewomen, and if wives or sisters have spare time and are willing to work, bring them with you.

NOW IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY and are anxious to work, clip this ad and answer in person Friday afternoon, Nov. 18th, at 2:30 sharp, and Friday evening at 8 sharp.

ROOM 1512, 624 S. MICHIGAN-AV.
NEXT TO BLACKSTONE HOTEL.

Notice—This advertisement has been tremendously successful for dozens of happy applicants and our company. Now don't hesitate. Answer this advertisement and you will be given the same careful consideration that made scores of applicants wonderfully happy last week. This is not "just another ad," but a real opportunity for real people. You will never have another chance like this. If the opportunity to earn a substantial check every week will make you happy this will be the happiest experience of your life. ACT. Idlers and star gazers stay away.

REMEMBER, FRIDAY AFTERNOON, Nov. 18th, at 2:30 sharp and FRIDAY EVENING at 8 o'clock sharp, only.

Big Illustrated
Lecture Friday Night.

ATTEND THIS GREAT PICTURE DEMONSTRATION.
"THE BEST AND SUREST WAY TO SUCCESS."
FRIDAY NIGHT, NOV. 18TH, 1927, AT 8 O'CLOCK.
159 N. STATE-ST. [CAPITOL BLDG.] 5TH FLOOR [HALL 512].
[IT IS MEANT FOR AMBITIOUS MEN.]

Do you realize that it is in your power to command a good home, a nice car, a comfortable bank balance and the love and respect of your family and friends? You can! Other people, less able, are enjoying these things. Why not you?

Your present position may have limitations as to salary, but it need not prevent you from earning the extra weekly compensation check which you can have from us and which would make all the difference between mere existence and a comfortable living. Many other men who just recently associated themselves with us in business are now laying a sure foundation for their success by working only part time [one hour, from 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.], just four evenings a week, and they earn:

[3] DOWN PAYMENT ON NEW SEDAN AUTOMOBILE.

REMEMBER that discontent is the germ of advancement. If your present unsatisfactory earnings stimulate you to greater achievement, then you possess the quality which will enable me to work out for you a brighter, happier and more prosperous future, with rapid promotion and success.

Every ambitious person who attends this meeting will be invited to attend a masterly business lecture explaining:

[2] HOW TO GET A BETTER POSITION.
[3] THE SECRET THAT MAKES MEN RICH.

Now be sure to attend our big Friday evening illustrated lecture and let us help you to master the principles that will carry you on to success.

PLEASE CO-OPERATE WITH US BY BEING ON TIME.

Men Who Will Work and
Who Want to Make Money.

We manufacture and sell our own products. We do not care whether you have sold or not. Our business and selling can be mastered by the average man. You are taught how to earn while learning $40 to $50 weekly. In three months you can be making $75-$100 a week. If you want work and money see MR. GALLAGHER, Room 203, 537 S. Dearborn-st.

Big Illustrated Lecture Friday Night. (Win a Beautiful Fur Coat.)

FRIDAY NIGHT, NOV. 18, 1927.
AT 8 O'CLOCK.
159 N. STATE-ST. [CAPITOL BLDG.]
5TH FLOOR [HALL 512].
[IT IS MEANT FOR AMBITIOUS WOMEN.]

Do you realize that it is in your power to command a good home, a nice car, a comfortable bank balance, and the love and respect of your family and friends? You can! Other people—less able—are enjoying these things. Why not you?

Your present position may have limitations as to salary, but it need not prevent you from earning the extra weekly commission check which you can have from us and which would make all the difference between mere existence and a comfortable living. Many other women who just recently associated themselves with us in business are now laying a sure foundation for their success by working only part time [one hour, from 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.], just four evenings a week, and they earn:

1. AN EXTRA WEEKLY COMMISSION CHECK.
2. EXTRA MONTHLY BONUS CHECK.
3. A BEAUTIFUL FUR COAT.

REMEMBER, that discontent is the germ of advancement. If your present unsatisfactory earnings stimulate you to greater achievement, then you possess the quality which will enable me to work out for you a brighter, happier, and more prosperous future, with rapid promotion and success.

Every ambitious person who attends this meeting will be invited to attend a masterly business lecture explaining:

1. HOW TO HAVE CONFIDENCE IN YOURSELF.
2. HOW TO GET A BETTER POSITION.
3. THE SECRET THAT MAKES MEN RICH.

NOW, be sure to attend our big Friday evening illustrated lecture and let us help you to master the principles that will carry you on to success.

PLEASE CO-OPERATE WITH US BY BEING ON TIME.

MONEY FOR CHRISTMAS.

We have a plan whereby you can easily make all your Christmas money in your spare time—and keep right on making it after that. It's easy because it's something you'll like. Others doing it now. Not real estate, stocks, bonds, insurance, or canvassing.

Materials and necessary instruction to start you off will be supplied at 7:30 tonight. Room 762, 330 S. Dearborn.

COLLEGE WOMEN.

College women, or women who have been through high school, and who are interested in the betterment of humanity, who want to learn the financial side of life, can make big money if they will co-operate with me. I have no educational course to sell. I simply want educated women for positions of merit, but they must have high ideals. Address O O 132, Tribune.

YES! $8 TO $20 A DAY!

Merely telling people how they can save one-third to one-half on everything they buy by purchasing through The Gordon Clark plan will make you this big money. Full or part time. Pay every day. Call 2 o'clock today or 8 o'clock tonight. Big meeting. Room 1011, Straus Bldg., 310 S. Michigan.

LADIES, STOP!!! Will You Work One Hour During the Evening or During the Day? Read..........Answer

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the newspaper columns. If you desire, employment can be made permanent; part time if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of our growth and expansion of our Chicago offices. Earnings will delight the lady who is desirous of increasing her present income.

It is not necessary to "pound the pavement" or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the city of Chicago would be glad to avail herself of this splendid opportunity if she only knew the facts. Remember, you don't need experience, and if you realize the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution we will put you in a good position if you will really devote one hour of your spare time to our work. NO RED TAPE. If you are over 25 years of age and are at present employed in some legitimate work you will be given the utmost consideration; and an opportunity to earn an extra weekly check while still retaining your present position.

Work may be done at home and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required, and work can be done easily by ladies in all lines of work.

An answer to this advertisement will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly check is solved. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. We pay weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlemen, and if husbands or brothers and sisters have spare time and are willing to work bring them with you. NOW IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY and are anxious to work, clip this ad and answer in person Friday afternoon, November 18th, at 2:30 sharp and Friday evening at 8:00 sharp.

ROOM 1512, 624 S. MICHIGAN-AV.
NEXT TO BLACKSTONE HOTEL.

Notice—This advertisement has been tremendously successful for dozens of happy applicants and our company. Now don't hesitate. Answer this advertisement and you will be given the same careful consideration that made scores of applicants wonderfully happy last week. This is not "just another ad," but a real opportunity for real people. You will never have another chance like this. If the opportunity to earn a substantial check every week will make you happy, this will be the happiest experience in your life. ACT. IDLERS and star gazers stay away.

REMEMBER — FRIDAY AFTERNOON, November 18th, at 2:30 sharp, FRIDAY EVENING at 8 o'clock sharp only. None will be considered after the above time.

Woman of Individuality.

An internationally known Chicago corporation, with branch offices throughout the United States and 3 foreign countries, offers an unusual opportunity to a competent, refined woman of tact and dependability to represent us. We also have a splendid opening for a capable woman of keen ambition to represent us in Chicago; must have appearance, personality and education. Financial arrangements given in personal interview. Apply 1000 N. Dearborn-st., ask for MRS. DEXTER.

A Serious Minded Woman.

To such a woman with real business ability and integrity who can show A-1 record and references, I will offer a very attractive and highly remunerative position. Rm. 655, 332 S. Michigan-av.

BARGAIN OLD FUR COATS—
When you buy a new automobile you trade in your old car. Likewise, many women bring their old furs to us and we give them an allowance on a new fur coat. As a result we have hundreds of mighty good looking fur coats that have been worn and which we show only on request. It will pay you to come in and look them over. All finest furs represented—Hudson Seal, Mink, Raccoon, Squirrel, Muskrat, etc. Many only slightly worn. Priced at $25 and up. Ask to see Mr. Erickson. MILLER & CO., 616 S. REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

It is surprising to see how many home owners of Chicago have been carrying a second mortgage for ten or twelve years. Made originally to help in construction and with regular payments, but it never quite gets paid up.

What is the reason?

It is our observation that many home owners have obligated themselves to the terms of second mortgages which made an eventual cleanup almost impossible. The home owner and borrower has been paying such a large amount of his monthly earnings towards the carrying charges.

This bank, as Agent for a fund, has undertaken to cut the corners of second mortgage cost to the home owner. Our rates are 6 per cent interest, payable monthly, and commissions deducted when the loan is made of 3½ per cent for one year, 6½ per cent for two years, and 9 per cent for 3 years.

While it is admitted that even these rates are high, you will agree that they are much lower than the rates which were charged for second mortgage loans on homes two years ago.

It is our aim to spare home owners the necessity of paying excessive amounts for carrying charges so that they may put a greater proportion of their earnings into homes.

We are, of course, very much interested in helping to refinance second mortgages which are now existent on homes. At the same time we are quite as ready to make new second mortgages on homes on which no second mortgage now exists, if such loans are going to be helpful to the borrower.

We have plenty of money; we have a well organized real estate loan department; we are able to give quick service—may we serve you?

CADILLAC
Used Car Dept. Makes True Economy Possible

There's a wide difference between sensible economy and cheapness when a car investment is under consideration.

This fact is demonstrated daily by the comments of our customers, who appreciate the quality of reconditioned cars of dependable make which are placed on our sales floors with the Cadillac O. K.

Whatever the amount you have decided as a limit for car investment, you will find here full value in some good make in the style, color and model which you prefer.

True economy is insured by the Cadillac policies that govern the handling of cars accepted from owners of new Cadillacs and La Salle.
